Gift Service Is Announced

Announcement is made by Marjorie Tye, home demonstration agent for Marion county, of a service available to women of the county of sealing in tin containers, Christmas gifts for service men and women overseas.

This service means that the contents sealed by the home demonstration agent and properly labeled bearing the original signature of the agent are not opened for further inspection.

Types of food that can be sealed successfully include: hard candies, candied fruits, dried fruits, nuts, fruit cakes, and cookies.

Types of food that cannot be sealed in the H.D.A.'s office because of inability to sterilize jars and process food in the office are: jams, jelly, preserves, and food that contains liquid which might spill. Other things that cannot be sent include anything containing alcohol, cigarette lighting fluid, matches, perishable articles, and soft candies.

Complete information on sending foods in the mail with special emphasis on foods going to members of our armed forces overseas are given in a bulletin entitled "Food for Mailing" HE-1842, and is available for the asking at the office of the home demonstration agent in the old high school building in Salem.

22 Education Leaders Meet At Willamette

Twenty-two educational leaders from the colleges of Oregon and Washington met on the campus of Willamette university Thursday to discuss the problems of higher education growing out of the war.

The conference was called by Dr. C. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university, to get a reaction of the college leaders in the northwest to the problems faced by the advisory committee to the US house committee on education.

The educators from Oregon and Washington considered the desirability of federal aid to the colleges. The general conclusion on this point was that federal aid, if granted, should be only a war time measure and not a permanent program.

The conference voted unanimously to recommend to the house committee that a program of federal scholarships be instituted to assure the education of gifted young men and women throughout the nation. The conference also voted to recommend that the association of college registrars in the northwest start immediate study of the matters of academic credits for returning veterans.

Deliberation of this meeting will be presented by Dr. Smith to the next meeting of the advisory committee of the house to be held in Washington, DC, on October 11, 12, and 13.

TB Meeting Opens Today
Mrs. Leif Bergvik and Mrs. James Bunnell of the Marion county public health department will attend a two-day conference of the Oregon Tuberculosis association to be held in Portland today and Saturday.

Today will be taken up with conferences of executive secretaries representing various county associations in the state. The meetings are to be held at 605 Woodlark building. Mrs. Sidde Orr Dumber is in charge of the meeting.

On Saturday a conference will be held with Charles L. Newcomb in charge. The speaker is the national director of Christmas seal sales and county seal chairmen are to attend the session.

Plan Training For Officers

Home Extension Units To Hold School On Tuesday

Plans for an officers training meeting for Marion county were completed when the county home extension committee met for its first fall meeting at the home of Mrs. H. R. Woodburn in Salem Heights. Marjorie Tye, home demonstration agent, announced that Mrs. Mabel Mack, extension specialist from Oregon State college, would present the training in simple parliamentary procedure in conducting meetings and other points of interest to club officers.

The meeting will be held at the YMCA Tuesday, Sept. 26, with the morning session given over to the extension units, while the afternoon will be open to all groups interested in sending officers.

Committee members were appointed for arranging the meeting as follows: registration, Mrs. Grace Cramer and Mrs. Venny Scott; hospitality, Mrs. Mary Martin and Mrs. C. A. Lynds; luncheon, Mrs. James Keys and Mrs. Floyd Fox; flowers and table decorations, Mrs. H. R. Woodburn; music, Mrs. Floyd Fox.

Announcement was made of a new service to women of the county from the office of the home demonstration agent, that of sealing in tin containers, Christmas gifts such as hard candies, cookies, nuts, fruit cakes, etc., going to service personnel overseas. Further and more detailed announcement is to be made later.

Miss Tye explained a news letter type of announcement for extension meetings, which met with the enthusiastic approval of members of the committee, for use in Marion county this year.

Mrs. H. R. Woodburn was appointed to represent the group on the county nutrition committee.

Plans were considered for holding the October meeting of the committee in Corvallis with Frances Clinton, former Marion county HDA, and now assistant state home demonstration leader.

Present at the Monday meeting were: Mrs. C. A. Lynds, Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Venny Scott, Mrs. Floyd Fox, Mrs. Grace Cramer, Miss Tye, and the hostess, Mrs. H. R. Woodburn.

4-H Winners Lions' Guests

Livestock prize winners from the 4H fall show last week were guests of the Salem Lions club Thursday at luncheon and for the war films which were shown later.

The check for $551.73 for the grand champion Hereford steer was presented to Bill Davis by Ed Schrader who bought the animal at the sale sponsored by the Lions club.

