of the spectacularly swift fall of the village of Cosmo San Damiano to the American Fifth Army, two miles beyond the Garigliano river and six miles inland from the Gulf of Gaeta, and of the penetration of the adjacent stronghold of Castelforte.

Besides eighth army troops were also the village of Sant'Angelo on the west bank of the Rapido river, two and one-half miles south of Cassino, direct dispatches said.

The Germans scrambled out of Cosmo San Damiano so fast they left food on tables erected in its ruins. The Americans cornered 200 of them in a nearby cemetery where "we shot them down like jackrabbits," Feder quoted the victors as saying. Others surrendered after being dug out of the ruins of the hamlet.

As the Yanks pressed on to a mountain ridge northeast of the village they could see other units hammering their way into Castelforte, which has been called "Little Cassino" because of two previous allied failures to take it.

French troops attached to the fifth army swept on past their original objectives, and Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the fifth army, congratulated Gen. Alphonse Juin, the French commander. "You are proving to an anxiously awaiting France that the French army has returned, sacred to its finest fighting traditions," Clark told him.

US heavy bombers concentrated on blasting 14 rail centers in what officially was termed, "the climactic phase of an operation struggle" in the allied air powers' plan to destroy supply lines through which Hitler feeds the forces resisting the new offensive of the fifth and eighth armies.

peditionary force headquarters report broadcast from Berlin which said that Gen. Shunroku Hata, commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in China, had arrived on the Honan front May 6 to direct personally the operations in that sector.

Loss of Mienchih on the east-west Lunghai railway, 42 miles west of Loyang, to Japanese column which struck across the Yellow river from Shansi province in the north, was acknowledged by the Chinese. Tinghao station, six miles farther west, previously had fallen. Loss of Mienchih may lessen appreciably the chances of Chinese troops in northwestern Honan to fight their way out along the railway, their main escape route.

Apparently intent upon preventing escape of the Chinese troops, the Japanese have reached the railway immediately west of the city, and need only to push about 16 miles northward to the Yellow river to complete the encirclement.

T.J.B. Williams Plumber Head

T. J. B. Williams of Gladstone was elected president of the Oregon State Association of Master Plumbers in the closing hours of the annual convention here Saturday afternoon.

The association named E. W. Leppa, Seaside, vice president; Martin T. Morlan, Portland, treasurer, and the three officers re-appointed E. W. Honstein, Portland, as secretary.

Mrs. J. R. Widmer, Portland, was reelected president of the association's women's auxiliary; Mrs. Martin T. Morlan, Portland, was elected vice president; Mrs. A. E. Moore, Corvallis, secretary, and Mrs. E. W. Honstein, treasurer.

Redbirds Belt Dodgers Again

ST. LOUIS, May 13-(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals made it three out of four from the Brooklyn Dodgers by winning today's game 5-4, with a five-run rally in the fifth inning.

Rube Melton held the Cardinals scoreless until that fatal inning when he suddenly lost control and walked three batters in a row after Emil Verban had singled, to force in a run.

Candidate

LOUISE NASH

Louise Nash May Become GOP Delegate

Should Louise Nash of Lincoln county be elected as a delegate to the republican national convention from the first congressional district next Friday she will have the distinction of being the youngest delegate ever chosen for such office from her native state, according to her father, Darwin Nash, who spent Friday and Saturday with her in Salem.

Miss Nash, now employed in a clerical position in Red Cross headquarters at Camp Adair, was born in February, 1922, on the family ranch in Lincoln county, daughter of republican parents and grandparents.

Wallis Nash, her grandfather, served on the first board of regents of Oregon Agricultural college, on the editorial staff of the Oregonian under Harvey Scott and in 1896 stumped the state for William McKinley. Her father represented Lincoln county for two sessions in the state legislature.

The young candidate who is sponsored by the Young Republicans, graduated from Eddyville high school with the class of 1939 and entered Oregon State college that fall. She was a charter member of Lincoln County's Young Republican club and while in college was an outstanding member of the same organization.

The people of Oregon will write in on their May primary ballots the name of a man for president "who will embody the principles which have made this country great and have still protected the individual independence of her citizens" Miss Nash predicted here Saturday.

