

Miss Jane Vincent Weds Captain McLellan at Church Ceremony

Marked for its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Mildred Jane Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vincent of Monterey, Calif., and Captain Daniel Joseph McLellan, jr., United States marine corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McLellan, Tuesday afternoon at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Father T. J. Bernards officiated at the 4 o'clock nuptials before a gathering of relatives and intimate friends. Mr. Wayne Messey played before the ceremony and the wedding march.

The bride walked down the center aisle on the arm of Mr. Eugene M. Booth. For her wedding she chose a becoming afternoon frock of dusty rose silk fashioned with low neckline, short sleeves and a draped skirt. Her tiny brown felt hat was enhanced with sequins at the sides. She carried a French nosegay of pink roses, violets, bouvardia and pink carnations.

Miss Sally McLellan, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a turquoise silk afternoon dress and small black hat. She carried a nosegay similar to the bride's in pastel shades.

Mr. F. X. McLellan of Portland stood with his cousin as best man.

Mother Comes North

Mrs. Vincent, who accompanied her daughter north for the wedding, wore a smart black silk gown and corsage of pink roses and bouvardia. Her black hat was trimmed with a chapeau ostrich plume. Mrs. Vincent returned to her home in Monterey Tuesday night. Mrs. McLellan chose a black silk afternoon dress with black sequin trim and black sailor hat with veil for her son's marriage. Her flowers were red roses and white bouvardia.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carson. Beautiful arrangements of white flowers in crystal vases and white tapers decorated the reception rooms.

Miss Marian and Miss Ann Carson greeted the guests at the door. Assisting at the rooms were Mrs. John Carson and Mrs. Wallace Carson. Mrs. E. M. Page and Mrs. Charles S. McElhinny were in charge of the dining room. Assisting in the serving were Miss Sybil Spears, Miss Betty Byrd, Mrs. Harry Carson, Jr. and Mrs. James H. Nicholson, Jr. Miss Jane Carson passed the guest book.

Miss Beryl Holt presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Eugene M. Booth cut the bride's cake. The table, which was arranged before a large window, was covered with a handsome white linen and lace cloth. Twin crystal vases filled with white roses, bouvardia, carnations and maiden hair fern and two silver candelabras holding white tapers formed the centerpiece.

Leave on Honeymoon

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride wore a smart moss green tulle with brown hat and brown accessories. Pinned to the shoulder of her suit was a lavender orchid. Captain and Mrs. McLellan will return to Salem before leaving for San Francisco later in the month. Captain McLellan, who recently returned from 23 months of active duty in the South Pacific theatre of war, will report to San Francisco for his new orders. The bride has made her home in the bay city where she has been with the Arabian American Oil company.

The new Mrs. McLellan is a graduate of San Mateo junior college and her husband is a graduate of Oregon State college and Salem schools.

Clothing Asked For Russians

All clubs and organizations in the city are being asked to give up their own Christmas exchange and bring new articles of clothing for the Russian children.

The gifts are not to be wrapped in paper, but may be wrapped in useable cloth or tied in a ribbon suitable for a child's hair ribbon. The donor's name on a piece of paper is to be pinned to the gift. The committee is anxious that all clubs respond to this appeal.

The shipping center in Salem is the Capital Press office on North Commercial street. Gifts may be brought to the office, and from there will be sent free of charge to the main shipping center in Portland. Mrs. Frank H. Spears, chairman of the Marion county relief committee is in charge of shipping.

As the Russians do not celebrate Christmas until January 8 gifts may be accepted here as late as Christmas day.

THE PASSENGER MILE

Unit of Railway Transportation

The universal unit of traveler transportation is the passenger mile. Last year Great Northern trains rolled up the astronomical total of 1 billion 108 million passenger miles—equivalent to transporting one person that distance.

And, patronage in 1944 likely will eclipse last year's record!

Many things make possible Great Northern's history-making volume of passenger miles: maintenance of roadbed, bridges and signals... hundreds of locomotives and cars... thousands of men in hundreds of jobs along the line, in yards, shops and terminals.

All are co-ordinated to make Great Northern passenger service dependable and passenger miles comfortable and safe.

Once there was a man named Bill

Bill was with the first Marines who went to the Pacific. For three years he fought Japs.

Then at Saipan, Bill had a quick decision to make.

He saw a job he thought should be done. He couldn't be sure it would help. He couldn't be sure he'd come back if he tried it. But it seemed worth trying.

He went ahead with the job. And it did help. And he didn't come back.

Perhaps there's a lesson in this story for some of us at home.

Bill had already done quite a bit for his country. But when the time came, he didn't stop to think about that. He didn't look around for someone else to take the risk for a change. He knew his work wasn't finished.

The same thing is true about buying War Bonds. Don't waste time wondering whether or not you've done your share.

As long as there are men like Bill still fighting—your job isn't finished yet—your job is to back them up. So keep on buying War Bonds.
