Achiu-Belcastro Supporting Mat Melees Set

The meanies come into their own Tuesday night on the Armory mat. For with the announcement by Matchmaker Don Owen of the completed card for the weekly muscle party, no less than five crunch culprits will climb through the ropes starting with the 8:30 p.m. opener.

Even popular and ju-jitsuing Walter "Sneezie" Achiu draws the role of culprit in his main event rematch with Peter "Th' Walloper" Belcastro, for Walter has vowed publicly that he'll loose every trick he knows, right from ju-jitsu to bops on the kisser, at the hairy gent who doled out the fierce shellacking last week. Belcastro debuted locally by trying to punch Achiu full of holes, and despite failing to actually put daylight through the Chinaman he still succeeded in winning the brawl after smashing and bashing out one of the liveliest sessions seen here in weeks. Achiu, usually a contented cuss who takes the bad with the good, stormed the Owen fort for a rematch pronto, quick, now! He got it and also a free hand to use all the tricks in the book.

Jack "Bash 'Em" Lipscomb, super-meanie that he is, draws another toughie in Glenn Stone,

No, it isn't a hairy something recently escaped from a zoo, it's merely Peter "Th' Walloper" Belcastro, mat meanle par excellent, who'll do return match bashing with Walter Achiu Tuesday night at the armory.

Good shirts must be easily obtainable up Tacoma way-certainly are lots of persistent Tacomans set on losing the ones they've got now. And if they finally do argue their way into getting the Sacramento franchise, don't think a mess o' shirts won't be lost . . . Spokane is the logical place for the switch, if one is made, for the Inland Empire city has proven something the Tacoma and Vancouver derbyists haven't. For instance: With war industries going full blast, steaks (when you could get 'em) at two bucks per toss and the own overflowing with servicenen, Tacoma played San Frantisco a night game in 1942. 'Fristo was up and coming in the Coast league, Tacoma was leading the Western International eague. Four - hundred inquisitive souls bounced their 55c per to see the thing. In 1940, before he war and when a boom was merely voiced by a kid "cop" in rubbing out another kid playmate "robber," Spokane's WI entry played an exhibition with Seattle's Rainiers. That game, played on a Monday night and at twilight, which constitutes two strikes on practically any athletic event, drew 12,000 fans - 8500 in the seats and 3500 roped off around JACK KISER the outfield. What's more, they shelled out $1.10 a head to get in. ... Not forgetting, too, that Spokane holds the nation's class B attendance record of upwards of 200,000 for a season, more than some of the major leagues nines draw during a summer and probably more than Tacoma has drawn aggregately during the latter's six years in the Western International . . . And if Tacomans wouldn't pay 55c to see the Western International league in action, why will they go $1.10 to see an undermanned Coast league at work? . . . Yep, Barnum WAS right . . . Mught just as well move the Sacs to our village and show 'em what lasing a shirt is like . . .

Zags Annex Series Three Games to One

SEATTLE, Feb. 19-(P)- The University of Washington Huskies tonight managed to salvage one victory out of four meetings this season with Gonzaga university of Spokane, winning 53 to 40 after grabbing a commanding first half

A crowd of 7500 at the university pavilion saw the Huskies hand the brilliant navy-filled Gonzaga team their second defeat in 24 games after building up a 25 to 14 half time lead.

A revised Washington lineup. closer checking and a game pushed at break-neck speed from start to finish was the solution that

Coach Hec Edmundson finally found to salvage the last of the four-game series from the Zags. Tonight, instead of starting his straight service team of navy and marine trainees, Edmundson put Freshman Jack Nichols in at center to replace Dale Gronsdahl and sent diminutive Al Mar, Chinese student transfer from Whitman college in at guard.

Mar, replacing Perry Nelson, who was injured in the final minutes of last night's game, scored two baskets in three shots in the first half to participate in a 12point rally which eventually meant the game for Washington.

Nichols tied for high man for Washington with Guard Bill Morris. Both scored 11 points.

