

Huskies Bag Track Title

Whits, Idaho Far Back in NW Fiesta

WALLA WALLA, May 20 (AP)—The University of Washington Huskies romped off with the northwest intercollegiate track and field championship at Borleske stadium today, winning 12 out of 15 first places and running up a score nearly double that of Whitman, second place team.

The final tally showed Washington 88½, Whitman 44½ and University of Idaho 22.

With ideal weather prevailing, the favored Huskies went into the lead on the second event and were never headed, taking both first and second place in six events and chalking up the two best individual marks of the afternoon.

These were the javelin, which Keith DeCourcy of Washington tossed 189 feet 7 inches for a new stadium record, and the 100-yard dash in which Evert Pitman of the Huskies tied the stadium mark of 9.9 seconds.

It remained for Idaho's Jay Gano, however, to achieve the high individual total for the day with 12 points, barely nosing out four other competitors for top honors. Gano won both the high jump and broad jump and placed third in the low hurdle race.

Took Away Hot Stuff - Got More of Same

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—Cuban Roberto Estallella of Mr. Mack's Athletics took some of the Cuban hot stuff out of his diet this spring—and now it's in his legs and arms.

Mr. Mack affirms that Roberto is not only hot but also the "most improved" player in the major leagues.

Last year the chunky little neighbor hit .259. Now he's doing .343. Last year he threw a bit like the star of the Paoli girls' softball team, now he's fast, accurate and smooth. Last year he often misjudged the ball in flight. Now his judgment is tops.

"It's fruit that did it," said Mr. Mack. "Fruit and changing his playing position. He never played center field before. The position is made for him."

Roberto, before the renaissance, was an infielder, with occasional forays into left field.

Junior Ball List Zooms Over Hundred Mark

The town's American Legion Junior baseball revivors needn't worry about the kids turning out for the proposed pre-team league, not even a little bit. For yesterday, the third day the "poll" was open at Maple's sports store, saw the list of aspirants sail over the 100 mark. And talking for granted that all signees are anxious to take a full-fledged whack at trying to make the ultimate Junior nine, that's enough for at least six teams and maybe eight. Since there is one more day to sign up, however, the list is expected to bulge even more by time the team sponsors gather again Monday night at 7:30.

Included in yesterday's sign-up were seven professed outfielders, 10 infielders, three catchers and four pitchers. A number of problems are expected to be ironed out Monday night by the sponsors. Means of player segregation, appointment of team managers and coaches, date of player-sponsor meeting, number of games to be played and where and decisions on uniforms, contracts, etc., are up for discussion. Kids who have signed up are asked to stand by until called. The league playing season will get under way just as soon as possible, and all signees will be given a chance toward making the proposed Capital post no. 2 entry.

Those who signed on yesterday, and their ages: Bill Schlemmer 14; Andy Zahare 17; Les Stevens 17; Marvin Strode 15; Johnny Stark 15; Jack McConville 14; Sanford Weinstein 13; Earl Sachs 14; Warren Osborne 13; Merrill McLeod 16; Bert Ashleman 13; Don Kerber 14; Tommy Jura 13; Carlton Houck 14; Dave Chamberlain 14; Corky Shafer 13; Ray Gunn 15; Bill James 14; Allen Miller 13; Norm Dalke 17; Stanley Wilkes 17; Bob Charleston 17; Bill Fasnacht 14; Wayne Houser 15.
