

Aides to Be Capped at Ceremony

The largest class of Red Cross volunteer nurses aides will be capped at ceremonies Monday night, at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. The 72 aides to receive their caps, are members of the 13th and 14th units. The interested public is invited to the exercises.

Judge George Rossman, president of the Marion county chapter, American Red Cross, will preside. Mr. Charles A. Sprague, former governor of Oregon and publisher of The Oregon Statesman, will be the guest speaker. Rev. S. Raynor Smith will give the invocation and Mr. John Schmidt, jr., and Monica Rodkowsky will sing. Mrs. Louise Arneson, director of nursing for the Marion county chapter of the Red Cross, Mrs. Agnes Kirsch and Mrs. Virgil Golden, assistant directors, and Miss Lillian McDonald, superintendent of the Salem General hospital, will cap the graduates.

Mrs. Klony Smith and Miss Selma Hillmer, superintendent of nurses of the Salem Deaconess hospital, will give the certificates. Mrs. Floyd Utter, chairman of the nurses aide committee, and Mrs. Ralph Moody will present the pins to the aides. Additional awards to aides, who have given 500 hours and more, will be made. The oath will be administered by the office of civilian defense.

Mr. Milton L. Meyers is in charge of ushers; Mrs. Ernest Lufner and Mrs. Ruth Wittner, decorations; and Mrs. Raymond Barton, music.

A reception in the church parlors in honor of the graduates will be held immediately after the services. Mrs. George Fake, chairman of the canteen committee, is arranging the affair. Mrs. Charles A. Sprague and Mrs. George Rossman will preside at the serving table.

Music Week Plans Underway

Americans will again celebrate National Music week, to emphasize the part that music plays in maintaining morale. The "week" set for early in May, will be observed nationally over radio networks and locally at special concerts and recitals by musicians. Mrs. Walter A. Denton, state and Salem chairman, is completing plans for this celebration. Since its inception many years ago, National Music week has gained in interest, and now each year clubs and civic groups, schools, churches and other organizations set aside a program during the week of May 6 to 13, devoting it to music.

One of the aims of the weeks is to bring together community music groups for participation in the festival.

Betrothal Of Teacher Revealed

Miss Gladys Humphrey's engagement to Mr. William C. Foertsch of Portland was announced at a party held March 23 at the home of Mrs. Russell Beutler.

Spring flowers decorated the Beutler home, and candles lighted the rooms. The announcement was made on little printed scrolls concealed in an Easter basket and presented each guest.

Miss Humphrey is a member of the English department of Pariah junior high school. She is a graduate of Oregon College of Education and University of Oregon.

Mr. Foertsch is an accountant at the Hyster manufacturing company in Portland.

While no definite date has been set for the wedding it is expected to take place in the summer.

Election of May Queen Slated

Plans are now underway for the annual May weekend festivities on the Willamette university campus, May 4, 5 and 6. Manager William Stortz of Salem has announced that the May queen and her princesses will be elected this week.

The three princesses will be selected Tuesday from the 41 senior women. Each student body card holder will be allowed to vote for three candidates. From the royal three, the students will choose the queen herself at the ballot box Thursday.

The queen's ball, always a highlight of the crowded weekend schedule, bids fair to be even more brilliant with the decision to make the dance formal. Wilma Froman is now making arrangements for an orchestra, while Dorothy Hoar will supply programs.

Songsters are busy gathering around the piano for the Intersorority sing, to be held in Friday's chapel. Chuck Strong has been appointed co-ordinator for the program.

Rehearsals are under way for "You Can't Take It With You," hilarious Broadway success to be presented Saturday night of Mayday weekend.

Mary Elizabeth Donfrio heads the committee in charge of the YWCA breakfast given each year.

Bill Habernicht will supply decorations, and Miriam Day will help out with the court procession at the coronation Saturday afternoon. The traditional May pole dance and colorful pageant will follow.

Miss Leonhardt, Mrs. Holland

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Leonhardt of Salem are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Barbara Louise Leonhardt, to Mr. Harold A. Holland, seaman first class. The wedding took place at Bethany Lutheran church, Berkeley, California on March 24.

Mr. Holland is stationed at Camp Shoemaker and Mrs. Holland is employed in the office of the city park department in Berkeley, where they will live.

The bride is a graduate of Salem high school and attended the University of Oregon where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta. She is a graduate of Willamette university where she was affiliated with Beta Chi. Her husband-to-be is a graduate of Willamette university and a member of Alpha Psi Delta fraternity.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Cornoyer and their daughter, Mrs. James Clay Mobley, will be Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Rederich, their daughter, Mrs. George McShatko, and her daughter, Judith Lou, of Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. McShatko recently returned from Kansas and New York where she has been with Lt. Col. McShatko.

Don't Look Now...

... we find our selection of song for our Easter day picture was a popular one. "Christ the Lord is Risen Today" may be heard four times today on NBC network alone, and no telling how many times on other networks.

Priority group. . . Mamma Bunny has it all over Mrs. Jones. Try as she could, Mrs. Jones seemed to be unable to find much to deck out the little Joneses with for Easter but all the dozens of little bunnies on the dealers shelves appear well dressed. Maybe Mrs. Bunny doesn't know there's a war on, or else the WPB doesn't know that the bunnies have any clothes on.

