

Scholarship Students Honored

Members of Cap and Gown, senior women's scholastic honorary on the Willamette university campus, will entertain at tea Tuesday afternoon at University House, the home of President and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith. The affair will honor women students who are attending Willamette on scholarships and the tea hour is from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Faculty women and wives of faculty men have been especially invited to meet freshmen women who hold honor scholarships and upperclass women holding McCulloch and Meier and Frank scholarships.

Miss Jan Johnson, social vice president of Cap and Gown, is directing arrangements for the reception. Miss Bettie Ellen Payne and Miss Eleanor Todd are in charge of invitations. Miss Mary Jean Huston is planning the preparations for the tea table and Miss Margaret Pemberton, group president, will arrange the decorations.

Nix-Brachmann Vows Read

WOODBURN—Miss Betty June Brachmann, daughter of Mrs. Julia Brachmann of Woodburn, Ore., became the bride of Mr. John B. Nix at a candlelight ceremony in the Immanuel Lutheran church, Saturday night, November 27, the pastor of the church, Rev. Oluf Asper, officiating. Accompanied by Miss Elvora Asper at the organ, Mrs. Robert Renn sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me" just before the ceremony. Miss Asper also played the wedding march as the bride approached the altar accompanied by her brother, Arthur Brachmann of Forest Grove, who gave her in marriage.

The bride wore white satin with train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a halo of seed pearls. A white orchid centered her cascade bouquet of pink and white bouvardia.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. George Jones. She wore a gown of green taffeta and carried pink rosebuds and small pastel chrysanthemums centered with a lighted white taper.

Little Peter John Brachmann, jr., was ring bearer and Connie Sue Brachmann and Helen Iantha Rouse were flower girls.

Chris Nix, jr., acted as best man for his brother. The ushers were Peter Brachmann and William Nix.

At the reception which followed in the church social hall, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Martin Rouse of Los Angeles, cut the ices. Mrs. Arthur Brachmann of Forest Grove cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Henry Hartman of Portland poured. Miss Elvora Asper, Miss Dagny Ashland and Miss Arlene Coleman assisted about the room. The hall and the church altar were decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a green wool dressmaker suit with beige coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Nix will make their home on a recently purchased farm on the Killin Bridge road east of Woodburn.

Zonta Club at Herrick Home

Mrs. Byron B. Herrick, president of the Salem Zonta club, was hostess to the club members at her home Thursday night. At the business meeting plans were discussed for the Christmas service work of the group.

The club voted to adopt a Chinese war orphan baby and provide for her care in China. Zonta International has adopted this war project, which was suggested by Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

Dr. Marion Mayo will entertain the Salem club at the annual Christmas dinner.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. H. R. Anthony, lecturer and writer, whose subject was "Peace on Earth to Women of Good Will." She said, "Women of good will should set up conference tables planning for world order which will insure a just and durable peace. They should make sure that no soldier shall have died in vain for want of plans to make the peace permanent."

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Ethel Melgaard, Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, Mrs. Agnes Booth, Mrs. Effie Archart, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Margaret Rosecrans, Miss Lillian McDonald, Miss Helen Yockey, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Dr. Helen Pearce, Miss Nellie Schwab, Miss Eva LeBlond, Miss Mabel Savage, Miss Anna Peters and Mrs. Herrick.

Mrs. Kenneth Hanson and Mrs. William Hamel visited friends in Eugene on Friday.

Servicewomen

What they can do
What they're doing about it

Lieutenant (jg) Bernice Lee, USN, has been visiting in the capital as the guest of Miss Lillian and Miss Jesse McDonald. Lt. Lee has been stationed at the Sand Point naval hospital, Seattle, and left by plane for her new base at the naval hospital at Norfolk, Virginia. Before entering the service she was assistant supervisor of nurses at the Salem General hospital.

Mrs. Elmore Hill was hostess to members of her bridge club at her South Liberty street home Thursday afternoon.

