Machinery Parts Interests Farmers

SILVERTON — Local farmers were interested in the announcement from the federal office Friday that they are now to be represented on each of the region's ten ODT parts procurement groups, as a move to aid rehabilitation of farm trucks for use in 1944 crop hauling.

The representatives will be selected from the country farm transportation committees. Through this step farmers will receive help from vehicle maintenance experts, and will be able to utilize enormous ODT and WPB nationwide resources for locating and expediting deliveries of scarce parts, according to Roy Long, regional director of the division of motor transport.

Since the age of some 55 per cent of Pacific coast farm trucks is more than five years, many require parts and repairs, it is pointed out by local farmers.

Valley Sidelights

SILVERTON — That Silverton is a coffee drinking locality was conclusively proved here this week when it was recalled that coffee is sold not only in glass jars but in paper sacks as well, and that sixth grade Girl Scouts collected 3800 empty glass coffee jars and had them ready for shipment. The girls will send them to a coffee packing company. The troop itself is $76 richer for the project.

Mrs. Kenneth Williams and Mrs. C. A. Hande, jr. are Girl Scout advisors.

SILVERTON — Don't let your sewing machine go for a ride unless you personally know the chauffeur is advice reaching Silverton through Lyle L. Janz, former Silverton youth, but now general manager of the Portland Better Business bureau.

Mr. Janz recently stated that women who have sewing machines should watch out for a smooth-talking repairman who may knock softly at their doors and offer to fix their machines for a "bargain price."

Instances have come before the Portland bureau where the "fly-by-night" repairman invariably has taken the sewing machines to his "repair shop" and failed to return them to the owners.

Janz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Janz of route 2, Silverton. He was graduated from Silverton schools some years ago and some of Silverton's business men recall that he was at one time a popular clerk at the Steelhammer drug store. The elder Mr. Janz was at one time Silverton water superintendent.
