John has just finished his freshman year at Independence high school. The club chose him at the meeting Tuesday evening of the Independence chamber of commerce.

The chamber of commerce and the Jersey Cattle club alternate each year in giving a calf to an FFA member. Last year the chamber presented the prize to George Noyes.

Committee in charge of the presentation of the calf this year consisted of John Lindow, N. M. Tibbles, C. J. Jenkins and Victor Bride of the Cattle club and Dr. M. J. Butler, Paul E. Robinson and William Darling of the chamber of commerce. After the seven members of the committee had cast their votes, Lindow, who is also president of the Cattle club, presented the calf to Peterson.

Other members of the FFA who had qualified for the calf were Loren Tibbles, Edward Brown and Floyd Patton. Edward Brown was presented with the cup given by the First National bank to the most outstanding FFA student at the high school commencement exercises.

Sixteen New Members Received

BETHEL—Voted into the membership of Bethel local of the Farmers Union of the Monday night meeting were Byron Garrison and Percy J. Kleeman, both of route six; and R. A. Theodore G. Nelson discussed the Murray-Wagner-Dingell bill, and emphasized that self-employed farmers are not protected under the present social security set-up, as are those who work for others, adding that he believes that the Farmer Union leaders should be urged to secure for farmers the same benefits as are available to those who are hired to work for others. Nelson also reported that the new producer-consumer coop market will open in the building at 13th and State street as soon as the tenants vacate.

A. C. Spranger of the cooperative committee, reported that a new Farmer Union cooperative store has been opened in Corvallis, and will be under the same general management as the Salem, Newberg and Woodburn stores.

A. J. Mader of the agricultural committee, stated that all farmers have their 1944 triple A programs signed and in the office by June 10. Rev. S. Hamrick, Ralph A. Wilson and W. L. Creech have visited other locals and have done educational work for the coop hospital. Much follow-up work is needed if gas were available.

Hamrick and Roy Marshand spoke on the problem of the sea lions on the Oregon coast. It has been estimated that these animals, are eating more salmon than all the people of Washington and Oregon. It was stated that sea lions are not good for oil or blubber and that their hides are valueless; and that they are protected only by state law which should be repealed, and a bounty given to those who would rid the coast of them. Marshand stated that while fishing in the bay at Waldport he saw a sea lion kill seven salmon in one forenoon.

Frank Beutler, member of Central Howell local, was a visitor and made a short talk. Plans were made for attending the Marion county convention which will be held in the Farmers Union building on North Commercial street, Salem, at 8 o'clock the night of July 1.
