

Wedding at Church Today

Miss Megan Marie Fairham will become Professor Stephen C. Smith's bride at an impressive ceremony this afternoon at the First Methodist church at 3:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Fairham and her father will perform the nuptials. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith of Spiceland, Indiana, who came west for the wedding.

The altar will be decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, fern and white candles. Professor T. S. Roberts will be at the organ and Miss Bessie Greenwell will sing the "Phi Delta Theta Dream Song" and "I Love Thee."

Of white satin is the bridal gown. The shirred skirt terminates in a long train. Beading enhances the sweetheart neckline and tiny satin buttons extend from neckline to waistline. In back, the long sleeves end in points over each wrist. Her fingertip length tulle veil is held in place by a tulle coronet. She will carry a white bible topped with a white orchid.

Miss Edith Fairham will be her sister's maid of honor. Her gown is of pink organza fashioned bouffant style with three-quarter length sleeves. She will carry a pastel colonial bouquet of roses, asters and chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Allen of Portland and Miss Wilma Carlson of Eureka, Calif., will serve as bridesmaids. Their princess style dresses are of gold brocade. They will carry nosegays of pom pom chrysanthemums in the autumn shades.

Attend the Groom

Dr. Robert E. Lantz will stand with Professor Smith as best man. Seating the guests will be Dean Walter Erickson and Rev. John L. Knight.

Mrs. Fairham will wear a brown and aqua silk afternoon dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Smith has chosen a navy blue ensemble and her flowers will be pink roses.

The Carrier room in the church will be the setting for the wedding reception. Mrs. Kenneth Blenkinsop of Sherwood will preside at the punch bowl and Mrs. Charles Gray of Gresham will cut the bride's cake. Assisting will be Miss Jean Page, Miss Barbara Deaville and Miss Jean Gray of Gresham. Miss Betty Bruckman will pass the dream cakes.

When the couple leave on their wedding trip to the coast the bride will wear a brown silk dressmaker suit with gold button trim and brown top coat. Her corsage will be a white orchid. Professor Smith and his bride will reside in Salem and have taken an apartment at the Devereaux. Professor Smith is an instructor in economics at Willamette university.

Women to Observe "Week"

National Business Women's week will be observed by the Salem Business and Professional Women's club the week of October 8 to 14. This year's program will include the 25th anniversary of the founding of the national federation, and the silver anniversary of the Salem club. Miss Dorothy Cornelius, last year's president, is chairman of the week's celebration.

First event of the week will be the president's breakfast in honor of Miss Phoebe McAdams, which will be held at the Lions Den on Sunday, October 2. Mrs. Effie Arehart is chairman with Miss Josephine Evans, Mrs. Maude Eckman, Mrs. Paul Heath, Miss Mabel Savage and Mrs. William Lintoft assisting.

Mrs. Linfoot is heading the chamber of commerce luncheon committee on October 9 an assisting are Mrs. Winnie Pettyjohn, Mrs. Byron B. Herrick, Miss Grace Gilliam and Miss Effie Mae Smith.

Banquet Important

Highlight of the week will be the public relations banquet at the Marion hotel on Wednesday, October 11 with Mrs. Marion Wooden heading the directorate. The committee chairmen are Miss Mary Sheldon, program; Mrs. Jessie Bush Mickelson, music; Miss Helen Fletcher, decorations; Mrs. Byron Herrick, tickets; and Mrs. Mabel Clock, invitations. Miss Carolyn Wilson is in charge of go-to-church day.

National Business Women's week has been observed by the clubs affiliated with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs since 1928. There were 74 clubs in the federation with 50,000 members. They launched the observance for the purpose of dramatizing the contribution of business and professional women to the social, economic, and political life of the nation. Now the Federation has approximately 1700 clubs and 80,000 members in all of the 48 states, in the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii.

The purpose of National Business Women's week this year is to emphasize women's responsibility as citizens.