Pictures of the club members whose animals were sold were taken with some of the buyers, club leaders and Lion club members.

Oregon Demo Leaders To Meet With Hannagan

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Three Oregon democratic leaders will discuss campaign plans with National Chairman Robert Hannagan in San Francisco next Monday and Tuesday.

Lew Wallace, national committeeman; Henry Aiken, state chairman; and Hugh Earl, newly appointed finance director, will make the trip.

Sawdust Helps Make Nazis Bite Dust

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Watchman George W. Stanton has bought $1,025 in war bonds during the past three months with cash earned shovelling sawdust on his mornings and days off.

"I used to shovel barrels of this stuff during the depression for 50 cents a unit," said Stanton, who now gets $2.50 a unit.

posed of nothing but cold rain. Nobody ever heard of the little French town you are trying to find. A military policeman, shivering at a road junction, seems a wonderful sight until he says, "beats hell out me, Joe. Just got here myself, sorry."

You cough, sneeze and sniffle along four kilometers until you reach a bridge which the Germans have blown up.

It would be nice to put a happy ending here and say we drove blindly off the blown bridge and everybody was drowned and put out of his misery.

But life is not that way. You turn around in the muddy road slowly, gingerly waiting for the explosion of mines which the Germans always plant thickly around blown bridges.

Everything else is merely a miserable repetition of the foregoing. Until somewhere between mid-afternoon and midnight you continue the search through a cold rain.

Finally arriving, you find everything in the new camp soaking wet, too. Then just as you are sloshing around loaded with bedroll, musette bag and other junk and swearing loudly, some loud inevitably says: "Quit beefing. What if you were in the infantry?"

That is the unanswerable question.

Lions Hear About Mexican Labor Camp

Hollywood Lions meeting on Wednesday noon heard a talk on the Mexican laborers and listened to songs by four Mexicans. The speaker, Jim Bannister, is manager for the Mexican Labor camp at the fairgrounds. He explained the difficulties in feeding and supplying the 78,000 Mexicans in the United States, and said that there were 2000 near Salem, with 450 at the fairgrounds camp. Twenty-seven cooks work in two shifts to supply the local camp, he said.

The Mexicans, Nicholas Ortiz, Roberto Ceja, Timoteo Soriano and Modesto Barragan, sang Mexican songs to the tune of a guitar.

Bannister explained that the celebration of the Mexican Independence day will be held on Saturday, afternoon and evening. The public is invited to attend. Because of the urgency of harvesting crops, the Mexicans will work Saturday morning, he said.

Bombers Duel Over Pacific, Yankee Wins

AN ALEUTIAN BASE, Sept. 10.—(AP)—(delayed)—Two fast bombing planes—an American and a Japanese—met briefly over the vast lonely stretches of the North Pacific today.

Then the American flew on to bomb a Japanese base as the smoking wreckage of the brown plane with the red circles on its wings sank into the sea.

Lieut. William L. Sparks of Tucson, Ariz., a holder of the distinguished flying cross, was the pilot of the American plane. The encounter occurred as Sparks was piloting his sassy Ventura on another "Empire Express" mission of army and navy planes against Japanese Kure bases.

The Venturas struck at the Kurabu Zaki and Suriabachi bases on Paramushiro island and at enemy shipping. Small craft were strafed and one tanker set afire.

Meanwhile, Liberators of the army's Eleventh air forces bombed installations at Kashiwabara, on northern Paramushiro, and reported observing fires and explosions.

Townsend Council Meet Slated Here Sunday

Everyone attending is requested to bring his own lunch. Coffee will be furnished free. The afternoon will be devoted to speaking and entertainment. The public is invited.

50 Navy Men Go on Trial For Mutiny

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Fifty negro enlisted men today went on trial on charges of mutiny in refusing to load a navy ammunition ship as an aftermath of the Port Chicago explosion July 17 which claimed 322 lives.

Lt. Comdr. Feltham Watson, senior judge advocate of the twelfth naval district, termed it the largest mass trial in navy court martial history.

The defendants are charged with refusing under order Aug. 8 to load a ship at the Mare island ammunition depot in an arm of San Francisco bay across the strait from the devastated Port Chicago magazine.

Comdr. Joseph R. Tobin, commanding officer of the Mare island barracks, the first witness, testified he personally issued the loading order and a group refused to comply.

174 German Aliens Caught

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Indictment of 174 German aliens on charges of concealing their affiliation with the Nazi party was announced today by the justice department.

Although individual members of the party have been indicted previously on various charges, the present indictments constitute the first legal action against the party as such.

