

Miss Helen Pedersen Married

The First Christian church in McMinnville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Helen Marie Pedersen, of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pedersen of McMinnville, and Mr. Richard Carroll Eloffson, of Salem, son of Mrs. Elsie Eloffson of Bismark, North Dakota, on Sunday, May 14. Rev. S. J. Osborne read the 2 o'clock rites. Mrs. Lonnie Salyer sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mrs. George Lindsay was the accompanist.

For her wedding the bride chose a white brocaded satin gown fashioned with a full skirt which ended in a short train. The sleeves were long and the neckline was sweetheart shape, and embellished with pearl clips. She wore a locket, a gift of the groom. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip length tulle veil in place. She carried a white bible with a white orchid and satin streamers. Mr. Pedersen gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Dorothy Eloffson of Bismark was the maid of honor and Mrs. Jack Sather of Corvallis was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Jean Mortensen, Miss Goldie Ross, Miss Anna King and Miss Donna Williams. Miss Eloffson wore yellow marquisette with a matching headress and Mrs. Sather's dress was ice blue. The bridesmaids wore yellow and pink frocks fashioned with full net skirts and taffeta bodices made with puffed sleeves and sweetheart necklines. They wore short veils to match their dresses and the girls all carried nosegays of lilies of the valley and pink rosebuds.

Mr. Russel Kanz of Salem was best man for Mr. Eloffson and ushers were Mr. Dale Smith of Salem, Mr. Virgil Fleetwood and Mr. John Cockerham of McMinnville.

Mrs. Pedersen chose a two-piece orchid afternoon dress with fuchsia hat and gloves for her daughter's marriage. Mrs. Eloffson, who came from Bismark for her son's wedding, wore an orchid dress, black hat with fuchsia trim and fuchsia gloves.

A reception was held in the church parlors and Miss Betty Eloffson of Salem cut the bride's cake. Pouring were the Misses Gladys Quesseth, Joanne Donaldson, Lois Redisol and Marian Boyle. Mrs. L. Burnham passed the groom's cake. After the reception a dinner in honor of the newlyweds was held in the dining room of the chamber of commerce. Covers were placed for 90 guests and the tables were decorated with snapdragons, tulips and spiraea.

Serving were the bridesmaids, assisted by Miss Jacieline Hartzell and Miss Alice Jean Fink. Assisting about the rooms were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pedersen, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Pedersen, Mr. Soren Pedersen all of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lay and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pedersen of McMinnville.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Salem. The new Mrs. Eloffson is a graduate of McMinnville schools and later attended St. Helen's Hall Junior college. She is a past worthy advisor of the Rainbow Girls in McMinnville. Mr. Eloffson received his education in Bismark and is now with the Southern Pacific railroad in Salem.

Don't Look Now..

but... This seems to be a Hawthorne spring, we don't believe we have ever noticed this beautiful tree blooming in such profusion before in Salem.

Signs of spring... It's here for sure, we saw a young boy with a shaved head just like in the old days!

Speaking of hair... we were wondering at the significance of an ad in a newspaper, smuggled down among the political advertisements that read "Avoid gray hair," etc. and the other right nearby that admonished the reader "No need to lie, abed, toss, worry and fret, use our product, etc."

Sales talk... If they need blood donors, why doesn't the Red Cross advertise that angel pie they serve sometimes after the Tuesday blood-letting ceremonies. We haven't tasted any, but if it's half as good as we have heard, people will fight for a chance to receive this reward for a mere pint of blood.

Old home week... Going through Oregon City recently, we glimpsed two familiar figures—our old friends the "pencil sellers"—sitting on the sidewalk, just across the street from each other in a chummy sort of way. If we had had a couple of pencils we would have gone into business too, things seemed so prosperous.

A rainy day... The weather looked bad for awhile, for the boys who went to Silverton for the Boy Scouts' annual Camperino, but we can tell them one thing—we have slept many a time in a sleeping bag under the sky—we can't recall a single specific night under a clear sky, but you can bet we haven't forgotten the times it rained all night! ...
