Civilian Training Serves Her Well

Black-haired, blue-eyed Grace M. Harwood, "WAC of the Week" for the coming seven-day period, expects to utilize her civilian training as a dental technician following basic army training. In Salem she has been a faithful block leader in the civilian defense organization and has now requested to be allowed to work closer to the battlefield.

Mrs. Grace Harwood Is 'WAC Of Week,' Praised for Work

Mrs. Grace Harwood, 1605 Madison, who has just completed her enlistment in the women's army corps, choosing to serve with army medical department, was Saturday named "WAC of the week" of October 9.

When Mrs. Harwood learned of the need for women trained in medical specialties, she requested duty with the army to utilize her skills and training in the dental field.

The new AC will be assigned as dental technician upon completion of basic training at Fort Des Moines.

Mrs. Harwood, who is taking a leave of absence from housekeeping duties, is a native of Oregon. She was born in Ontario and graduated from the high school there.

In Salem she has been a member of the Tillicum club and has served as block leader in the civilian defense organization since the leaders were organized.

In praise of the new enlistee, Hazel Harper, secretary for the Marion county defense council, said "The defense council is proud of the fact that Mrs. Grace Harwood has been chosen "WAC of the week."

During her civilian defense service, working with Mrs. Willard Gritton, she has tackled 18 war-connected tasks, including three war loan drives, Miss Harper said, adding "While we regret losing Mrs. Harwood, we are happy she is going to have the opportunity of giving greater service to our country."

Mrs. Harwood has two brothers serving with the army. One of them, Lt. Robert C. Marquis, is an instructor at Fort Benning, Ga. When asked about her plans for postwar years, Pvt. Harwood replied "I am going to take advantage of the GI bill of rights by going to dental school. It is something I have always wanted to do."
