

Local Hospital Superintendent Due at Parley

At the eleventh annual meeting of the American college of hospital administrators to be held in Cleveland on October 1, Miss Lillian McDonald, superintendent of Salem General hospital, will be one of 125 hospital administrators from the United States and Canada advanced to membership in the American college of hospital administrators. All have been hospital administrators five years or more and have qualified by intensive oral and written examinations on hospital administration and operation.

Miss McDonald will leave for Cleveland on September 28 to receive this honor during the convocation ceremony on Sunday afternoon, at which Dr. Robert H. Bishop, Jr., president of the American college of hospital administrators will preside.

Miss McDonald is a graduate of St. Luke's hospital of Spokane, where she was an honor student her junior and senior years. She was a staff member of this hospital until she went to Lakeside hospital, Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio, for graduate work in 1930. She returned to St.

Luke's where she was assistant superintendent of nurses and later acted in the capacity of superintendent of nurses for one year.

In February, 1934, she accepted the position as superintendent of Salem General hospital, and has served in that capacity since. She has been active in nursing and hospital affairs in state associations and was active in programs connected with civilian defense, serving as deputy for Marion county. She is also an active member of Zonta International.

Salem General hospital is a standardized first-class hospital, approved as such by the American College of Surgeons and the American Hospital association. This standardization is maintained by following, rigidly, the requirements as set up by the American College of Surgeons.

Silverton Youth Will Leave for San Diego

SILVERTON—David J. Oeder, 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Oeder of Silverton, enlisted in the marine corps this week and is awaiting orders to report to San Diego training base.

He was graduated from the Silverton high school in June and while in high school was a basketball and wrestling letterman. He was also president of the H-Y club.

Pupils Helping With Harvest

WOODBURN, Sept. 23—The 14 pupils of the Johnston school, five miles northwest of Woodburn are doing their utmost to help solve the problem of farm labor shortage in the harvesting of crops in their community.

School opened Monday, September 18, with the eighth grade excused for field work. The teacher and pupils then arranged a program for the rest of the harvest season. School convenes promptly at 8:30, all pupils present. With shortened recess periods and a 30-minute lunch hour, the full day's class work is done and school adjourns at 2:45, so boys and girls are free to pick blackberries, cut berry vines, gather cucumbers and do the farm chores. Four new pupils will fall in with this program when they enroll Monday morning.

The Johnston school has an interesting history, says Miss Vera Bogard, the teacher. Built at the corner of an early donation land claim of pioneer Johnstons, it has been in continuous use since early in the 1860's. The flooring is laid on beams of whole logs from the virgin forest. Inspection shows them to be sound after 80 years. The building was newly painted for the school year, with ivory walls and ceiling, and grey wainscote. Miss Bogard is beginning her third year teaching at Johnston school.

Earnings in Oregon Show Marked Gain

The annual earnings of Oregon workmen during peak war years has been markedly upward, it was disclosed Saturday in an analysis of wage reports received by the state unemployment compensation commission from 10,000 covered firms.

The survey, covering the base periods for 1943 and 1944 benefit years, was based on a two per cent sample of all social security numbers receiving wage credits from October 1, 1941, to September 30, 1943.

In the earlier period 24,250 workers earned annual wages of more than $3000 while this number was more than trebled in the latter period with 72,900. Nearly a third of the 235,700 workers who had earnings in all four quarters of the last base year received upwards of $3000.

State Distribution Of Funds Shows Marked Increase

The state of Oregon, for the year ended June 30, 1944, distributed to counties, cities and school districts $11,420,182, compared with $5,498,573 for the previous 12-month period, it was announced Saturday by State Treasurer Leslie M. Scott.

An analysis showed the $6,000,000 increase for the year came mostly in the state school support tax fund ($5,000,000), and in the street tax fund ($736,168) and liquor permit fees ($303,615) set aside and distributed to cities.
