Polk Seal Sale Organization Making Plans

DALLAS, Nov. 30.—The Polk county Christmas seal sale is now under way. The seals were sent out by mail. It was 18 years ago that these seals made it possible for the first public health nurses to come to Polk county.

The tuberculosis case-finding program of the Polk county Public Health association is dependent upon Christmas seal funds to finance the many demands made upon it. These little stamps are now paying for chest x-rays.

The 1944 sale will finance the new program of mass case-finding, made possible by the mobile unit which will be available for use in Oregon counties within a few weeks. This unit is considered the 'last word' in mass early detection of tuberculosis, and will provide an opportunity for a few chest x-rays to every citizen in Polk county.

Communities and the chairmen are: Dallas, Mrs. H. A. Peterson; Ballston, Mrs. Mattie M. Van-Gross; Eola, Mrs. B. O. Shuckling; Falls City, Mrs. Mabel Reiber; Grand Ronde, Mrs. Gertrude Howard; Independence, Mrs. J. H. Hart and Mrs. William H. Thurston; McCoy, Mrs. Glen Martin; Monmouth, Miss Clara Trotter; Perrydale, Mrs. Fay Morrison; Rickreall, Mrs. George Van Santen; Valley Junction and Valsetz, Mrs. Bert Babb; Wallace Road, Mrs. Elmer Smith; Willamina, Mrs. Olive Watts; West Salem, Mrs. Ray Lacy and Zena, Mrs. Wayne Henry.

Officers for the Polk county Health association are Mrs. H. D. Peterson, president; Mrs. Fred Lacy, vice-president; Mrs. Marjorie Wiseman, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. O. C. Christensen, county seal sale chairman.

Doctor Says Military Should Fight Disease

PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Venereal disease controls set up by military authorities should be continued after the war, Dr. Walter Clarke, New York, executive director of the American Social Hygiene association, said today.

He told social hygiene officials here that all communities should have a venereal disease program ready well in advance of peace.

Hall Witness In His Suit Over Beating

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Screen Actor Jon Hall, a dapper but hesitant witness, reddened and stroked his moist brow today under strident questioning by which defense counsel sought to establish discrepancies in his testimony concerning the fight last August 5 in Bandleader Tommy Dorsey's apartment.

The 29-year-old Hall, attired in a dove grey pin-stripe flannel suit, also wore a transparent cap over the end of his nose, which he contends was virtually severed in the altercation. He appeared as complaining witness in the assault trial of Dorsey, Dorsey's wife, and their neighbor, Allen Smiley.

Describing the encounter, Hall said at one time Smiley was behind him "and then I got a blow across the face; I honestly believe that's when I got cut."

DALLAS—A suit for divorce has been filed in the office of Edna Pitzer, clerk of courts, wherein Mabel Watson is plaintiff and Harry Watson is the defendant. Cruel and inhuman treatment is the cause for the action.

Used Tires Off Rationing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Used passenger car tires will be removed from rationing Dec. 5.

In announcing this yesterday, OPA said distribution of used tires had become very spotty, with certificate holders unable to find suitable tires in many areas.

For this reason, the agency said, rationing of used tires has ceased to serve any valuable purpose and has become an unnecessary burden on local boards.

Law Officers Eye Proposals

PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—(AP)—An amendment to the state liquor laws making it a misdemeanor for minors to falsify their ages in attempts to buy liquor was proposed in a resolution adopted here today by Oregon district attorneys.

The State Sheriffs' association endorsed a uniform state mileage law—which Oregon does not have. Stock brands on cattle are not being inspected properly in some eastern counties, eastern Oregon sheriffs complained. They presented a resolution asking the state veterinarian to make stricter inspections.

Annual two-day conventions for both groups will end here tomorrow.

Ballard to Look After State's Farm Interests

CORVALLIS, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Oregon's representative at congressional hearings on agricultural commodity legislation early in December will be F. L. Ballard, extension service official here, Oregon State college officials said today.
