Marion county motor vehicle registrations for 1945 are coming in more slowly this year than last year, Robert S. Farrell, jr., secretary of state, said Wednesday, urging owners to apply at once to avoid a last-minute rush at the year-end.

Marion Motor

Registrations

Come Slowly

There are approximately 27,000 vehicles registered in Marion county and around 20 percent of these owners have applied for 1945 registrations to date.

Farrell said applications received in the next few days probably would be processed faster than those received near the end of the year when the final rush reaches his office.

"Salem residents can avoid long periods of standing in line at the capitol building office if they apply early," the secretary of state said. At present, few owners are coming to the capitel building office during the morning hours. Stickers for the 1945 registrations may be attached to the windshield after Dec. 15.

Gratitude Expressed For Gift Packages

Gratitude for the generosity of residents of the Salem area, particularly Willamette university co-eds, who provided 705 Christmas gift packages for men of this country on the high seas, was expressed Wednesday by the Rev. S. Raynor Smith, chairman of the camp and hospital committee which operates in conjunction with Marion county Red Cross.

The packages were sent out late last week and early this for distribution through west coast sea on Christmas day.

Of Chamber of Commerce CHICAGO, Dec. 13.-(A) - May

Former New Yorker Joins Salem Staff in Newly-Created Post

Paul B. Corr, director of public relations for the Knife and Fork Club international, will be the new assistant manager of the Salem chamber of commerce, Carl Hogg, chamber president, announced after a meeting of the chamber board of directors Wednesday night.

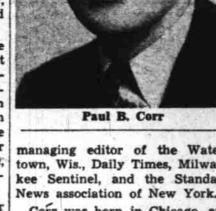

Corr will become assistant to Clay Cochran, chamber manager, tomorrow. The post was created two months ago.

Corr organized the Salem Knife and Fork club, which has brought several noted speakers to its dinner meetings. He moved his family to Salem in September from New York, where he was civilian public relations expert with the eastern defense command, and for five years edited the magazine. The Dinner Gong, for the Associated Clubs.

Previously, Corr was a chamber of commerce secretary in East St. Louis, executive secretary of the Northwest Territory commission, and handled public relations for a Wisconsin's dairymen's organization. He helped establish the Greater St. Louis Regional Plan ning association and the Southern Illinois Development associa-

Corr's experience in the newspaper field included service for nine years as night editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, three years as assistant managing editor of the East St. Louis Daily ports to ships which will be at Journal and managing editor of the East St. Louis News-Review,

Since coming to Salem he has become a member of the cham- Fox Show Scheduled ber, the Kiwanis club, the Knife and Fork club and the First Methodist church. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Greenwich Village Association and the Square Circle of New York city.

Corr's acceptance of the chamber position resulted from his desire "to identify himself with the anticipated development of Salem and the Willamette Valley of which he became convinced as the result of a survey of the Pacific Northwest," a statement on his appointment said. He resides at 1870 N. Cottage st., with his wife, Rose, and two small children. Sandra and Kenneth.

Most of the losses were attributed to a weaker cash corn market, profit cashing and failure of wheat prices to gain sharply after overnight announcement of a four cent increase in the ceiling price for cash wheat.

Following announcement of the office of price administration's action in boosting cash wheat ceilings, directors of the Chicago board of trade authorized a corresponding increase in the maximum price for wheat futures. The new futures ceiling is $1.77% per bu-

Stock Selling Drops Prices

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 .- (AP)-The stock market's substantial advance since early December made some pivotal groups vulnerable to selling today but various specialties registered gains.

The close was irregular. Late weakness in the steels had an adverse effect on many of the ranking industrials and rails which showed losses running from fractions to around a point. Two developments were associated with the selling in the steels -the assertion of a US Steel Corp. official that the company would in a normal market have a hard time showing a profit under present costs and the war production board's rejection of a petition of 73 steel companies for reconsideration of its recent wage adjustment decision.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was down .2 of a point at 57.2. It was down .1 yesterday but in the eight preceding sessions the average moved successively higher for an over-all rise of 2 points to the best level since Sept. 22, 1937.

Transactions totaled 1,127,730 shares against 1,154,940 Tuesday. Off a point or more were US Steel, Montgomery Ward, Case, Douglas Aircraft, American Can and Eastern Kodak.

Bill Protects Children Of Soldiers Overseas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 -(AP) The house passed a bill Tuesday to safeguard the American citizenship of children born to servicemen of minor age as the result of marriage overseas.

The bill provides that children born of an American father over 18 years old shall be United States citizens. The present legal minimum is 21 years.