NORTH DALLAS—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. August Hiebert was attended by their many relatives and friends. A large cake centered the serving table, and fall flowers were placed about the rooms.

WOODBURN—Mrs. George E. K. Moorhead, president of the Oregon Federated Woman's clubs, was speaker at the Wednesday sessions of senior and junior Woodburn Woman's clubs at the library club room.

The Woodburn Woman's club, meeting in the afternoon, first attended to routine business under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Lillian Vorhees-Spear. Mrs. A. E. Austin, chairman of the local "Buy a Bomber" bond drive, reported that $1075 worth of bonds had been sold through the club. Mrs. Robert Renn, a member of the junior club, sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Donna Jean Ernest, and high school girls, Beverly Hughes, Adah Rich, Betty Jones, and Jean Bentley, also sang. Their accompanist was Virginia Olson. A Christmas tree with gifts was the center of interest during the social hour. Mrs. J. Melvin Ringo, Mrs. Carl Huber and Mrs. Henry Beaman were in charge. Mrs. Fred Hecker was received as a new member.

Mrs. Moorhead spoke on the program of training and on the new status of scholarship funds raised by Women's clubs in relation to the cadet nurses training. The money raised by the state federation to be applied to the year of preliminary work for a collegiate degree and a certificate of registration in nursing. Woodburn club voted to turn the $130 in the nurses' training fund to the federation for the purpose outlined.

The hostesses were Mrs. H. F. Butterfield, Mrs. E. J. Allen, Mrs. Carl Huber and Mrs. M. E. Gralapp.

"Women in the world today" was the subject of Mrs. Moorhead's address to the Junior Woodburn Woman's club. The presentation of this vital topic was the main feature of the evening's program.

Under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Floyd Maricle, the junior women made plans to help Campfire Girls cookie sale this afternoon.

On December 15 the junior club will give a progressive Christmas party. Each member will also bring a toy with her to the party, the collection to go to the Doernbecker hospital for children.

Celebration Event of Friday

Observing National Founders day, members of the Willamette Valley association of Phi Beta Kappa met on Friday night in the Salem Woman's clubhouse for a program and formal reception.

The musical program included piano and vocal numbers. Ralph Dobbs, pianist, played "Eugene Onegin" by Tchaikowsky, Miss Evangeline Merritt sang "Zeig-nung" by Strauss, "C'est l'ex-tete" by Debussy, and "Nicolette" by Ravel. She was accompanied by Bennett Ludden. All are members of the school of music faculty at Willamette university.

Judge James T. Brand, the speaker, chose as his subject "Natural law and constitutional democracy."

The refreshment table, presided over by Mrs. Eric Bolt of Monmouth and Mrs. J. Lyman Steed, was centered with holly and red tapers. Juniper was used for decorations about the rooms.

Miss Olive M. Dahl introduced guests to the receiving line, which included Miss Jeanette Roberts, president of the association, President and Mrs. G. Her-ting Smith of Willamette university, President and Mrs. Harry Dillin of Linfield college, President C. A. Howard of Oregon College of Education, and Mrs. Charles Ratcliff.

Mrs. George Schwarz was hostess to the Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae at her North Capitol street home Thursday night. Mrs. James Sears is president of the group.

Weavers Hear Mrs. Healy

Members of the Weavers guild met on Wednesday night to hear Mrs. Frank Healy, a member, discuss weaving and weavers she saw on a recent trip to the eastern states.

While in New York she attended the school of hand crafts and weaving classes at Teachers' college, Columbia university. She told of bobbin laves and lace weaving seen at the Margaret Brooks studio, New York and the Boston studio of Kate Van-Cleave. She said that she saw samples of weaving with Salem linen and a display of photographs of the flax growing and linen spinning. She also discussed some of the war work to which the eastern hand weaving studios have turned, namely work in testing threads for aviation belts, and study of teaching weaving to convalescent soldiers.

She brought samples of many pieces which she did during her study in the east, and also showed work done under the direction of Dorothy Liebes in Portland last summer.