Unfair advantage. . . When our proof-reader leaves a little error like "the bride wore a gown with lace yolk," it remains a monument of disgrace, but when the elegantly-clothed and not-so-elegantly informed radio announcer suggests that his produce is a "small" cheese or the record gets stuck and the commentator declares that "the employer sch, the employer sch, the employer sch, the employer sch," no one came prove it afterwards.

When the lights go on again. . . Someone is mixed up somewhere. Ever since the much talked of lighting survey, the lights on Court street have been either entirely off for two important blocks, or partially so. Foot and auto traffic is heavy, the park is unprotected pedestrians; one woman was killed on Cottage and Court streets one night when it is said the corner light was off. Women's clubs might well consider it a worthwhile project, to get the lights, (and not just one of the three globes) turned on -- every night.

Remember when. . . We used to buy marshmallows, bananas, sheets and silk stockings right out in the open, and not feel like a criminal when we got any? Remember when the Albert fountain played colored water on a band concert night, when we used to watch the steam shovel break ground for a building and everyone hung over the barrier and watched the work, and we used to climb those awful hot stairs in the huge bronze dome of our old statehouse?

Wedding at Mt. Angel Monday

St. Mary's church in Mt. Angel will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Beatrice Hassler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hassler of Mt. Angel, to Mr. Karl Kimmel of Roseburg, formerly of Salem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kimmel of Roseburg, Monday morning, April 2.

The high mass nuptials will be performed at 8:15 o'clock by Father Vincent Koppert. The double ring ceremony will be read before the altar which will be decorated with masses of Easter lilies and candles.

The brunette bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen a white marquisette gown for her wedding. The dress is enhanced with lace insets on the full train, fitted bodice and long sleeves which end in points over the wrists. The neckline is sweetheart style and tiny self covered buttons are at the wrists and in the back of the waist.

She will wear a fingertip length veil of illusion which will be caught to a Juliet cap of lace. She will carry a bouquet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament will be a single strand of pearls.

Attend the Bride
Miss Denna Re of The Dalles will be the maid of honor and Miss Delphae Goolley of Salem will be the bridesmaid. Miss Re will wear pink marquisette and Miss Goolley's dress is of blue marquisette. Their dresses are fashioned with full skirt sleeves and sweetheart necklines with a ruffle edging the shoulderline. They will wear contrasting elbow length gloves and shoulder length net veils of pink and blue. The girls will carry old fashioned nosegays in pastel colors.

Mr. Alfred Hassler, brother of the bride, will stand with Mr.

Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Edward James McClaughry (Thelma Anonby) who were married at the First Presbyterian church on March 23. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anonby of Woodburn and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. G. McClaughry of Salem. The bridegroom, who has been in the European theatre of war for the past 33 months, is home on furlough. Daughters of Nile Yomarcos to Dine Together

Salem Daughters of the Nile will hold a meeting on Monday, at 10:30 a. m., at the Masonic temple. The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Dunsford, Mrs. Estill Brunk, Mrs. Roy Houck, Mrs. Arthur Hunt, Mrs. Lillian Johnston and Mrs. Loren Spaulding. Luncheon will be served at noon.

The Yomarco class of the First Methodist church will have a no-host dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Waltz at the Fairview home on Monday night at 6:30 o'clock. The committee includes Mrs. Herbert Ostlund, Mrs. Clare Lake, Mrs. J. C. Harrison, Mrs. Harry Swafford, Mrs. Marle Travis, Mrs. Mary Boesch, Mrs. Norma Shaw and Mrs. M. Hartzell.

Mrs. Paul H. Hauser, sr., president of the club, will announce her committees for the annual spring bridge benefit which the Daughters of the Nile will give on April 19 at the Masonic temple.

Kimmel as best man. Mr. Kenneth Farwell of Salem will be the usher.

A breakfast for the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents will immediately follow the ceremony. A dinner in honor of the bridal couple will be held at 12:30 at the Mt. Angel hotel. In the afternoon a reception at Legion hall will be held from 2 to 4 o'clock.

When the couple leave on their wedding trip the bride will wear a pastel blue gabardine suit with black and white accessories. The newlyweds will reside in Rose-

Miss Elgin A Hostess Tonight

Mrs. George Kellogg, the former Vera Lindensau, who has returned to Salem for several months, will be the honor guest at a dessert supper party tonight when Miss Bernice Elgin entertains at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. Elgin, sr., on North Liberty street. Mrs. Kellogg has been residing in Pasadena for the past two years while her army husband was stationed there. He left for his new station in Sacramento earlier in the week.

The Easter motif will be carried out in the table appointments and spring flowers will be arranged about the rooms. Contract bridge will be in play during the evening.

Honoring Mrs. Kellogg will be Miss Betty Jane Thomas, Miss Dolores Nichols, Miss Betty Jean Smith, Miss Jean Webb-Bowen, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Ernestine Frederickson, Miss Beth Siewert, Miss Phyllis and Miss Patricia Ryan, Miss Enid Nelson, Mrs. Harrison Elgin, jr., Mrs. Norman J. Yagle, Mrs. Alan Siewert, and Miss Bernice Elgin.

Dr. Mary B. Purvine and Lt. and Mrs. Ralph E. Purvine will be in Portland today to be guests at a reception for which Mrs. Edward A. Pearce will be hostess in honor of Dr. Pearce on his 90th birthday. Mrs. Pearce and Dr. Purvine are sisters.
