LOONEY BUTTE—Mrs. Russell Weavill and daughter, Luella, left Monday for an extended visit to Wisconsin. She expects to bring Weavill's mother back with her when she returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Miller, who have just returned to their farm after an absence of three and a half years while employed in defense work, are now clearing out the brush and vines that have overgrown the garden. They will remodel the interior of the house and repair walks and outbuildings. Last week the Millers went to Heppner to attend the funeral of Mrs. Miller's brother, Lee Roney, who lived in Salem.

Miss Clara Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Henderson and daughter, Ida Jo of Salem, were guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Miller.

The enrollment is now 15 and all grades except the sixth and seventh are represented. Jean Farnen is the only eighth grade student.

Friday, November 3, is Teachers' Institute day, so the school will enjoy a one-day vacation.

The school children have enrolled in the Junior Red Cross and have received the pins and poster. Last year, with the assistance of the Willing Workers club, the girls made a convalescent robe of squares of wool materials for the army hospital. The first project this year is collecting waste paper. All who have a quantity of such paper are asked to tie it securely in bundles, so the children can handle it.
