

Don't Look Now..

But... as someone suggested, it's a sort of "pound of flesh" idea. You bring enough people to the blood donor's center to make up a good gift of blood and trade it for enough gasoline to get there.

Solo part.... usually I'm not a program cruncher, a wiggler or a concert couger, but at the George Chavchavadze concert I frankly tried to steal the show. It all began along toward the last of a delicate and beautiful piano number. With me it was a question of whether to hold my breath and eventually choke to death, to make a dash for the door, or cough like a lady and get it over with. I tried the first, first. Never had I known a moment during the evening, when all the regular coughers were completely quiet, they left the field entirely to me and George, and I finally took the floor. Waiting for him to play that last utterly heavenly note, and the welcome clapping to follow, I held my breath, until, face red and ears popping, out the explosion came, but just at the same time that George put his finger lightly on the note. Again we both had the same idea, he with his sweet note, I with my whooplike cough, followed by a terrible deathly gasp. George gave up then, and I had the floor. Then the audience clapped—for George.

Full up.... Comes a letter from a new recruit, in line for his immunity shots at Ft. Lewis. One of the youngsters in line, seeing the size of the hypo said in an audible voice, "Hold on there, I only have an A card, I'm not entitled to more than three gallons."

Up to him.... Women who serve at the USO should realize how much good breeding means in boys of soldier age. With no distinction in clothes, the only proof of a gentleman is in the man himself.

Just too frightened.... Some people are talking about "form number 1040A" and the "simplified" form, or the "complicated" form, but I am only to the place where I dare feel the thickness of the envelope, Uncle Sam has so sweetly sent me to help out on my arithmetic work.

P. S.... We just heard about the bobby pin rush at the five-and-dime, pardon us while we go and get tramped on. We don't use bobby pins, but all us girls always buy what there's a run on, we have to get some fun out of the war!

Service Women

What they can do
What they're doing about it

Miss Martha Evelyn Lubbers, Fairview Home, has enlisted in the WAVES, it was reported here today by Chief Robert B. Fallon, in charge of the US navy recruiting substation at Salem.

Miss Lubbers took the oath at the new WAVES enlistment headquarters at 735 SW Alder street, Portland. She joins her two brothers in the service, Cpl. John Sylvester Lubbers and Sgt. Leonard Bernard Lubbers, both serving overseas with the US army.

Since May, 1943, Miss Lubbers has been employed at the Fairview Home, Salem. She is a member of St. John's Catholic church, Salem and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Lubbers, Yankton, SD.

Will Honor Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Van Eaton are entertaining with an informal "at home" this afternoon at their Salem Heights residence in compliment to their daughter and her husband, Private and Mrs. Kenneth J. Van Dyke, who were married on January 12. The bride is the former Doris Eileen Van Eaton.

Friends of the bride are asked to call between 2 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Van Dyke is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and his home is in Elkhorn, Wisconsin.
Ministers Wives association will meet on Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dudley Strain, 1580 D street. A program will follow the short business meeting. Miss Delvon Long will give a reading and Mrs. John Trachsel will talk about her husband's experiences while a prisoner of the Japanese.

Service at Minister's Home

At a candlelight service at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Stannard on Madrona avenue at 7 o'clock on Wednesday, Miss Doris Eileen Van Eaton and Mr. Kenneth Van Dyke said their marriage vows. The service was prelude by a talk on marriage and the home, by Rev. Stannard.

Decorations were white chrysanthemums, pink carnations and ferns. Mr. Robert Van Eaton, brother of the bride, lit the candles before the ceremony. Members of the family and a few friends were present.

The bride was gowned in gold crepe and wore a corsage of violets and roses. Her mother wore rose taffeta and a navy blue hat.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Van Eaton of Ewald avenue, Salem Heights, and was graduated from Salem high school, Willamette university and the University of Denver library school. She was children's librarian in Portland and has been recently in the library in Corvallis where she will remain until February 1.

Mr. Van Dyke's home is in Elkhorn, Wis. He is serving in the army and is now on furlough from Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Following the ceremony, the wedding dinner was served at the Golden Pheasant.

American War Mothers will meet all day for sewing at the Chemeketa street USO on Tuesday.
