More Funds Needed to Stop Polio Increase

Because of the increase in infantile paralysis cases in the past year, contributions to the fund devoted to combatting it should be more generous than ever, Gov. Earl Snell said in calling attention Monday to the annual appeal for funds, now in progress and scheduled to close January 31.

"On the basis that 1943 was the third highest infantile paralysis year in the history of the nation with upwards of 12,000 cases, it can be expected there will be thousands of patients in 1944, some of them for many years after," Gov. Snell said.

"The help we give will not only further research but will contribute mightily toward rehabilitation of those thousands of young boys and girls, who, as a result, may be permitted to live and enjoy normal lives and realize their desires to fulfill their obligations and responsibilities to society."

Vandeneynde Elected Head Oregon Dads

EUGENE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Gene Vandeneynde of Salem, elected president of the Oregon Dads for a two-year term at that organization's meeting last week end on the University of Oregon campus, had three major tasks ahead of him today.

In their 17th annual meeting the Dads voted to aid the university's postwar educational program, to assist the Oregon Mothers in their suggestion to establish a permanent memorial scholarship in honor of Dr. Donald M. Erb, the late president, and to support legislation providing financial assistance in the education of returning veterans.

Letters will be sent to each member of the Oregon delegation in congress urging passage of soundly-conceived bills proposing such aid, whenever such measures are up for consideration, it was planned.

Approximately 350 dads, mothers, faculty members and guests attended the luncheon honoring the dads, at which Ernest J. Haycox of Portland, 1923 graduate, and a widely known author, spoke on the topic "Dads Belong to the Human Race."

Officers in addition to President Vandeneynde elected at this year's meeting include Loy W. Rowling of Eugene, vice president, and John H. Carkin of Salem, secretary.

Jersey Men Sponsor Club

A registered Jersey 4H calf club, sponsored by the Marion county Jersey Cattle club will be organized during the coming weeks under the direction of Amos Bierly, Marion county club leader, the Jersey breeders decided Sunday. Final organization details will be completed February 20 when the club meets at the St. Paul hall.

M. G. Gunderson of Silverton was reelected president of the club at the annual election held Sunday when some 50 members met for a no host dinner. Floyd Bates, route 3, was named vice president and Mrs. Otto Beatty, Chemawa, was reelected secretary. Otto Beatty was named a three year member of the board of directors to succeed Otto Pfennig. Other members of the board are Lewis Judson, two years; and D. C. Brock, route 6.

Mrs. Buysiere, St. Paul, and Norman Nash were named a committee for the club to work with Bierly in the formation of the new calf club. L. J. Allen, state livestock club leader, accompanied Bierly to the meeting.

Interest in the Jersey cattle club is greater than ever, breeders report. While many large breeders have sold of large portions of their herds the interest of the breeder as a rule has been continued while many times most of the stock has remained in the county or at most going largely to adjoining counties. Stock sold has distributed the interest among more breeders and the club roster has been increased in this way, members report. Nash brothers brought their large Jersey herd here recently adding to the local total of high quality Jerseys.

Lewis Judson, large Jersey

breeder, sold off much of his stock more than a year ago but retained some of his best stock and all of his interest in the breeders organization. In commenting upon the growth of the club Judson gave much of the credit for the growth in the membership roll to the president, M. G. Gunderson of Silverton.

This Little Pig Went Where?

Whether "this little pig" — the one he won from Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska when Oregon topped the mid-west state in the third war loan — had gone to market, in credibly "had roosted" or perhaps boogie-wooged all the way home, was a bit vague on Monday to Gov. Earl Snell, but he wanted to know.

Gov. Griswold wagged the pig against an Oregon salmon. "The last I heard of the pig, now the property of the Oregon war bond committee, was when it was ejected recently from the Portland zoo," Gov. Snell declared.

He suggested that it again be auctioned off in the fourth war loan campaign.

Schrader Rite Set Wednesday

TILLAMOOK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Capt. Otto Schrader, 56, who died Friday at Boise, Idaho, where he was investigating flood control work for the army engineers, will be buried here Wednesday.

Schrader, one time resident engineer of the state highway commission, entered the army engineers' Portland office in 1938 to take charge of flood control projects along the Columbia river. He supervised construction of the Klamath Falls and Lakeview airports.

He first joined the engineers in world war I, rising from private to second lieutenant. Returning to the army after holding posts in private industry in Oregon and in Detroit, Mich., he was promoted to a captain in 1942.

Schrader was born in Salem and was graduated from Oregon State college. The widow, a daughter, and a son survive.

Linn Turkey Growers Elect Harry Winkley

ALBANY, Jan. 24 (AP)—Feed shortages will force reduction of this year's turkey crop by 8 percent despite a heavy demand for the birds, N. L. Benion, Oregon State college poultryman, told the Linn County Turkey Growers association.

Harry Winkley was elected president of the group.

I'VE FREED A MARINE TO FIGHT! You can do it, too!

As a Marine, the most important and inspiring job of your life lies ahead. The achievements of your organization are written, and are being written, on history's most glorious pages.

Your Country and the Marines need you, and this is a challenge to your highest ideals of womanhood. Pay is good, even compared with high civilian wages. Lodging, food, travel expenses and handsome uniforms ($200 to $250 worth) are included.

If you're not already working on a war job, call, 'phone or write the nearest Marine Recruiting Office.

THE MARINES, TOO, DEPEND ON GREYHOUND

Like men and women in all branches of the armed forces, the Marine Corps Women's Reserve depends on Greyhound for transportation. Greyhound buses serve Camp Elliott, San Diego, and other Marine training centers, as well as Marine bases from coast to coast. Other special services are also performed by Greyhound, often on a moment's notice. For example, buses are often requisitioned from regular schedules to transfer wounded between hospitals. In spite of shortages of buses and experienced personnel, the whole Greyhound organization is concentrating its efforts and resources to provide adequate transportation for all who must travel.
