House Rejects Condemning Jap Americans
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23—(AP)—The house today rejected by a vote of 82 to 76 legislation under which past expressions of disloyalty by interned Japanese-Americans would, in effect, be considered as a renunciation of citizenship.

Under the bill proposed by Rep. Johnson (R-Calif.), any disloyal statements which the Japanese-Americans have made during their internment could be used against them in proceedings to deprive them of citizenship.

The house then passed, 11 to 33, a bill backed by Attorney General Biddle, under which native-born citizens could renounce their citizenship in time of war with the sanction of the attorney general.

Kern Heads War Chest

Lowell Kern was elected president of the Salem united war chest when directors held their 1944 organization session Wednesday afternoon. He succeeds T. M. Hicks, who has filled the office for the past three years and who this month left the directorate after six years of service there.

A resolution of appreciation for the work of Hicks was voted unanimously by the board.

Loyal Warner was elected first vice president; Fred S. Anunson, second vice president; Dorthea Steusloff, secretary, and Linn C. Smith, treasurer.

The financial report, presented during the annual meeting of the chest earlier this month, was analyzed; a report from the Oregon war chest was heard, and new members of the board were received.

Elfstrom Names 15 Businessmen To Serve on Chamber's Industrial Development Group

Names of 15 businessmen to serve on the chamber of commerce's industrial development committee, which he heads, were released Wednesday by Robert L. Elfstrom together with a declaration that the committee may anticipate both heavy work and ample results this year.

Listed to serve this year by Elfstrom were Keith Brown, Lee U. Eyerly, Lief Bergvik, Russell Frost, Carl Halvorsen, Guy Hickok, C. B. McCullough, A. C. Nelson, Leo Reimann, Lloyd Reinholds, W. W. Rosebraugh, C. A. Sprage, Glenn Stevens, Paul B. Wallace and Ray Yocom.

"From a normal agricultural city Salem is rapidly becoming a modern metropolis," Elfstrom declared. "It has a rapidly expanding payroll.

"Among the additions to the city's long list of industries is one of the largest prefabricating plants on the Pacific coast. Others are airplane parts, ammunition cases, steel drums, food lockers, toys, kitchen cabinets, furniture, furnaces, ventilators and refrigeration equipment, sheet metal products, hoists, etc.

"The American Can company has purchased a factory site and the erection of the plant is awaiting priorities. The alumina plant is due to be completed within the year at a cost of over $4,000,000 and will employ over 250 persons.

"Industrialists say the Willamette valley has an ideal climate for working conditions, which means that we have neither extreme cold nor extreme heat. The employment situation is favorable. Salem is classified by the war manpower commission as class 4 which is the best rating given.

"When the alumina plant is completed and in operation it will produce about one-fourth of the needed alumina for the five northwest aluminum plants. This plant can easily be expanded from 10 to 20 times its beginning size. It will naturally attract the light metal industry which has unlimited possibilities.

"Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, in a letter to Representative Homer Angell, recorded in the Congressional Record, said: 'For a region such as the northwest, which could easily become the light metals center of the world, access on equal terms with all others to the technical information of the nation is probably a major requisite for growth, as well as essential insurance against monopoly.'

"Engineers advise us that our northwest timber in certain localities is being depleted and that light metals will fast take its place and offset this timber loss. In other words, we have abundant natural resources. And we have the cheapest water power in the world."
