From where I sit... by Joe Marsh.
What Made Our Invasion a Success?
With 67 blue stars on our Service Flag, our town's been mighty excited over the way things are progressing on the Continent.
"Shucks," says Bob Newcomb happily, "I knew we were going to lick them Nazis, soon as the Invasion started."
"I knew it before that," says Doc Hollister. "I knew it from the way our boys were getting along with their British buddies in those English camps. They had a lot of differences to overcome before they could work together as a team. And they overcame 'em."
And that spirit of tolerance and understanding between men and nations will go far towards building a secure peace, too.

Hershey Praises Local Draft Boards at Rotary Club Lunch

When you can get local men to settle the most difficult question in the world, get them to work for nothing and feed themselves, then local communities should be able to settle the problems of peace.

This belief, which has grown out of his work with local selective service boards, was expressed as the final tribute to those boards by the director himself, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, in a speech before Salem Rotary club Wednesday noon.

The problems of the "head man" in the business of taking men from civilian life to make soldiers and sailors of them seemed to set lightly on General Hershey, or he had developed a defense against the hard features of his wartime assignment.

Always have someone else to blame, was the gist of his explanation.

"When the settlement is appealed directly to Washington, the appellant is told first to seek relief through state and regional boards. Many will be discouraged by that time and give up."

"However," he added, "I am strongly in favor of the right of appeal, and many must be encouraged to use it."

"The farmers were hard hit but we seem to still have food. We could not get potatoes for a while, but they are fattening anyway. I have been told a lot about the business houses which were going to be closed up, padlocked if I went ahead, but I have heard of no great rush for padlocks."

"We have built an army three times as large and a navy six times as large as in the last war, and have rejected more than were taken in the last war."

General Hershey was introduced as a "fellow Rotarian from Indiana", and he extended greetings from his home club to Salem members and assured them if they had the right map they could find the town. He then proceeded to talk lightly of his work, giving a humorous turn to many a serious problem.

Right Ideas Declared Vital By Col. Willis

"Right ideas are more powerful than swords or guns and we were on God's side," Col. Percy Willis told Rotary club members Wednesday in explaining victories of US armies in 1863, 1898 and in 1918.

In 1865 and 1898 the opponents were beaten and admitted it, but in 1918 Germany lost the bar but was not beaten, and began to prepare for another war, the speaker said in explaining the present conflict.

Col. Willis is a retired army officer and served in the Spanish American war and the first world war. Col. Carle Abrams introduced him.

Miss Katherine Broer played two violin numbers. She was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Broer.

Final Arguments Due Today In Colorado Treason Case

DENVER, Aug. 9.—(AP)—With all testimony in, government and defense attorneys lined up their legal artillery tonight to clash in final arguments tomorrow over the guilt or innocence of three Japanese sisters charged with treason.

US District Attorney Thomas J. Morrissey predicted the case will be handed to a federal court jury before noon.

None of the sisters—Mrs. Tsunuko "Toots" Wallace, 35; Mrs. Florence "Flo" Shizue Otani, 33, and Mrs. Billie Shitara Tanigoshi, 32—testified in rebuttal of charges that they provided the means by which two German prisoners of war escaped from the Trinidad, Colo, internment camp. The break was made by Heinrich Haider and Herman August Loescher, both 31, former members of the routed Afrika Korps, last Oct. 16. They were recaptured two days later and testified against the sisters.

Only 3 Witnesses
Defense Attorney Kenneth Robinson summoned only three witnesses in contrast to a list of approximately 20 paraded before the jury by the prosecution.

He decided not to put the defendants on the stand, he explained, because the government already had made a major point for the defense. This, Robinson said, was Haider's testimony that he fled the camp to fight the Nazis whom he said he had opposed in the Austrian underground before being drafted into the German army.

The lawyer claimed that this proved the Shitara sisters had no intention of aiding an enemy power.
