

Mrs. Arens Announces Programs

A surprise will be provided at the first meeting in April in the programs of Toastmistress by the committee headed by Mrs. L. O. Arens. The programs cover the period through June when the group adjourns for the summer.

Programs will be distributed at the 6 o'clock dinner meeting Thursday night at the Quelle. Miss Olga Wikberg is toastmistress and speakers will be Mrs. Arthur Pickering, Miss Marguerite Gleason and Mrs. Marie Ling. Miss Ada Ross will be in charge of table topics and Mrs. Raymond Walsh will make a critical report on past work of the group.

Each program for the coming eight meetings provides for four talks which gives a chance for most members to appear on two programs during the period. Toastmistress for each program are listed as are table topic chairmen, study leaders and general critics.

Fashion Helps

"My own dress form"

Sewing for yourself is difficult without a dress form. Acquiring a dress form is very easy. You may purchase the materials completely packaged. Then have a friend help you with the fitting or have the form made by professional molders. The professional molding will require one hour. The cost is reasonable. Appointments are scheduled to avoid waiting. Almost every one will be able to salvage enough from their clothes closet to pay for the dress form.

Busch Group Don't Look Now... Plays Here Monday

The Busch Little Symphony, which members of the Salem Community Concert association will hear Monday night at Salem high school auditorium, is the realization of a dream of the director-founder, Adolf Busch. His chamber orchestra was organized for the purpose of playing the music of Bach, Mozart and Haydn.

The group's programs are made up largely of the works of these three composers, played in the form in which they were originally written, rather than in the revised for larger orchestras.

Busch, virtuoso, conductor and composer will act as violin soloist at the concert.

The pianist, Eugene Istomin, who appears as soloist and a member of the ensemble is New York born and a graduate of Curtis institute of music where he studied under Rudolf Serkin and Mieczo Horszowski. He has been soloist with the Philadelphia and New York Philharmonic orchestras.

The concert on Monday night will begin at 8:15, although doors will be open at 7:30. Admittance is by Community concert membership ticket only.
