Food List — The 40 basic food items which all restaurants in this OPA district must post by August 16 were tentatively selected this week at the first meeting of the 18-member district restaurant advisory committee, held in Portland. Joe Randall of Salem is a member of the committee, which is headed by Larry Hilaire. On the basis of this list, McDannell Brown, district OPA director, will determine the official list to be posted in all restaurants and public eating places in the district with their April 4 to 10, 1943, base ceiling prices.

More Use Library — City library patronage, which commenced to drop at the beginning of the war, if measured on a books-loaned basis, started an upswing in February of this year and has continued each month since. Acting Librarian Neva LeBlond has announced. The period of less book borrowing was common in libraries throughout the country and the upswing has been on a percentage similar to that noted in many other cities, Miss LeBlond declares.

Jefferson Senior Class Holds Picnic Party

JEFFERSON — Members of the senior class of Jefferson high school held a wiener roast Saturday night on the banks of the Santiam river at the Leo Weddle home.

Special guests were Helen Sneider and Earl Marum. He is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., and both are former members of the class. Some of the class are away and could not be present. About 20 young people were present for the wiener roast and social time.

17-Year-Old Navy Quota Increased

Welcome news for navy-minded 17-year-oldsters was contained in an announcement this week by A. C. Friesen of the Salem navy recruiting station that an enlarged quota for enlistments from this age group has been opened by the navy for the immediate future.

The recruiter urged that young men who previously have applied for naval enlistment but who have not yet been accepted because of quotas in effect recently, visit the navy recruiting station at once for completion of enlistment procedure.

It is not known, the recruiter pointed out, how long the currently expanded quota for 17-year-olds will remain in effect. These youths must apply far enough in advance of their 18th birthday to allow for completion of enlistment before they become subject to selective service at the age of 18, after which time they are not eligible for voluntary enlistment in the navy or any other military service branch.

In announcing the newly enlarged enlistment quota, the recruiter also pointed out that the opportunity for 17-year-olds to qualify for the navy's radio technician program—a type of training which involves intensive and valuable education in the field of modern high frequency—still is open.

Friesen invited young men interested in this opportunity to visit the local station where they may be given a test to determine whether they can qualify for "RT" training. Those who can qualify may be enlisted with the advanced rating of seaman first class. Men of other ages, up to a maximum of 50½ years, also may take this test.

Old Friends Visit Turner

TURNER — The O. A. Warren family was surprised last week by old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner of Bremerton, Wash. They knew each other in Turtle Lake, ND, and had not met for 22 years.

Mrs. Faye Webb and daughters were in Albany Saturday.

London Poles Consider Trip To Moscow

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—Poland's lonely London government—exiled by enemy occupation and ignored by the Russians—may send its peasant-born premier, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, to Moscow to seek a friendly compromise with premier-marshall Stalin.

A merger with the Soviet-supported Polish national liberation committee appeared to be the chief hope of the London administration to obtain a voice in the early stages of restoring the parts of its native land liberated by the Red army.

Twice during the day the Polish cabinet met for long discussions following conferences between premier Mikolajczyk and prime minister Churchill and foreign secretary Anthony Eden, and, although its decision was kept a secret, it was learned that the advisability of a Russian visit by the premier was the chief subject of the meeting.

It was highly probable that the cabinet was drafting a letter to the state department at Washington and to the British Foreign office asking them to sound out Moscow on the proposal.

Jap Patrols Probe Lines

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday, July 27 (AP)—Small Japanese patrols are trying to break through American lines across the Dintum river on the Aitape front in British New Guinea, headquarters announced today.

The Japanese attempting to break westward out of the positions in which they have been trapped in the Wewak area are probing the American southern flank, headquarters said. Far to the west in northwestern Dutch New Guinea fighter planes and patrol torpedo boats raised havoc with the Japanese base of Manokwari, damaging barges, fuel dumps, trucks and bivouac areas.

30 Year Old Light Bulb Still Burns Briskly

McMINNVILLE, July 26 (AP)—An electric light bulb purchased 30 years ago in Denver is burning briskly today.

Mrs. R. A. Ryder found the bulb in an old trunk during a house-cleaning bout, and promptly tried it out.

"It works better," she decided, "than the bulbs being sold today."

50 Persons to Attend Eugene CIO Conference

EUGENE, July 26 (AP)—Fifty delegates from the Pacific coast will attend the semi-annual convention of the CIO International Woodworkers of America's plywood, box shock and door council here July 28-29.

This is a carburetor

The job of an egg beater is to mix things. And that's exactly the job of your carburetor... mixing about 10 thousand gallons of air into every gallon of gasoline your engine uses.

When that "egg beater" under the hood gets out of adjustment, your car bucks. Or chokes itself to death when you suddenly step on the gas. Or goes phfft in traffic, while a line of morons in back of you lean on their horns.

Now Shell isn't in the carburetor tinkering business, but we can help the carburetor stay healthy. We do it by removing the goo from another gadget—the air cleaner.

This device perches on the top of the carburetor trapping the dust and bugs floating in those 10,000 gallons of air so they won't clog up the carburetor. But when the air cleaner itself gets clogged your engine breathes-in harmful grit and stuff, causing real damage.

Shell people have a knack with air cleaners. And they also know all about Shelllubrication... a service designed to prevent your car from joining the 150,000 that are junked every month by Wartime Stop and Go driving.

Plant Plans Nearly Ready

Plans for construction of a $99,500 milk processing plant in Salem for the Dairy Cooperative association will be ready within another week, W. W. Henry, the co-op's manager in Portland, has announced.

Described as a farmers' enterprise, the building will be a two-story structure covering an area 150 by 157 feet. Tentative plans call for a tile and concrete inlay on the building exterior and tile finished floors.

Much of the equipment used in the Salem plant on South Commercial street will be moved into the new building on an adjacent site, but approximately $36,000 worth of new machinery will be purchased, Henry said.

Young Baby Abandoned In Portland Theater

PORTLAND, July 26 (AP)—The three-week-old girl abandoned in a Portland theatre Saturday will not remain unclaimed, the superintendent of Oregon Protective Society predicted today.

Elda Russell said she expected the mother, following the pattern of similar cases, to return eventually for the child when she is in a position to care for her.

Answering a flood of long distance calls and letters from prospective adopters, Miss Russell warned that "no one can adopt the child for many weeks to come," because of technicalities.

Serious Tire Shortage Faces Oregon Trucking

PORTLAND, July 26 (AP)—A motor official asserted today that a scarcity of tires will force 25 percent of this area's trucks off the road by August 1 and 50 percent by September 1.

Lee Stidd, secretary of the Oregon Motor Transport association, declared that only an immediate supply of tires could prevent a breakdown of truck transportation here. One firm, he said, already has garaged 12 trucks.
