When is a Ham not a Ham?

Modern curing methods now can make PICNICS just as tender—and every bit as delicious as Hams.

How to Cure that Ham

- (1) TAKE A FEW SLICES HERE
- (2) TURN AND RISE HAM ON FLAT SURFACE
- (3) TURN HAM AND CUT SLICES ALONG SIDES

When it is a PICNIC!

Hams come from the hind quarter and are larger than picnics, which come from the shoulder. Hams vary from about 10 to 20 lbs. Picnics vary from 5 to 10 lbs. The size of your family, the comparative price and points per pound are all factors which you should weigh to determine which is the best buy for you—picnic or ham.

TO A CARPENTER WHO WANTS AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

If you're finding living accommodations a bit tough where you are... if you'd like to get out where there's elbow room, Southern Pacific has a fine opening you may want to consider. It's a vital war job out on the line... railroad construction work that helps keep the war trains rolling. You'll live with a swell gang in outfit cars (railroad cars fitted up). Good pay. Good hours. Plenty of extra advantages you get only with a big permanent company, want to put away a nice stake, here's your chance.

Fly Far in War Tasks

This crew of United Air Lines and four-engine ATC transport plane are typical of those which United operated under contract for the air transport command on 800 Pacific flights in 1943. The company also chalked up 2400 other military flights for the ATC in this hemisphere during the year, according to an approved release issued by United.

United Air Lines Flies Men, Materials to Combat Theatres

United Air Lines today released a story which illustrates the efficiency and ingenuity of airline personnel in extending aerial lines of communications to combat theatres and in moving urgently needed men and material to the war zones through operations being carried on by the nation's airlines for the air transport command.

Without any prior experience in overseas operations, United crews began flying four-engine air transport command planes across the Pacific in September, 1942. Also, in the spring of 1942, the company began operations for the ATC within this country and to its possessions. These operations continued at full pace during 1943 and United disclosed that it flew a total of 11,533,612 miles with men, materials and mail on its domestic and overseas routes in 1943. Loads were in excess of 30 million pounds.

Flying under contract for the ATC, the company flew approximately 800 trans-Pacific flights and 2400 other flights in this hemisphere during 1943. In numerous cases, United's crews flew in combat areas to deliver vitally needed materials and supplies directly to isolated military units. The company recently was named in an OWI report as one of 10 airlines which rushed a large volume of men and materials to Alaska at the time of the Japanese crisis there.

United reported that the ATC routes over which it now is conducting military operations total approximately 16,000 miles in length or about two and a third times the mileage of its regularly scheduled domestic services.

Haven't You Wondered... How Much a "dozen" Oranges is really worth?

But when you buy oranges by the pound—you always get FULL VALUE—for a pound is a pound every time.

How Big is an Orange? If you buy oranges by a "dozen price," how big are they—how can you be sure you are getting your money's worth? Truth is, you can't, unless you know orange sizes. Numbers like 288, 252, 220, 176, 126, etc., are orange sizes. They tell how many are packed in an orange box. A 288 orange is quite small because it takes 288 to fill the box. And, of course, a 126 size would be much larger. Complicated, isn't it?
