Interested residents of Parrish junior high school area presented to the city recorder a petition, requesting that the license be not granted because the students "swarm" the place before and after school hours. Two of the three members of the police and traffic committee which handles such applications and makes whatever investigations it wishes had been consulted and knew of the pending petition from the residents.

How was the business handled? The applications were considered early in the evening. Toward the end of the evening communications were read. Included was the citizens' petition asking the council to deny Hill's application. Then the school board wrote a letter asking that the application be not granted. It was time for another council meeting. How was the business handled? Routine procedure! Let the horse out then lock the door. First the applications were compensated for by insurance or otherwise. The actual cost of property (with proper adjustments for depreciation) which is destroyed by order of State or Federal authorities may likewise be claimed as a loss.

If reimbursement is made by a State or the United States in whole or in part on account of stock killed or other property destroyed from which a loss was claimed in a prior year, the amount received is required to be reported as income for the year in which the reimbursement is made. The cost of any feed, pasture, or care which has been deducted as an expense of operation must not be included as part of the cost of the stock for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of deductible loss.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year, whether purchased for resale or produced on the farm, as such losses will be reflected in the inventory by reducing the amount of livestock or products on hand at the close of the year. This has the effect of reducing gross income from business by the amount of the loss.

If an individual owns and operates a farm in addition to being engaged in another trade or business or calling, and sustains a loss from the farming operations, such loss may be deducted from income received from other sources provided such farm is not operated for recreation or pleasure. In the 1944 return, Form 1040, the loss from line 10, Form 1040F, should be included on line 22 of Schedule C, page 3, of the return. Thus the loss is given effect in determining the total adjusted gross income from page 3 which is to be entered on line 4, page 1 of the return.

If a farm is operated for recreation or pleasure and not on a commercial basis, and if the expenses incurred in connection therewith are in excess of the receipts therefrom, the entire receipts from the sale of products may be ignored in rendering a return of income, and the expenses incurred will not constitute allowable deductions from other income for Federal income tax purposes.

paper this Saturday a communication requesting the warden at the penitentiary to limit the number of invitations strictly to those who are entitled to see the legal executions. It is a source of common rumor that there are a few men in Salem who are always witnesses at the executions and really are not in any way connected with any law enforcement jobs and these same men appear delighted to see criminals gassed, make it a point to see these gruesome exhibitions. I join with those who think the warden should eliminate the morbid sightseers.

Very truly, Harry Everett Miller.