Honor Charter Members

The Salem club was organized in 1919 with its charter presented October 13 of that year. The club had 25 charter members. Dr. Mary Rowland was chosen its first president.

One of the highlights of the Salem Business and Professional Women's club has been the maintenance of a student loan fund, which is used in assisting deserving girls to complete their education and fit themselves to become business and professional women.

The theme for National Business Women's Week is "Are We Part-Time Citizens?" This theme is a part of the federation's 1944-45 program "Toward Victory and Beyond."

Miss Jean Kneass left Saturday night for her home in San Francisco after a fortnight's stay in the capital at the home of her father, Mr. A. B. Kneass. Miss Kneass is window and display decorator at the Emporium in the bay city.

The American Legion auxiliary will meet at the Woman's club on Monday night at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Donald Madison presiding. A display of souvenirs of the war will be in charge of Mrs. Lloyd Demerest and Mrs. Lloyd Shawver.

Seen and Heard...

By JERYME ENGLISH

SOMETHING SPECIAL... That's what hundreds of army, navy, marine and coast guard wives, sisters, mothers and sweethearts are trying to find for that certain "one" overseas... which must be wrapped and mailed by October 15... His Christmas gift depends largely on his branch of the service, rank and theatre of duty... For instance, in North Africa the climate is similar to California... in Egypt a metropolitan life is led in a semi-tropical climate... India is like Egypt... Australia has moderate weather... New Guinea and New Caledonia are primitive and hot... Italy and France, with both rural and metropolitan life, have a climate ranging from California to Seattle... England is chilly and so is Labrador and Iceland and Hawaii is just about perfect...

Photographs and snapshots probably head the list of his favorite gift with choice foods a close second... the stores are full of gift suggestions... Something thoughtful would be to tuck in one corner of the box a gift for HIM to give his fellow officer or buddy... Christmas cards for HIM to send might also be included, as in many parts they are not obtainable... The stores and post office are doing a rushing business these days, reminding us that we must do our own Christmas shopping soon.

EXCITING phone calls... Marjorie Waters Hamilton was really surprised last Friday when Bob called from New York... She had no idea he was in the states or nearby... The last she heard he was sending her perfume from Paris... Bob, an ensign in the navy, has been on an LCT... He arrived by plane the end of the week and will be here several weeks.

When Doris Nicholson answered the phone the other night, operator asked if she would accept a call from Sergeant Nicholson... the first news Doris had had that Jimmy had been promoted to a sergeant... he is at the army air base in Melville, New Jersey...

NEWS of former Salem residents... A letter from Lt. and Mrs. Harrison Elgin tells us they are now in Stockton, Calif., where he is with the army ordnance depot... Houses and apartments are scarce as there are many supply depots and ship building enterprises nearby, so Pauline and Harrison are temporarily located in an auto court... They just came from Santa Barbara, which they enjoyed immensely...

While the Elgins were stationed at Camp Roberts they often visited with Lt. and Mrs. Earle Stewart, who also lived here... Earle was an instructor at Parrish junior high school and in the political science department at Willamette university... They were fortunate in obtaining one of the few nice apartments in Paso Robles... This summer Florence managed a rental library and met lots of interesting people... They recently spent his leave in Long Beach.

Two former Willamette university couples in Salem last Saturday... Ensign and Mrs. James Burdette (Martha Warren) and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson... whose homes are in McMinnville... Jim is home on leave from Florida, where he is stationed with the navy... Martha and their two little girls live in McMinnville with his mother... the oldest started school this fall and the other is in kindergarten... Both Jim and Andy were prominent athletes while attending Willamette.

CLEVER birth announcements sent out by Lt. and Mrs. Donald Nagel (Jane Cameron) this week... A blue theatre ticket... with Lieutenant and June Nagel presenting "It's A Bouncing Baby" starring Lawrence David Nagel... September 26, three a. m., directed by Dr. Charles Wood... On the stub... eight pounds, five ounces and two dark eyes... Dr. Stork theatre with one bedside seat at the Salem General hospital...

