Schedule Revised Singer Clears

'Softy' Muddle Lu Singer, acting Salem City softhall league director, an-nounced yesterday that the Salem Air Base Pigeoneers' request-ed withdrawal from the loop had been officially accepted, and that the circuit would continue play him on a five-team setup.

It was also ruled that the Pa permakers' victory over the GI crew July 5th shall not count in five feet, seven inches in height, out clubs which are listed on the try's species. original schedule as opponents of the Air Base nine will receive a

> The decisions were announced by Singer in order to clarify a muddle of controversy among players and team managers concerning the future schedules of the wheel. The revised five-team schedule opens Wednesday when Mcple's Sporting Goods faces Keith Brown on Olinger field and Papermakers meet Willamette university on the latter's home dia-mond. Both games are billed for 6 p. m. and no admission will be charged to either.

> The remainder of the second half schedule: July 26-Willamette vs. Maple's at Sweetland; Golden Pheasant vs. Papermakers at Olinger: August 2-Maple's vs. Papermakers at Olinger; Golden Pheasant vs. Keith Brown at Leslie.

Band Music Lends Culture To 'Y' Camp

SILVER CREEK YMCA CAMP - When "Y" campers come home, if they insist in tuning in all the symphony programs their families may begin to understand the elevated tastes for music which may be cultivated by such an organization as the Silver Creek branch of McNamara's band.

Organized by the camp pianist, Mrs. Kathleen (Jenny) Wren, the band brings together the musical talent of senior leaders and other adult personnel here. It made its debut here Wednesday night, parading around the mess hall, then assembling and playing the number that made McNamara's name famous through all the land.

Ralph Eggstaff danced an Irish jig and the boys joined the band in singing. Members of the band are Mrs. Wren, pianist and organizer; Everett Lisle, conductor and artiste on the musical comb; Mrs. Eggstaff, majorette; Harold Davis, barker, bones and musical comb; Warren Nowowiejski, zulaphone (garden hose, funnel and coffee pot); Ralph Eggstaff, glassaphone and jigger; Dean Booster, cymbals (base since most of the camp period they serve as potlids); Jess Goodheart, drums (deep pots); Mary Rask, wash-board, and Mary Zenor, toy floot. Senior and junior leaders, aided by Mrs. Eggstaff as pitcher, played the boys' champions at softball Wednesday night. Captain of the champions, who retained their championship by a 10-7 vic-tory, is Glen Garrett.

Dr. Herman Clark, in the camp fire address following the game, spoke on the geology of Silver creek. The following morning 40 hikers took the trail to the falls where they observed the rock formations of which he had spoken.

The second group of Thursday morning hikers, 52, with Ralph Eggstaff in charge, and Glen Garrett breaking trail, began the upward trek which eventually brought them out above the head of Silver creek. There they had a birdseye view of the new beaver dam across the head waters of Silver creek. Using binoculars they could observe the beavers at work.

Only distractions here are caused by the Guggenheimers that roam at night and by puzzled tenderfeet who cannot find lefthanded monkey wrenches.

Henry, White Slug to Draw

HOLLYWOOD, July 15-(47) 25,000,000 miles on anti - sub-Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles, and Luther "Slugger" White, Ath-ens, Ga., fought a draw Friday night after ten wild perpetual-motion rounds unmarred by a single clinch. Armstrong, at 136½, weighed the lighest of any of his comeback battles. White tipped the scales at 141.

Armstrong, employing his usual aggressive, rushing tactics, landed the harder blows, but White hit his man oftener. Both used hooks and uppercuts at close range to pile up their points, but neither was able to score a knockdown. Henry's best round was the seventh, in which he pinioned White on the ropes and whaled away solidly for nearly two full min-
