

Baxter Says Oregon Church Over-Pledges

CHICAGO—Methodist denominational papers are carrying an announcement from Bishop Bruce R. Baxter of Portland, that the Oregon Conference has pledged $165,000 to the denomination's Crusade for Christ relief and reconstruction fund, against an asking of $138,000.

When Bishop Baxter's telegram to headquarters was filed January 18 collections had amounted to $70,000, although subscribers are given a year to pay. The fund will be used for post-war work at home and abroad.

According to Bishop J. Ralph Magee of Chicago, chairman of the Crusade, Oregon is the fifth of the 114 Methodist annual conferences to report success. Bishop Magee is well-known in the Northwest, having served both as pastor and district superintendent in Seattle.

"She Sure Was a Welcome Sight"

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS EDWARD STETZEL of Brooklyn, one of Merrill's Marauders

"I was a scout on intelligence reconnaissance with Merrill's Marauders. For twelve days the Japs kept us trapped in the jungles of Burma. They had a regiment and we were fighting them with a battalion. It was on the ninth day that I got hit. I was in my fox hole and we were holding back a charge. A Jap machine gunner blasted me from close up. Three bullets went right through my helmet on the left side, but the steel deflected the bullets and they just created my skull. I was knocked down and I lost my speech temporarily, but I got up again mighty quick and finished off that Jap. Three days later another battalion came up and freed us. They flew me out of Burma. The nurse on that plane—the one who was a welcome sight. I still get terrific headaches. But there's always an Army nurse nearby to give me the 'hypos' that make them bearable."

ALL Women Can Help!

If you are untrained—take a home nursing or nurse's aide course.
If you are a senior cadet nurse—serve your final six months in an Army hospital.

Labor Saving Exhibit Here Today

Farmers and homemakers of Marion county will have an opportunity to see the four pieces of labor saving equipment shown above—and many more—at the farm and home labor saving equipment demonstration at the state fairgrounds today. Illustrated are (1) manure loader, (2) laundry cart, (3) posthole digger and (4) kitchen utility table including lap board. The county agent's office has also rounded up some labor saving devices used effectively by local people for display at the all-day "open house."

Ranch Ramblings

By Rural Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Al Pepperling have bought the 15-acre farm, the W. V. Sandberg place, just east of Stayton on Highway 222. The new owners are already busy fixing up things around the place.

There is an old tale about a farmer who was concerned about the horse, the rider and the battle were all lost. In so far as farming is concerned the whole "war" will be lost if attention isn't paid to the little things. During the winter is the time to sharpen up the tools and replace hinges and so forth. It is also the time to see what other farmers are doing. The display to be held at the State fair grounds Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. is a good place to do the latter.

J. Inskeep of Clackamas county is asking his county farmers who have a novel piece of labor saving equipment to bring it to their display at Canby Union high school on February 7th.

It is still the feeling of some fibert growers that the scaffold branches on one, two and three-year old trees should be headed sharply back. They should never be headed back and this is a hard and fast rule. At least that's what Carl Schuster, nut expert at Corvallis says. It may be necessary to remove an excess limb here and there, but heading back the scaffold branches on these young trees—absolutely no. This has been demonstrated throughout the valley by growers.

Research carried on in 1944 proves that brooding baby chicks close to older birds means exposure to Leukosis. Brooding chicks at least 500 feet away from the older birds will help prevent contamination. Portable brooder houses are recommended.

Grains Finish Strong After Early Losses

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Grain futures prices dipped sharply at times today but short covering and resting orders provided enough support to halt the breaks and at the finish most quotations were on the up-side.

All markets were nervous and prices fluctuated erratically breaking after noon only to rally just before the close.

Analysis said favorable war news continued to check any enthusiasm for the buying side but the strength of cash markets was a sustaining factor.

Prices moved quickly with the orders in the wheat pit. Firm at the opening, the market quickly fell back when the buying paused. A rally followed but most of the gains were wiped out after noon. Local traders and commission houses were on both sides of the market and some of the purchases apparently were for milling interests.

The cash wheat market remained firm but trade sources reported producers were anxious to market their grain at present prices and that offerings would increase when shipping facilities become available.

At the finish wheat was $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than Saturday's close, $\frac{1}{16}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than Saturday's close, $\frac{1}{16}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than Saturday's close, $\frac{1}{16}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than Saturday's close, $\frac{1}{16}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than Saturday's close.

Farm Machinery Repair Started

HAZEL GREEN—The Division of Vocational Education is offering a farm machinery repair and construction classes to help farmers meet repair needs during the war period.

Classes will start Tuesday, Jan. 30 and be held each night from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. except Saturday and Sunday, at the Hazel Green garage. Lawrence Zielinski will conduct the class. The classes are free to the public and also the use of the equipment in the shop.

Peace Stocks Show Strength, Make Gains

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Visions of peace apparently prompted the greater part of the buying, as well as the selling, in today's stock market and, while many armament-connected pivots backed water, low and medium-priced motors, packers and other specialties with good postwar prospects performed on the up-side.

Trends dipped after a fairly active and steady opening. Demand for junior favorites expanded briskly in the final hour and gains of fractions to a point or more were well distributed at the close.

The continued thrust of the Russians toward Berlin caused considerable shifting of accounts from war-benefited issues. Rails, with the exception of Delaware & Hudson which jumped 2 1/2 on dividend hopes, were on the off-side throughout.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 59. Of 920 issues registering, 400 were up against 520 down or unchanged. Transfers totalled 1,374,050 shares compared with 1,254,730 Friday.

At tips for 1944-45 were Studebaker, Hudson Motors, Wilson & Co, Armour, Allegheny preferred, Reynolds Spring and Howe Sound.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

A Penny's Worth of Transportation

Your travel penny buys far more comfort, safety and speed on Great Northern trains than it did during the first World War.

Among the reasons is Great Northern's tradition of constant improvement of tracks— heavier rail, elimination and reduction of curves, signal systems, stronger bridges and time-saving tunnels. Good equipment and better locomotives, too!

The teamwork of management, employes and machines is enabling Great Northern to meet wartime demands for passenger service. The same unbeatable combination will provide better service for the travel penny in the peacetime to come.
