Dallas Auxiliary Holds Party on Eighth Birthday

DALLAS—The auxiliary, VFW, was hostess to the local post and out of town guests in observance of the eighth anniversary of the founding of the society at the library hall Saturday night. The hall was decorated in the Valentine motif.

Numbers on the program included: violin solo, Mrs. Robert Fisher, accompanied by Mrs. Adrian Sias; group of songs, Donald Hughes, accompanist, Lloyd Domaschofsky; short history of the post by Jack Hayes, first post commander; addresses by deputy commander, George Watts, and Vice Commander Meade, both of Portland, and the presentation by Mrs. Paul Bennett of a three-tier birthday cake baked by the auxiliary president, Mrs. H. D. Peterson, to the auxiliary.

Later an old fashioned pie social was held in place of the customary lunch. The red and white lace covered serving table was centered by a shadow box valentine, red satin streamers and nose-gays.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Forrest Martin, Mrs. Melvin Cook, Mrs. Paul Bennett and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Albany.

Out of town guests included Deputy Commander George Watts, Vice Commander Meade, both of Portland; District Commander R. S. Scofield, Commander and Mrs. M. Henry Sims, Junior Vice Commander Clifford Redfern and Joe Stirman, all of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ray of Portland, former commander and auxiliary president, respectively, of the Dallas organizations.

Scio Family Moves to Bend

Hoofacts Return to Irrigated Place in Mid State

SCIO—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hoofset planned to move this week to an irrigated tract near Bend where they lived before coming here four years ago. They have disposed of their farm near Scio and their two residences.

Mrs. M. D. Zander's mother, who recently became seriously ill at her home in Seattle, is reported improved. Mr. and Mrs. Zander visited her two weeks ago.

Raymond Baker, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Baker of south Scio, is reported virtually recovered from scarlet fever. The Baker home still is quarantined.

James Summers, son of Mrs. Al Baker of this city, was here a few days ago from Camp Adair, where he underwent an operation.

Mrs. M. D. Zander of Scio has been notified to appear at Albany March 13, for jury duty in circuit court.

Mrs. Wilbur Funk and daughter, Mrs. Rice, and the latter's son, Austin, are home from Cave-creek, Ariz., where they visited briefly with Wilbur and Ivin Funk who are spending the winter there in the interest of their health.

Parents are urged by Mrs. Jean Faeh, Linn county health nurse, to attend a health clinic at the Scio high school February 24.

Robert F. Dennison, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dennison of Scio, is awaiting call to eastern college preparatory to entering armed service. He has been taking a course at Oregon State college.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Simmons, who recently disposed of their farm two miles south of Scio, have returned to Salem. Simmons state they may return to a small acreage in the Scio area for permanent residence.

Bette June Withers is substituting at the Scio Food market for Audrie Bartu, on vacation in the middle west.

Albert Davis is reported in satisfactory condition following surgery at Portland last week for his fractured right leg, sustained in a motorcycle-car accident near Scio 16 months ago. Davis is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis, in South Scio.

Mr. Sharp and a helper were here a few days ago in quest of Douglas fir roots for manufacturing purposes. Sharp is a resident of the Gaston locality.

Charley Young of Scio exhibited a few days ago a small tin tobacco box said to have been carried by his great-uncle, Nathan Young during the battle of the Brandywine in the Revolutionary war, 167 years ago. A large striking clock with all wood wheels except one, manufactured in 1778, also is in possession of a member of the family, Charley added. The time piece keeps time.

New Grangers Are Received

UNION HILL — The Union Hill Grange met Friday night for the February business meeting. Vivienne Jaquet, Donald Peters, Richard Krenz and Kenneth Brown were received as subordinate grange members.

Ann Louise Heater, Bill Kesteborder and Merlin Darby became members of the Juvenile grange.

Several names of new candidates for the subordinate grange were read.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Krenz and Mr. and Mrs. Byron McElhaney served lunch at the close of the meeting.

Valley Births

SCOTTS MILLS — A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hilbert at the Silverton hospital on February 22. Bernard Hilbert is in the army stationed in Florida. Recently he came here to visit his wife and her mother, Mrs. Mable Ballard, who is principal of the Scotts Mills school.

Poultrymen Helped by Soy Bean Meals, Tests Indicate

Successful feeding experiments conducted by the poultry department at Oregon State college that show how soy bean meal can be substituted for most of the previously used animal proteins in chick starter rations bring good news to poultrymen harassed with feed troubles, W. G. Nibler, county agent, says.

Detailed information on these feed trials has been sent direct to all Oregon food dealers by the station and is also available to any interested poultryman, says Nibler.