Police Arrest Young Thieves

Recovery by police of a small radio from a sale negotiated at a West Salem second-hand shop led to the arrest Friday night of a 16-year-old juvenile and his partner, a 17-year-old.

The police arrested the boys at a skating rink on the charge of obtaining the radio and $46 in cash from the office of the Hansen & Liljequist planing mill on the night of April 26. The boys divided the money between them and the younger boy received $6 and a .22-caliber rifle from the second-hand shop for the radio. Then he turned the rifle in for $8 or $7.

The younger boy admitted that he had also participated in or attempted other thefts in recent weeks. He entered the Woolworth store April 30, obtaining about $15, a sweater and a pair of shoes, later throwing the shoes away. He entered the Texaco service station at 485 South Commercial April 5 but took nothing. The Salem Laundry at 263 South High yielded him $5 on April 28. Nothing was taken when he entered the Bonesteel building on Portland road May 3.

McMinnville Boy Found Guilty of Manslaughter

MCMINNVILLE, May 13-(AP)—A jury here last night found Carroll Loren Cram, 18, guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of Wanelda Henderson, 14, in an automobile crash March 28.

Defense attorneys indicated the case may be appealed to supreme court on the grounds blood specimens for alcohol test were taken from Cram before he regained consciousness, and that this constituted making him testify against himself.

The prosecution sought to show through the blood tests that Cram was intoxicated at the time of the crash.

light air offensive against the Kohima front, while on the Imphal sector, heavy fighting raged as the Japanese battered unsuccessfully toward the Pajel mountain pass.

In the Kamaing drive, Stilwell's announcement said advance columns have repulsed an enemy attack on their position after inflicting casualties, among them two enemy commanders.

Driving on Myitkyina from the north, another Stilwell force was reported to have penetrated the perimeter of the Japanese defenses around Thangpur, strong outpost about 40 miles above Myitkyina.

Northwest of Myitkyina and north of the town of Mogasay, Stilwell's Chinese troops forced a stream and advanced a little south of Auehe in the hills, almost due east of Malakawang.

On the Imphal front, fierce fighting continued against grim Japanese resistance which held up the British south of Bishenpur. Strategic and tactical air forces smashed the Ningthoukhong fortified area and struck at similar strong points slightly southward in the villages of Potsangbam and Moirang. The Japanese were putting aircraft into the Potsangbam defenses. Fighters and bombers strafed British gun position, but lost two and probably three more, with several others reported hit.

tors at night and other heavy bombers came back with fighter escort the following day but still the enemy did not attempt to send up fighters.

Australian troops, working their way to the New Guinea coast from Alexishafen toward the Hollandia-Aitape area, pressed five miles past Cape Croisilles. They reached Meigar plantation, 30 miles from Madang.

Yesterday's communique told of an aerial foray into the area of the Pajau islands, Japan's naval base on the southeast approach of the Philippines.

Special School For Cannery On Schedule

A four-day school community cannery training school, similar to that which closed Saturday night, will be conducted again this week at Silverton for vocational agriculture and home economics instructors who will be operating school canneries this summer. The instruction will include food processing operation and equipment and cannery management.

Among those providing the instruction are Dr. Ira I. Somers of the National Cannery Association, San Francisco; Tom Omsdorf, professor of food products, industries, Oregon State college, Corvallis; Glen L. Weaver and Kirby E. Brumfield, assistant state supervisors of vocational agriculture; and Bertha Kohlhaugen, state supervisor of home economics education, Salem.

An average of two representatives from Boardman, Grants Pass, Halfway, LaGrande, Lakeview, Silverton, Woodburn and Salem attended the past week's session. Representatives from Albany, Corvallis, Cottage Grove, Molalla, Myrtle Point and Redmond, in all of which school community canneries will be operated this summer, are to attend the Wednesday - through - Saturday school this week.

These community canneries are stimulating food production, eliminating waste and providing opportunities for training people to more efficiently plan, produce and process their family food supply, according to Earl R. Cooley, state supervisor of vocational agriculture in charge of the community cannery program.

Belgium and Germany, and from Italian bases at rail junctions in northern Italy.

