Canadian Denies Use of Coercion

OTTAWA, April 27 — (AP) — Canadian Defense Minister J. L. Ralston denied in the house of commons today that coercion was being used to get drafted men to volunteer for overseas service, but defended a policy of persuasion.

Canada's conscripts are required to serve only in North America, the overseas army being made up on a voluntary basis.

The subject was raised in the house with reports that drafted men had been given a questionnaire with an implied threat that if 50 per cent of them did not volunteer they all might be made subject to foreign service.

"I make no apology for trying to get recruits," said Ralston, "but no coercion was used, as we prefer a volunteer army. I think we have a duty to keep and maintain a volunteer army."

Keep U. S. Senator GUY CORDON ON THE JOB!

CORDON was selected by Gov. Snell as the man best qualified to take the late Senator McNary's place.

CORDON has successfully represented Oregon's land grant counties in Washington, D. C., since 1926.

CORDON is an authority on tax matters and Oregon resources. He has caused the federal government to return $15,000,000.00 to the state of Oregon.

CORDON is practical, down-to-earth, a self-educated man; a successful attorney. He is a strong believer in state's rights and free enterprise.

CORDON believes the federal government should reimburse local taxing agencies for lands removed from the tax rolls, to avoid throwing additional taxes on property owners.

CORDON helped write the original Oregon cooperative old age assistance law.

CORDON is a veteran of World War I, a former state commander American Legion; his only son is now with the U. S. air forces in Italy.

We've got a good man on the job in Washington now—why change?
