'Skippy' Crew Thrills Come With 'Chuting

By HENRY B. JAMESON
AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, Feb. 19—(AP)—Hundreds of airmen have parachuted from their planes but it is doubtful if any crew had such cock-eyed experiences as the 10 men on the Flying Fortress "Skippy" who bailed out when their plane caught fire over England recently.

One gunner was knocked cold when he hit the ground and woke up in the arms of a beautiful English girl who kissed him—he thought he was "in heaven."

Another landed in the middle of a railroad track in front of a speeding train. The co-pilot plopped down atop a warehouse and wound up drinking sherry with an RAF vice marshal, while the ball turret gunner dropped into a marsh 500 feet from the sea and sank up to his ears in muck.

Lt. Leo M. Haynes of 1617 Gordon street, Spokane, Wash., the navigator, was left dangling helplessly over the edge of the roof of a three-story house when his chute caught in a chimney. Two Englishmen helped free him.

Sgt. S. A. Depietro of Schenectady, N.Y., fell into a lake and got tangled in his parachute harness. He thought he was drowning when he discovered he was standing on the bottom. All he had to do was wade out.

The top turret gunner, Sgt. Otto

B. Fugett of Orange, Texas, landed on a jagged edge and tumbled 130 feet into a stone quarry but escaped with only slightly sprained ankles.

"It was the craziest thing that ever happened to me—nice, too," said Sgt. Bernard E. Jensen of North Hollywood, Calif., the tail gunner who was kissed back to consciousness by a trim young lady he had never seen before. "For a few seconds I thought I'd dropped into heaven."

She insisted on taking him home. Jensen was in no mood to argue.

Austin Named To Relations Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—(AP)—Senator Austin (R-Vt.), outspoken advocate of postwar international collaboration, was named by the senate republican conference for membership on the important senate foreign relations committee.

The nomination, subject to automatic senate approval, was agreed upon at a meeting at which Austin gave up his post on the judiciary committee in order to take over the new assignment.

The assignment of Austin to the foreign relations committee will give the minority 9 of the 23 members since Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) is listed with the minority.

Other republican assignments included: Holman of Oregon, rules and manufactures; Thomas of Idaho, military affairs, giving up rules.
