Stocks Make Late Flurry

NEW YORK, Aug. 16-(AP)-Investors overcame their reconversion jitters today and, in a lasthour flurry, boosted stock market bids for a broad group of industrials led by steels.

Top-flight rails, utilities and specialties also attracted support

Gains ranged from major fractions to more than a point for many prominent issues.

The upturn followed speculative flurries that earlier had given a lift to a handful of motor and air line shares. The forepart of the session saw considerable reluctance to buy the usual favorites as the rapid allied advance through France heightened thoughts of what an early nazi defeat might mean to industry.

Of 850 issues dealt in, 496 advanced, 212 were unchanged and 142 declined. The Associated Press 60-stock average bounded .3 of a point to 55.1, the best level since

Prices in the bond division rose selectively, with reorganization rails featured.

Peterson Raps OPA Refusal

PORTLAND, Aug. 16.-(AP)-Erwin L. Peterson, state director of agriculture, was quoted by a Portland paper today as criticizing the office of price administration for refusing to declare an emergency point holiday on lamb meat.

The paper has taken up editorially complaints of growers and others that point rationing has peak production period.

Community Cannery Inspected

On a recent tour of five school community canneries with the state Swan Island's food production war training committee, this group observed the completed cook of 170 cans of beans in one of the four large pres sure cookers in the Salem Community cannery located in the Bonesteele building, 3050 Portland road, Salem. More than 1300 home makers processed their winter's canned food supply in this cannery last year. Left to right, the inspectors are Frank B. Bennett, super-intendent of Salem public schools; Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction; O. I. Paulson, state director of vocational ed- the launching of the SS Swan Isucation, and William McKinney, vocational agriculture teacher.

Industrial Payrolls in Oregon Double That of All Others

Industrial payrolls in Oregon last year amounted to more than half the total of all payrolls in the state, unemployment compensation commission offices indicated this week.
