Light Study In Silverton Is Undertaken

SILVERTON—Silverton's street lights could be increased two-thirds capacity for a one-third increase. This was the statement made Monday night by T. W. Fitch, street lighting expert. Fitch is with the Portland General Electric company and was invited by the Silverton planning commission of which Mrs. R. A. McClanathan is the chairman.

That something should be done to improve Silverton's street light was the definite opinion of Mr. Fitch. The national average per capita for street lighting is $1 with Silverton's little more than 50 cents per capita.

Just what could be done to improve the entire system will have to be determined by a survey. This will be done by Fitch and discussed later as a postwar project. But immediate relief can be had, said the speaker, if larger bulbs were used in already existing fixtures. Mr. Fitch referred to the Newberg lighting as "one of the best on the coast."

The planning commission will hold its regular meeting January 29. Members of Silverton's various service organizations were invited to the Monday night meeting. Lloyd Larsen, member of the planning commission, served as chairman.

Labor Saving Gadget Exhibit At Fairgrounds Next Tuesday

An exhibit of labor saving devices for both the farm and the home will be shown in the agricultural building, state fair grounds next Tuesday, January 30. It will be open continuously from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. W. G. Nibler, Marion county agent, and other members of the county extension staff are in charge of local arrangements.

The same exhibit will be in Sherwood, January 26; in Forest Grove, January 27; and after it is in Salem on January 30 it will be in two days, January 31 and February 1 in Linn county at Santiam Central Farmers Union and at the Lake Creek grange hall; February 7 it will be in Canby and February 14 at McMinnville and February 15 it will be at Rickreall.

Approximately 40 exhibits of equipment designed to lighten the burden and increase the efficiency of farmers and homemakers will be shown. The display is sent here from Oregon State college extension service. These range from a buckrake and full sized kitchen sink to a model cattle guard and clothes pin bag.

Practically all the equipment can be made locally, by the "man of the house" or in the case of the more complicated pieces of machinery, by local mechanics or machine shops. Detailed plans for construction will be available for those who desire them. The demonstration is for women as well as men, while the homemaking displays will be of interest to urban as well as rural homemakers.

The farm equipment to be shown includes a buckrake, manure loader, post hole digger, tilt-top implement trailer, milk cart, motor driven drag saw, improved type hay fork, a potato picking belt and other small miscellaneous items; an exhibit of a new type of rust prevention compound for farm machinery, another showing results of 17 years of experimentation on Douglas fir fence posts by Oregon State college school of forestry.

Post Hole Digger Included
Homemakers will see three different kitchen work centers, sink unit, mixing unit, and storage unit, actually kitchen size showing location of shelves, drawers, bins, doors, and all the gadgets; a convenient laundry cart that will take practically all the lifting and stooping out of wash days; a kitchen utility table with a lap board that will save much standing; a food preservation exhibit showing a food drier, pressure cooker, and other small canning equipment as well as information on freezing food; a sewing unit featuring a compact folding kit, a demonstration of mending shortcuts; an exhibit of work clothes for women; a packed lunch unit indicating what to put in a harvest or school lunch, what constitutes a good lunch, and how to pack it. Also there will be a portable wood-box and a demonstration of a quick and simple method of ironing a shirt—making use of a wide ironing board which can be easily made to fit the old ironing board. Colored movies and film slides will be shown as an added feature of the day.

Life — out of reach!

The most miraculous drug in the world cannot save a wounded soldier's life . . . if there is no one there to give it to him. Our casualties are mounting. The rows of hospital beds are growing longer day by day . . . the call of "Nurse" becomes more frequent. The number of Army nurses we have to answer this call is few — too few! American women . . . HEED this call . . . The Army Nurse Corps needs nurses . . . nurses, more and more nurses . . . NOW . . . TODAY! If you are a registered nurse, qualified to serve with the Army, you are urged to apply at your local Red Cross Procurement Office for full information and application blank. Or, communicate with the Surgeon General, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C. if you are untrained, take a home nursing or nurse's aide course. If you are a senior cadet nurse, serve your final six months in an Army hospital.

NURSES ARE NEEDED NOW!

Please send me information on how to help the U. S. Army Nurse Corps to care for our wounded soldiers. I am a registered nurse . . . I am a senior cadet nurse . . . I am untrained but want to learn
