THESE FLAGS WILL FLY OVER

OUR SALEM PLANT TODAY

Citizens of Salem and surrounding communities who worked in Del Monte plants last summer will receive the government's new Achievement "A" Award when the official flag is raised over the California Packing Corporation plant here today.

Army (Navy) and War Food Administration officials will express the gratitude of our government and of the armed forces for the important part these food processing plants have played in the war effort.

But we who are responsible for Del Monte production, and you who live and work in this community, realize perhaps better than anyone else just exactly what went into winning this recognition. That is why our pride in those who accomplished it is so very great.

We know the sacrifices of personal time and effort that went into the job-not only the tireless efforts of the regular employees, but also the grit and determination of the many citizen volunteers who devoted their spare time and vacations to fighting the battle of the food front this year.

This "A" Award is truly a tribute to the patriotic spirit of the entire community. It is a challenge and an incentive, too. For we know that keeping the "A" flag flying above our plants is one of the best ways we can keep the American flag flying on every battlefront throughout the world.