But, while each of the five Washington starters were scoring nine points or better, the usually dead-eyed Gonzagans were not up to their usual game, save for For-A playoff plan has been made, ward Jim Baker, who was high Hoop, hoop, hoopla! Basketball for the home folks swings into the crucial stage this week, Salem high's Viks taking their first try at earning the district 4 state tourney ticket Thursday night against the touted Dallas Dragons at Willamette and Leslie and Parrish junior highs chasing in game no. 2 for the city championship Friday night at the Villa. Angel-Silverton game to get to Corvallis), the "or else" means they'll be lining up with the rest of the customers outside Willamette gym come March 16-17-18. Mt. Angel and Silverton knuckle down Wednesday night at Silverton for the right to play the Salem-Dallas winner. Corvallis has already captured the southern district 4 title and is waiting for the two-of-three game series with the north's ultimate winner.

Set for Crucial District 4 Clash With Viks

Friday night the Villa hall will doubtlessly be the scene of another mass of racing junior high hoopsters, screaming kids, bands, yell kings and queens and proud grownups as the Les-lie-Parrish battle for the city championship goes through round two. Leslie, before the largest crowd ever to witness a LP hoop scrap, decisively whip-ped the Northerners Friday night at Leslie, 38-29, and will be favored to make it two straight for the title Friday. No matter which team wins the next outing the rivals will play a third game at Leslie in March.

But the Beavers lost their basket eyes in the second period, often firing as many as six times from under their own basket without connecting. They canned only seven of 32 field tries while the Webfoots hit with uncanny accuracy to make seven out of

For the game Oregon State sank 16 of 57 shots, compared to Oregon's 13 out of 29. Oregon made 16 free throws good to Oregon State's seven.

With five minutes left, and the score 36-32, the Beavers spent a minute and a half firing from under their basket without result. Then Hamilton dribbled down to make it 38-32, and the Beavers started playing keep-away with 3 minutes to go. Hamilton, Phillips and McGrath converted free throws and Humphries a field goal to make it 42-33. In the last minute Lee, Reiman and Anderson scored for Oregon State but the rally fell three points short.

Ho ho div .: Seems they're on us this time-we had the wrong Gill refereeing the Eugene-Corvallis game last week. It wasn't nanciers 28-19. Blats, but Brother Luke, the U of Hawaii coach durationized at OSC. ... One or the other, he's probably very unpopular down Eugene way, especially so after reading accounts of the game as seen by a Eugene reporter. As usual, the poor Axemen, who would have you know they wouldn't hurt a defenseless fly, were blown for 19 fouls. Corvallis was taxed with only eight. Therefore, and not hidden between the lines of the Eugene reporter's story, is another cry of "robbery," which seems to emerge from our southern neighbor just every time the Axemen play. The 19 blasts the Axemen got against Corvallis, the 20 agin 'em with Cottage Grove and the 18 they had district 5 entry in the state basketcoming (and got) against Salem-57 in three games-added to the fact that Coaches Hank Kuchera and Duane Mellem closely resemble the one and only Wally Palmberg whenever a ref's whistle is blown, is certain proof Messrs. Kuchera and Mellem might try looking at a rule book for foul definitions. They'd be surprised, no doubt

At Last! Katonen Speaks!

Speaking of hoop refs, neither Dallas or Salem is taking any chances on "homer" work for their next Thursday district clash, Frank Basher and Paul Warren of Portland have been contracted to work it, Warren being one of the gents selected to toil during the state meet next month. Incidentally, his sidekicks for the tourney will be inimitable Emil Piluse and Ralph "Rose Bowl" Graham. Not much youth there, but plenty of experience.

Village grappling fans might like to know that Matchmaker Don Owen has at long last heard from Coast Champ Paavo Ka-tonen, he who promised to come back to the northwest just as soon as he found out what Uncle Sam wanted to do with him. Seems Uncle hasn't made up his mind yet, as Paavo, a Finnish immigrant and 1-A has his citizenship papers fouled up. So for the present the rynamic one with the travelling cauliflower garden is "frozen" more town, said today. or less.

Another muscular favorite, Jack "Pin-up Boy" Kiser, is also bing eyed by Sammy. Kiser is due back to the northwest in the next week or two-he's now in Oklahoma-but about all the grappling he'll do will be with the Portland draft board, 'tis said.

And Herm Schwartzkopf, the Vik phys. ed. department h drew a three-monts deferment for the bad knee he picked up in a City league hoop mix two weeks ago. Funny thing about that knee. Herm hooped through high school and three years at Kausas State, making the Big-6 confernce team one year, and wasn't hurt once. Then in a friendly City get-together he comes up with a really bad injury.
