Firms Asked To Re-inspect Draft Cases

Patriotic employers should review the status of their draft-deferred employees and report any possible changes to the employees' draft boards, as an aid in the present need for men, Col. Elmer V. Wootton, state director of selective service, told the Kiwanis club Tuesday.

The colonel reviewed the development of selective service, told of the greater need for production and armed service personnel since the December Nazi offensive, said classification of all men over 26 now were being reviewed, and added that “it might be we'd have to go back to the group from 38 to 45; I don't know.”

Colonel Wootton also said that while “selective service is not in the job-placing business” the recently-voiced edict of “work or fight” had a “good effect” in keeping men at essential work.

Playing for the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanians at the Marion hotel was the Salem high school's “Hungry Five,” consisting of Richard Barber and Alton Chamberlain, clarinets; Danny McCall, cornet; LaVern Hebert, trombone; Tad Shinkle, bass.

Jaycees Hear Oregon Solon At Luncheon

Declaring that the present state legislature is older and more serious-minded than average—largely because most of the younger legislators have gone off to war—a slower and more cautious session than usual was predicted by Giles French, representative from Sherman county, who spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Golden Pheasant.

French outlined some of the more important measures he expects to come before the legislature. Taxation and education, as usual, will be the subject of much discussion and a number of proposed bills, believes the speaker. He predicts a strong effort will be put forth to equalize school taxes so that the lesser populated school districts in the state will receive the same benefits as the thickly populated areas.

“Taxes probably won't be changed a great deal,” French declared. “New sources of taxation in the state have been pretty well exhausted with the exception of the sales tax and Oregon voters have habitually shown great opposition to this form of taxation,” the speaker added.

Veterans legislation will also rate a great deal of attention, believes the speaker. The veteran legislator considers this a tough problem. He feels that Oregon can't do enough for its returning veterans, but at the same time does not believe the state should plan and run the future of its service men and women.

Moro Claims Top Per Capita 6th Loan Sales
MORO, Ore., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Sherman county today claimed E bond sales of $123.35 for every person in the county was the highest per capita sale of any county in the nation in the sixth war loan. Sales were 225 percent of its quota.

STANDARD AGAIN BOOSTS GASOLINE PRODUCTION FOR OUR FLYING FIGHTERS

NOW STANDARD HAS INCREASED ITS 100-OCTANE GASOLINE PRODUCTION IN 4 YEARS

One of the first to manufacture 100-octane gasoline on a commercial scale, Standard of California was poised for rapid expansion on Dec. 7, 1941. Each year, since then, production zoomed. Now, with the great new 100-octane plant in operation, Standard is, far and away, the Coast's leading producer of aircraft fuel. And our new plants will not be idle after V-day. Almost overnight they can be converted to make the vastly improved automobile gasoline Standard has blue-printed for the post-war West.

Giant New Refinery is latest step in program that increases 100-Octane Gasoline Output 800% since Pearl Harbor

Already the largest producer of aviation gasoline in the West, Standard of California began this week to pour into the fight thousands of additional barrels daily from a new high-octane plant at Richmond, California. Shown in the picture are the towers of this giant new unit, which climaxes Standard's 10-year leadership in aviation gasoline production. Since 1935, when Standard of California started building its first high-octane plant, it has led in this field. Now our refineries turn out enough aviation gasoline daily to send more than 200 huge Superfortresses on the round trip from Saipan to Tokio. It's a lot, but Standard Oilers are not satisfied... they never will be until they make the high-octane gasoline and the oils that will bring the last victorious fighting plane home.
