

OCE Is Closed For Vacation

Training School Will Open September 25, Classes October 2

MONMOUTH, Aug. 19—Oregon College of Education is closing this week for a vacation extending to October 2, the date of freshman registration. The training school which is the local grade school, and the high school will start Sept. 25. No eighth grade teacher has been hired yet. Retained supervisors and teachers are Dora Scheffke, Esther Bonnicksen, Neva Dallas, Elizabeth Radar, Ruth McClure. Mrs. Vannie Dewey, Monmouth, has been elected to teach third grade.

A. C. Stanbrough is again principal of the high school. The teaching staff is not complete. Mrs. Thomas Coleman will again have the department of home economics.

Announcement from the college placement service bureau states that the last 1944 graduate has been placed this week in a teaching position. All of the current year graduates have contracts to teach in graded schools except one girl, who has taken a rural school near her home. Salaries for beginning teachers this year run from $1485 to $2,000, with an average of between $1650 and $1750.

There are some vacancies throughout the state in both graded and rural schools, and there is demand for well qualified teachers. A few people who are still working for emergency certification, will be available as teachers this fall. Summer school attendance total 233, a 25 per cent increase over last year's total of 186.

The entire custodian staff of the college is taking a two week vacation starting next Monday. Both the Monmouth and Independence training schools have been renovated and minor alterations made preparatory to the opening of school. A contract has been let to Judd Beardsley of Salem to waterproof the administration building of the college.

Godey's Lady Book Rare Find in Paper Salvage Drive

Monmouth Home Associated With Famous Oregon Names, Yields Very Old Magazines

By Beulah Craven
Statesman News Correspondent

MONMOUTH, Aug. 19—The paper drive underway here this month has netted close to eight tons of paper, and has brought to light some old magazines and papers which are in the class of collector's items.

Probably the richest "loot" discovered by Boy Scouts and W. J. Stockholm, paper-drive chairman, were found in the old Stump-Campbell home on corner of North Monmouth avenue and Jackson streets. This house, one of the largest private homes in town, was built by Mr. and Mrs. David Stump about 70 years ago. In the intervening years additional rooms and wings were added, until it grew to some 20 rooms with numerous closets, many of almost room-size. There are three stories and three stairways; a huge porch, an upper balcony; and a large sun porch.

Some notable people have been housed in this now empty home. The late John B. Stump, noted livestock man and farmer, spent much of his boyhood there. Thomas F. Campbell, one of the early presidents of Christian college—now Oregon College of Education—married Mary Ann Stump and they made this house their home. Their son, David S. Campbell, Portland pianist, grew to manhood there. Prince L. Campbell, son of Thomas Campbell by a former marriage, and who was a long-time president of the University of Oregon, lived several years in the house. Miss Cassie Stump, sister of John B. Stump and Mrs. Thomas Campbell, lived most of her 85 years in the old home. After her passing, its ownership went to her niece, Miss Agnes Campbell.

Hundreds of pounds of old magazines and newspapers have been salvaged from those silent rooms, indicating the tastes of a family which read widely of the best periodicals.

Stockholm noted dates on many of the magazines, some of which have long ceased publication. An old Godey Lady's Book dated 1849; a Harper's 1847; Christian Monitor, 1875; Appleton's Journal, 1879; Arthur's Lady's Home Magazine, 1871; Demorest's Family Magazine, 1894; Harper's 1900; Harper's New Monthly Magazine, 1855; Scribner's, 1860; Frank Leslie's Illustrated Almanac, 1876; Review of Reviews, 1894; Junior Builders, 1900; Cosmopolitan, 1894—when it sold at $1.50, the yearly subscription—Vick's Illustrated Monthly, 1885.

Other magazines include The Outlook; Century; North American Review; The Chatsquis; Atlantic; Saturday Evening Post; Delineator; and Collier's.

From the home of Mrs. Columbus Tetherow 1039 pounds was secured. The total amount of paper accumulated Friday night, Aug. 18, was 15,058 pounds. They are working toward a goal of 10 tons. Since more than 18 tons were gathered here by high school students in the drive earlier this year, the results would seem to indicate this community to be peopled with omnivorous readers.

Siren to Mean Save Water

Silvertown Water Supply To Be Curtailed For Protection

SILVERTON, Aug. 19—A three-minute blast of the Silvertown siren next week will signal a request to residents to be careful in the use of water for 24 hours.

Silvertown's water department, headed by Lewis Yates, superintendent, will be connected to the new line, laid this summer. Connection will be made before the first of the month, Harry C. McCrea, city manager, stated.

Actual work may take close to 24 hours and during that time a minimum of water is to be used so as not to reduce the supply in the reservoir, endangering the town in case of fire. The siren will be sounded the evening previous to the work.

The P. S. Lord Construction Co. of Portland, with a crew of 15 men, are laying the new section of line. It extends from the chlorinator about 2 1/4 miles down, joining the old line near the Henry Amundson farm. The work was slowed down to some extent by the solid rock formations encountered.

Three five-horsepower motors will be placed on a concrete ledge above to run the pumps. The pumps are being installed to lift the water some 10 to 15 feet from the basin to the intake.

The PGE company is constructing an electric line up as far as the intake to furnish power for the three new motors. The old pump was run by a diesel engine which required 24-hour service.

Polk County 4-H Fair Held

Helen Cowgill, W. C. Leth Judge Members' Many Exhibits

MONMOUTH, Aug. 19—The annual Polk county 4-H club fair was held in the county fair grounds Thursday. In the pavilion long tables of displays were arranged, showing work the clubs of the county have accomplished this year. Youthful Victory gardeners displayed vegetables, the canning clubs had jars of meats, vegetables, and fruits on the tables devoted to their projects; breads and cookies featured the cooking display, the sewing clubs showed articles made by the exhibitors themselves, and articles bought for combination into suitable and tasteful costumes for various occasions.

W. C. Leth, Polk county agent, judged the work of the gardeners, and also the poultry and dairy sections of the fair. Only a few pens of poultry were shown, but there were a goodly number of calves exhibited, also a division for the older animals after they had come into production. Miss Helen Cowgill is assistant state club leader, judged the cooking, sewing and canning.

Polk Community Well Represented At 4-H Club Fair

BETHEL, Aug. 19—This district was well represented at the 4-H fair last Thursday. Anne Turner placed first in showmanship, first with her junior heifer, second with her yearling heifer, third with her producing cow. John Grund took a first in showmanship in his division, and first on his beef breed heifers, both junior and senior. Dick Martin took first with his beef steer, and third on showmanship. Herbert DeVos took fifth on showmanship and first on his Guernsey, in the junior dairy division.

In the cooking classes, Anne Turner took first on bread, Betty June Leppin took second. Anne was also first in the third year canning division, and took a first on her biscuits.

Service Man Is Mill City Guest

MILL CITY—Robert Davis, aviation machinist mate second class, and Mrs. Davis spent a 48 hour leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Davis last week.

Capt. Z. A. Horton, an army chaplain, was a guest of his brother, William Horton Wednesday.

Mrs. W. B. Shuey was in Longview, where she visited Mr. Shuey's nephew, Robert Tony, machinist mate second class, who has just returned from India. The boy of the ship he was on was wrecked in a typhoon and is now in for repairs.