As the onslaught roared through its 29th day, it closed a week in which there was hardly a single hour when allied bombers were not exploding on Nazi-held soil. So many targets were hit in the past seven days that to record an accurate total was almost impossible.

The Luftwaffe, which lost 150 planes Friday, again sent up swarms of fighters to challenge bombers raiding Tutow and other long distance objectives from the west today, but many refused battle and Americans hitting Osnabruck met scarcely any opposition.

The Italy-based planes, which roamed the skies unchallenged yesterday, encountered only very slight resistance, and the Swiss radio quoted an Italy report as saying traffic had been interrupted on the Brenner railway line by the latest allied blow.

Bishop Puts Suspension On Orlemanski

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 13 (AP)—Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski, Polish-American priest suspended by his bishop upon his return from a Moscow conference with Premier Stalin, said today he would celebrate mass in his home-parish tomorrow as usual and declared he was "being crucified for my church."

Only a short time after Bishop Thomas M. O'Leary of the Springfield diocese stripped him of his priestly privileges, Father Orlemanski announced he was appealing the suspension order to the apostolic delegate in Washington. Bishop O'Leary's suspension order suggested that Father Orlemanski go to a monastery for the duration of the suspension. Other chancery officials declined speculation on what action might be taken in the event the Polish-American priest celebrated mass in his own church tomorrow.

Late today the delegation at Washington reported that the Springfield priest had "never" contacted them, and added that "like every diocesan priest, he is directly subject to his bishop."

Father Orlemanski explained to newspapermen at a press conference that his appeal automatically invalidated the suspension order and made it possible for him to carry on his parish duties pending action by Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, the apostolic delegate.

New Radio Company Buys LaGrande Station

KLAMATH FALLS, May 13 (AP)—Purchase of radio station KLBM at La Grande, subject to approval of the federal communications commission, was announced today by Marshall Cornett and Lee Jacobs.

They recently acquired radio station KBKR at Baker and have organized Inland Radio, Inc., to operate their stations in north-eastern Oregon.

Ben E. Stone, Marshfield, is the present operator of KLBM.

Canning Sugar Will Be Sold In 2 Periods

WASHINGTON, May 13-(AP)—To provide even distribution of home canning sugar through the season, the office of price administration today directed its district offices to set up two rationing periods and limited the amount housewives may obtain in each period.

The overall allotment of 25 pounds a person for home canning remains the same, with 5 pounds available through use of sugar stamp 40 from ration book 4 and 20 pounds through application to local rationing boards. But under the new arrangement housewives who have not already obtained the latter allotment will get only 10 pounds now and 10 in the second period. Stamp 40 may be used at any time.

Each district OPA office will divide the season in accordance with crop harvest dates in the area. Families which do not claim their 10-pound grants in the first period may receive 20-pound allotments in the second if the application justifies that total, OPA said.

The agency said the new provision should not be interpreted as reflecting tighter supplies of sugar but rather as a precautionary measure against maldistribution which could cause crop spoilage in the late summer.

porting activities." Spencer said the classification of every registrant aged 18 through 37 who is in class I-A, I-AO, or 4-E will be reviewed and if the local board determines that he is regularly engaged in an activity in war production or in support of the national health, safety or interest, it will reopen his classification and classify him anew.

All registrants, regardless of age, who are physically or mentally disqualified for general service will be placed in class II-A or II-B, provided they are regularly engaged in an activity in support of the national health, safety or interest or war production.

A federal employe cannot be deferred unless there is an official government request.

DAN HARMON FOR CONGRESS

The Republican party expects to get our country out of this mess, but it can't do so by reelecting the same old crowd of lawyer-politicians who got us into the alphabetical soup. To be progressive, the Republican Party must get the "old timers" out and put some progressive men in Congress. DAN HARMON is such a man. He is successful.

DAN HARMON believes in thrift, hard work and honesty, as a foundation of progressive action. In Congress do we want success or seniority?

Congress has been full of seniority (men too old to put up a good fight) for years—let us try success instead of seniority for a change.

Take a look at the voter's pamphlet and listen to DAN HARMON speak over KOM every Thursday at 8:15 P. M.
