How American Taxpayers Were Saved

$60,000,000

on Harbor Tugs and Equipment

EARLY in the war there developed a tremendous need for tugs and power units to help speed delivery of supplies and equipment to millions of our fighting officers and men throughout the world.

In cooperation with the Army and Navy, our Chrysler Division, which had been building marine engines for many years, developed a marine tractor and a harbor tug (called the "Sea Mule"). We built them quickly and in large quantities, both of which were very important to the armed forces—and at a saving of $60,000,000 to American Taxpayers as compared to the cost of alternate equipment.