Maximum penalties under the indictments are $10,000 fines and from two to 10 years' imprisonment.

Those indicted include a number of persons already interned as dangerous enemy aliens.

The indictments, the justice department said, were the culmination of a long investigation of German efforts to promote the Nazi party in the United States.

Lafky Seeks Vacation of Court Order

Herman Lafky entered in the municipal court of West Salem a motion for vacation of an order whereby he forfeited $250 bail when charged for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Lafky, an attorney, demands to be permitted a trial by jury.

Lafky declared in an affidavit, that the case was set for hearing by Municipal Judge Robert Pattison at various dates, but postponed because the arresting officer could not be present. The date was then set for June 26, after Lafky had left to attend the republican national convention in Chicago, he alleges. Since he was not in court, his bail was declared forfeited.

Later he was arrested for driving when his license was forfeited.

Gold cubes, called yu, were used as currency in ancient China.

Scout Paper Drive Week From Sunday

In cooperation with Marion county salvage committee, 26 scout troops of Salem are arranging an intensified one-day waste paper pick up on Sunday, Sept. 24.

Salem is to be divided into 20 districts, each assigned to a troop responsible for the curb pickup in its section.

Local business firms are being conducted to furnish trucks and drivers. A scoutmaster or adult will be in charge of each pickup group.

In order not to conflict with church or Sunday school observance, the pickup will start at 12:30 p. m. It is estimated that with the cooperation of each householder in having his paper bundled, tied and placed on the street curb in front of his home, the united effort can be cleaned up by 6:00 p. m.

Paper is to be loaded directly into box cars spotted on Trade street near the Salem water department and shipped directly to the processing plants and thence into the war effort.

All proceeds will be used to improve the scout's council Camp Pioneer where last year 300 boys spent a six weeks season.

The goal of the committee is 100 tons, or approximately 10 pounds per capita, in order to beat Portland's new record of 8 pounds.

Salem scoutmasters and troop representatives will meet Friday, September 15, at 7:30 p. m., in the Rotary Boy Scout hut near Leslie school for their first regular fall round table meeting to complete details of the paper pick up.

Rededication To Job Urged For V-Day

V-day in the European war theatre will be a day for thanksgiving and appropriate rejoicing, and also a day for rededication to the tasks and sacrifices yet ahead, Governor Earl Snell said Thursday. He indicated he would issue a proclamation to that effect.

"On that day toward which our valiant allied armies are still striving in Europe, we shall pause to honor the heroes who have achieved victory in that area and to pay tribute to the great fighting forces of the Allied Nations, but we must not and we will not relax our all-out war effort in the midst of our rejoicing," stated the governor.

"Here on the west coast we should be doubly aware of the job yet unfinished and the menace in the Pacific until Japan is conquered," Governor Snell added.

"The day of European victory, indeed, should be a day of great joy and thanksgiving, but it also should serve to renew our determination to carry on with no slackening of energy or spirit the final struggle to bring complete victory over a ruthless and vicious enemy."

Postwar-Aluminum Boom Seen by Engineer

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The northwest's new aluminum plants will thrive after the war, the chief mechanical engineer of the Vancouver Alcoa plant predicted.

The domestic market alone will absorb a billion pounds of aluminum annually, Alfred D. Noble told businessmen here yesterday. "Recent cutbacks have set the national output very close to the estimated peacetime production level," he said.

State Workers To Give Blood Under System

Mellville G. Duff, 21, US army, 1535 Trade street, and Maybelle Heinz, 21, beauty operator, Sil-verton.

In order to provide a steady flow of donors of blood from week to week for the mobile blood unit the various state departments are organizing all eligible employees on a rotating system. A check of the individual departments has brought to light some facts which reflect great credit on these departments and which indicate that the individual employees are fully aware for the continuing vital need for blood plasma.

As an example, the public utilities commission sends an average of five donors a week who have contributed more than 20 gallons of blood over the past year.

Investigation has disclosed that some departments have an average of 50% of their employees stationed in Salem regularly giving blood. Included in this list are the state police department, the department of public instruction, the executive department, the industrial accident commission, the state defense council, the corporation department, the public utilities commission.

Department heads are unanimous in expressing the hope that more and more of the employees will respond to the present appeal and will become and continue to be regular donors to the blood bank.

A definite challenge faces the people of Salem in maintaining a sufficient flow of donors to insure the continued visits of the mobile blood bank unit.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Faced with what it said may be one of the largest onion crops in the nation's history, the war food administration today urged consumers to buy and store "a few pounds" of onions at home to insure plenty later and prevent waste.
