Winter-time traveling is increasing as women leave each week to join their husbands and sons, who are in the service. Many business trips are combined with pleasure when the wife or daughter go along.

Mrs. W. Wells Baum and children, Frances and Marion, entrained Friday night for Los Angeles, where they will meet Colonel Baum, who will be in the southern city on special assignment. The Salem folk expect to be home in several weeks.

Mrs. R. C. Hunter left Friday for Oakland and San Francisco to visit for a month with friends and relatives. In Oakland she will be the guest of Miss Clever Miller, who formerly made her home here. Mrs. Hunter will also visit her niece, Mrs. Harold K. Webb, at her home in Alameda.

Visit in the South

Miss Helen Zielinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Zielinski, plans to leave Monday for Los Angeles to spend several weeks with relatives and friends. Enroute home Miss Zielinski will stop at Oakland to visit Miss Margaret Bellinger of Salem, who is a student at Mills college. Miss Zielinski, who has been attending Oregon State college where she is a Kappa Alpha Theta, plans to return to school for spring term.

Mr. and Mrs. Irl McSherry are leaving from Portland on Wednesday for New York City on a combined business and pleasure trip. They will spend a week in the eastern city and from there will go on to Washington, DC, and Chicago for several days.

Miss Echo Yeater is planning to leave early this week for San Francisco and other bay points to visit with relatives and friends for a month. In Pacific Grove she will visit Mrs. Elmer Johnson, who resided here while her husband was at Camp Adair.

Mrs. Forrest E. Simmons and her daughter, Audrey Ann Simmons, and Miss Beverly McGilchrist, a sophomore at Oregon State college, are entraining Thursday for Palo Alto, Calif., to visit the former's son, Bland, who is attending Leland Stanford under the ASTP. He is studying engineering. Private Simmons recently underwent an operation and is now convalescing. The Salem folk expect to be gone a week.

Entrain for East

Leaving Saturday for St. Paul, Minnesota will be Mrs. George C. Bliss and daughters, Martha Jane and Janet. There they will join Lt. Bliss, who is commanding officer of the navy V-12 unit at the University of Minnesota. The Bliss family resided here the past year and a half, while he was commanding officer of the navy unit at Willamette university. Lt. Bliss has already secured a house for his family in St. Paul.

Mrs. L. M. Ramage is entraining Saturday for San Francisco to visit her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. John Ramage and children, Linda and Bruce. Dr. Ramage, who is a surgeon with the United States public health service, is stationed at the marine hospital in the bay city. Mrs. Ramage expects to be away several weeks.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Ramage were her son-in-law and daughter, Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Maynard Edlund and son, Michael, of Warrenton. Sgt. Edlund is stationed at Fort Stevens.

Each legislative session brings many senators, representatives, their wives and families to Salem while the lawmakers are busy at the state capitol. Salem hostesses welcome these charming visitors who are here for the two months, with many social affairs planned in their honor. Wives and daughters may be found in the gallery during the sessions or in the senate and house serving as secretaries.

One of the first large social affairs being planned to honor the visiting legislator's wives is the tea for which Mrs. Robert S. Farrell, jr., and Mrs. Eugene Marsh, wife of the speaker of the house, will be hostesses on Tuesday, January 30 at the home of Secretary of State and Mrs. Farrell on North Capitol street. Wives of the state senators and representatives and wives of the supreme court justices have been bidden to the affair.