SMARTLY DRESSED... Doratha Steusloff, who is again efficiently serving as chairman of the women's division of the United War Chest drive, was seen at chest headquarters wearing a navy blue skirt with navy blue and white check bolero jacket, white blouse and blue calot... She has been busy lining up her women workers, captains and leaders since early June... She heads over 350 women during the drive, quite a responsibility to keep them all harmonious...

Mrs. Edgar Pierce chic in a kelly green two piece wool dress with tiny brown hat and brown accessories... Mrs. Pierce is busy in her spare moments writing for her marine daughter, Barbara, and army son, Richard.

Mrs. Ronald Jones, in from her country home for her weekly shopping day, wearing a smart grey tunic style dress with matching beret...

Mrs. Wayne J. Page, in a becoming grey wool dress with jeweled buckle and buttons and purple felt hat, seen shopping for her army captain husband, who is stationed at a general hospital in England...

Distinctive in all brown was Mrs. Raymond Busick... a brown silk crepe dress with Eisenberg clips at the neckline and a brown coat with tuxedo front of winter aqua.

Ceremony In Seattle Interests

Of interest to Salem friends of the bride is the marriage of Miss Kathleen Patricia Hutchinson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Hutchinson of Seattle, formerly of Salem, and Mr. Robert M. Lehto of Ashtabula, Ohio, but now of Seattle, which took place Friday night, September 29 at the Pilgrim Congregational church in Seattle. The bride was in Salem several weeks ago when her wedding day was announced.

The bride's father, former pastor of the First Congregational church here, performed his daughter's marriage ceremony. Bouquets of yellow and flesh-toned gladioluses decorated the church. Lighting the many white tapers were Mrs. Alan Doris of Salem and Miss Doris Bales of Seattle. Miss Beth Sievert of Salem sang "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Lord's Prayer" before the nuptials. Mr. Ivar Strauss was the organist.

Mr. Raymond Hutchinson gave his sister in marriage. For her wedding she chose a white silk crepe afternoon frock with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a cluster of white begonias.

Miss Aileen Hutchinson was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a fuchsia silk crepe afternoon dress with black accessories. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses.

Mr. John F. Urick stood with Mr. Lehto as best man. Seating the guests were Mr. Leonard Hutchinson, Mr. Lloyd Gardner, Mr. Carl Herrala and Mr. M. W. Jacobsen.

For her daughter's marriage she wore a black silk crepe dress with white jabot.

Reception Follows
The wedding reception was held at the Hutchinson home, where the couple received the congratulations of their friends. Mrs. E. T. Clark cut the bride's cake and Mrs. C. E. Bogardus and Mrs. C. A. Smith of Seattle presided at the coffee urns. Mrs. H. W. McDonald was in charge of the dining room. Assisting were Mrs. O. O. Williams (Jean Moore), Miss Lorraine Hennessey and Mrs. Gordon Hull of Seattle. Miss Genevieve Beebe passed the guest book.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Cleveland the bride wore a smart brown and white check suit with brown accessories.

Mr. Lehto and his bride will return to Seattle to reside, where he is an engineer at Boeing Aircraft. The new Mrs. Lehto is well known in Salem where she attended Willamette university. She is a member of Beta Chi sorority. Her husband is a graduate of the Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland. His fraternity is Sigma Nu.

Button Collection Yields Rarities

Mrs. W. B. Johnston, reading the notice recently about Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands being awarded the Order of the Garter, called The Statesman to say that two buttons in her collection were worn by members of the same order. These buttons have on them the Order of the Garter's motto which briefly translated means, "Evil to Him That Evil Thinketh."

Also in Mrs. Johnston's collection are Canadian Mounty buttons and a rare "William Tell" button.

Mrs. William H. Bradford will entertain recent graduates of AAUW Tuesday night at her Center street home at 8 o'clock. A dessert supper will precede the social meeting. Miss Jessica Kinsey is leader of the group this year.
