by league officials is to be sent the six-team level again.

Oregon City Coach Dan Jones, president of the league until the withdrawals, was replaced by Salem Athletic Director Gurnee Flesher. Earl McKinney of Corvallis was elected vice-president and Henry Kuchera of Eugene retained his post as secrety-treasurer. All schools were represented except Eugene. The new officers are to work toward the rebuilding of the league into a sixteam circuit as soon as possible. Both Jones and Merritt McKeel of Milwaukie indicated that plans were already under way wherein Oregon City and Milwaukie would join a new league composed of those schools and possibly Gresham, St. Helens, Hood River, Hillsboro and Newberg.

Football, baseball and track schedules involving the member schools were discussed at length and will be announced later. Bee football teams from each school will engage in a regular league schedule also. Dual track meets along with the regular No-Name meet will be held. Coach McKinney is to draw up the home-andhome baseball schedules, which may include a jamboree at Corvallis, and Tom Drynan of Salem is to draw up track slates. The member coaches are to meet at the finish of football season to select an all-star team. Al Lightner was voted in as new league publicist replacing Dick Strite of the Eugene Register-Guard.

Byrnes Planning No Curtailment

CHICAGO, Feb. 17-(AP)-War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes does not contemplate any curtailment of sports at the present time, Lucius D. Clay, deputy director of the war program indicated today in a letter to a Chicago industrial group which urged continuance of wartime athletics to abate absenteeism. The letter was made public by Howard M. Reineman, chairman of a steel manufacturers committee which had requested an appointment with Byrnes in Washington to discuss maintaining amateur and professional sports
