Gram the BLEACHERS

Here-today-gong-tomorrow: Woe is the state "Pen" ball clubright when it was back to the enjoyable plane with the days of fabulous Big Luke Crosswhite, thanks to gents like Cecil "Lefty" Ross Manager Bill Williamson, Johnny Hoffert, et al, along comes a parole for rubber-armed Ross and he quits the team August 23. And since the lefty has proven to be quite capable as No. 1 mound successor to Crosswhite for Warden George Alexander's flock, the loss hurts the ballgamers plenty . . . Odd thing about Ross: Since he could well qualify for Don Upjohn's BF & BA society, he says he can pitch much better when he parks the store clackers in his pocket and goes at the enemy toothless. A handsome guy-when he's wearing the choppers . . . And here's a plug for another lefthander, this one Rollie Ott of the

of spotting youthful talent in the raw . . . Back to Ross, he pitches his last game for OSP Sunday afternoon, the finale of the season for the Grays, too . . . Back home at Corvallis the other day resting off results of marine "boot" training in San Diego were Privates Frank Ramsey and Alan Anderson, two favorite Spartan and Beaver sons formerly, Jumbo Frank as OSC lineman and later Spartan coach before going to Klamath Falls, Anderson as all-around Spartan whiz under Ramsey and last winter high-scoring hoopster for "Slats" Gill. Both went through boot camp together and came together. And they say Ramsey is now down to around the 230 mark from 280 . . . The marines have a way of landing on big things for sure . . . Folks in the know got quite a bang out of Promoter Ira Pilcher wearing glasses during the lightheavy rasslin' show Tuesday night-but then, he may have had a headache—a big one . . . Re the lightheavies, Jack "Pin-up Boy" Kiser, the pretty boy who comes near being to the girlies a Sinatra in tights, has been accepted by the navy but is not due for call until sometime in November . . . Which doesn't make th rasslin' customers

"The Angel" on Next Heavyweight Show

Next heavyweight wrestling show for the village is set for Friday night, August 25, clarions Promoter Ira Pilcher, and headlining the shindig will be none other than Maurice Tillet, the French "Angel." Mastodonic Maurice, out of this world when it comes to handsomeness and certainly well behind the door when the looks were passed out, comes back after a year's absence. In his first showing in the town last August, freak Maurice packed 'em in and sent 'em home certain they wouldn't stray near dark alleys.

No opponent yet named for the "Angel", but that brings up a wee surprise. Most of the rasslin' customers are aware of the ill-feeling amongst the lightheavy flock since Pilcher brought the heavies around, and naturally the Owen & Co. troupe aims to do something about it. Nothing drastic, mind you, merely efforts to show the folks the 180pounders are more palatable than the bean-bellied biggies. Then on a 35. the other hand, same biggies will be attempting reasons why it should shows for the customers, since one side will be hustling to outshine

M'seur Tillet Will Be Challenged

But here's where the surprise comes in: The night the Angel climbs through the armory ropes will be the same night which sees either Paavo "King Kong" Katonen or Tony Morelli, both lightheavy peers, Katonen at present the Pacific Coach champion, advance to the pit to challenge Mr. Tillet. So bad is the blood between the two wrestling groups that Katonen, who weighs 178 pounds stripped, stopped by to tell us the other day, "I'll have $500 dollars wit me which says dat beeg bom 'The Angel) can't throw me once in an hour, and I'll wressle him all d'way, too!"

To which Lightheavy Matchmaker Don Owen added a certain and serious "aye aye" and claimed he'd actually have Katonen here that night dressed in his fightin' togs ready to make the challenge publicly after paying his way in! Whether the 280-pound Angel will accept is another thing, but Owen & Co., dead set on ousting the heavies, figures a fruitless evening by M'seur Tillet against such as Katonen, and he's sure it'll be fruitless for Maurice, is quite an ousting weapon.

As yet we haven't Heavyweight Promoter Ira Pilcher's reaction to all this and it'll come as a surprise to him. But it's fact. Owen insists the night The Angel is here is the night Katonen comes, too, and to challenge the Frenchman who is so tough to beat. The Angel is due August 25-next Friday night.

Craig Wood, Sammy Byrd Knocked Out

Nelson, McSpaden Score Breezy Wins

By RUSS NEWLAND SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 17-(P)-While the two tournament hot shots breezed through to easy vic-tories, two other name players were tumbled out of competition today to provide the upsets of sec-ond round matches of the 1944 Na-tional P.G.A. golf championship. Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., and Harold McSpaden, Philadelphia, raced through their 36-hole match-es, the former walloping Mark Fry, Oakland, 7 and 6, and McSpaden taking the measure of Fred Annon, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 8 and 7. Their wins were expected, therefore it was just so much routine, but the dumping of duration U.S. open champion Craig Wood, of Mamaroneck and Sam Byrd, of Detroit, Mich., furnished the thrills for a gallery that numbered more than three thousand fans. Art Bell, lanky San Francisco power hitter, ousted Wood by a 3 and 2 count. It was no more surprising than the 2 and 1 posted for Charles Congdon, Tacoma, Wash, over Byrd, the ex-New York Yankee outfielder. Byrd and Wood, incidentally, are the third and fourth highest money winners for the year, trailing McSpaden and Nelson.

Nelson fired his fourth consec tive 69, against the par 72 Manito course in his mroning round with Fry, yet held only a 1 up lead be-cause of his rival's 71. The Oaklander had a blow-up, which in-cluded a streak of hooked drives, on the third nine, when Nelson built up a five-hole margin. Mc-Spaden ran away from Annon with a 4 up lead at the 9th; 5 up 188th with 70 shots and 7 up at Another upset, not quite as spectacular as the others, saw George Schneiter, Salt Lake City, bang out a 4 and 3 victory over Toney Penna, Dayton, O. They were even at the 18th, with sub-par 70s. Schneiter continued the pace with

Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y., beat 1936 national open champ, Tony Manero, Stamford, Conn., 4 and 3, his 69 to Manero's 74 gave him a 5 up advantage at the 18th and he clung to it to the