In reporting on the results of the test, J. A. Harper, research assistant at the college says that soy bean meal when adequately supplemented will replace much of the animal protein in chick starting rations. In the college experiments it was supplemented with distillers' dry solubles and with dry live yeast. By using these it was possible to reduce the pounds of animal protein in a ton of mash from 181 pounds per ton to amounts ranging from only 26 to 52 pounds without harmful effect on the growth of the chicks. In one experimental ration the amount of animal protein was even reduced to five pounds per ton, with approximately the same rate of growth being shown.

One important factor discovered, according to Harper, is that the method of preparation of the soy bean oil meal has considerable effect on its feeding efficiency. In processing the meal it is necessary that it be heated at the correct temperature to make available the maximum amount of protein.

In the experiments conducted at the college, eight lots of day-old chicks were fed the various rations for eight weeks. They were given free access to the mash at all times and, after the first week, had access to chick scratch grains, and after the fourth week to developing scratch. Granite grit was kept before the chicks after the fourth day of brooding.

4H Calf Club Is Organized

LOONEY BUTTE — A 4H Calf club was recently organized, with seven members, of whom Donald Pruitt of Jefferson, was elected president.

Wayne Reeves, LeRoy Farmer and Murray Stauble represent Looney Butte in the project. Hudson Reeves of Looney Butte, who is owner of a herd of 21 registered Jerseys, is leader of the club. Any boy in the vicinity of Jefferson of 4H club age having a heifer calf, or a cow, either grade or purebred, is eligible to join the club, Mr. Reeves says. The meeting was held at the Jefferson school. Amos Bierly, county club agent, showed techni-colored pictures of the Livestock show at the world's fair at San Francisco. The next meeting will be March 2.

Rickreall Woman Reported Ill

RICKREALL — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beavis were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. A. B. Starbuck in Dallas Monday.

Roy Dent of Willamina was a visitor at the Larkin home Monday.

Mrs. Harry Dempsey, who teaches school in Perrydale, was absent from her classes Monday because of illness.

George Van Santen, who has been working on construction work in Klamath Falls returned this week. His work there was completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beaver were in Portland and Woodburn over the weekend visiting her brothers, Alfred and Dick Grolbert.

The Store was closed Monday because Vic Mason was ill.

Physician Is Interested

Mt. Angel Informed Wyoming Doctor to Come Soon

MT. ANGEL — Members of the Mt. Angel Business Men's club were pleased to hear at the meeting at the Mt. Angel hotel Tuesday noon it was almost certain that Dr. Frank Meisius of Cheyenne, Wyo., would locate at Mt. Angel.

President Fisher read a letter from Dr. Meisius in which he told of his plans to come to Mt. Angel. These would indicate that in about two weeks or less Mt. Angel would have a doctor.

A lengthy letter of explanation of the soldier vote proposal, received from Congressman Mott, was read. He said not all the information had been published and quoted figures on the roll call vote.

Peter Gores reported that the blood donor volunteers were coming in at a good rate and that 150 were signed Tuesday morning. Thirty more are needed by Sunday if the Red Cross Mobile Blood unit is to be in Mt. Angel on March 2 as had been planned.

Gores announced that the Red Cross quota for the Mt. Angel district was more than double that of last year and had been set at $2200. Last year's quota was $965. Soliciting, he stated, would begin March 1 and it would be necessary for everyone to be generous if the quota is to be met.

Otto Oswald reported that Alois Keber was in the Silverton hospital where he underwent an operation last Saturday but was getting along fine and would probably be home in ten days.

A motion was made that the Grange Takes New Members

ROBERTS — Roberts Grange met Saturday night at the grange hall. Mr. and Mrs. Gortmaker of Roberts, were given the first and second degree obligations. Mrs. SeRine and Mrs. Geer of Salem Grange, were obligated in the third and fourth degrees.

The grange voted to contribute $10 to the Red Cross and also to have a "contribution made" at the next meeting for the infantile paralysis fund. A vote of thanks was extended to J. J. Roberts and Lee Eyerly for painting the grange hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Stegner, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Geer and Mrs. SeRine, of Salem grange were visitors and gave short talks. Mrs. Leonard Zielke, home economics club chairman, was in charge of the program during the lecture hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sollenberger were voted into grange membership of the order.

Dickson Jersey Wins Silver Medal

ALBANY — Because she produced 9,067 pounds of milk, five per cent, 453 pounds fat, in 305 days, Silky Gloria of Ashburn, aged two years, six months, has been given the silver medal award of the American Jersey Cattle club for her splendid production.

Silky Gloria is a registered Jersey cow owned by J. M. Dickson & Son of Shedd.

The Machine Age Has Changed Seeing Habits
In 1769 when James Watt developed the steam engine he set in motion the greatest revolution in history. To students it is known as the Industrial Revolution. Prior to the machine age few people could read or even want to. The great majority engaged in tasks that were easy on the eyes—such as farming and rural handicrafts. With the printing press came books, magazines and papers. The factory system brought workers from the farms to the mills and factories. Nature never intended us to use our eyes for close seeing over long periods indoors.
