The Party Whirl

Socially speaking the last few days have been filled with numerous events including teas, dinner and luncheon parties.

One of the largest parties last week was the informal tea on Friday afternoon for which Mrs. Henry A. Cornoyer and her daughter, Mrs. James Clay Mobley, were hostesses at their North Summer street residence in compliment to Mrs. John L. Rand, Mrs. Rand, who has made her home in Salem for many years, is leaving this spring for Portland to reside. She has purchased a home near her son and daughter-in-law, Senator and Mrs. Irving Rand.

Bidden to the tea were former Baker residents, friends of Mrs. Rand's when she lived there, and a group of Salem friends. Guests called between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock.

Presiding at the tea urns during the afternoon were Mrs. George A. White of Clackamas, Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mrs. W. S. Levens and Mrs. Russell Catlin. Arrangements of camellias and other spring flowers provided the decorative note about the guest rooms and on the tea table. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. George Weller, Mrs. Donald Burke, Mrs. Roger D. Woodrow, Mrs. Wilson Siegmund and Mrs. J. E. Law.

Surprise Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Stacey were honored at a surprise housewarming Saturday night at their new home on East Nob Hill when a group of their friends entertained.

During the evening the Staceys told of their recent trip to San Francisco. A late supper was served by the hostesses.

Travelers Highlight News . . .

By Jeryme English Statesman Society Editor

The comings and goings of travelers and visitors are a highlight of interest to Salem folk, who are busy greeting newcomers or bidding farewell to old friends. Arriving in the capital Saturday were Mrs. Gordon Wright and small sons, Eric and Michael, who have come to make an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Aiken. Mrs. Wright and children have been visiting in Snohomish, Wash., with her husband's family.

The Wrights have been making their home in Washington, where he was with the state department. In December he was sent to Paris as vice-consul with the American embassy. This summer Mrs. Wright and her children expect to join him in Paris. Mrs. Wright is the former Louise Aiken, a graduate of the University of Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wright of Snohomish accompanied their daughter-in-law and her children to Salem and are weekend guests at the Aiken home.

Mrs. Black to Return

Mrs. Gordon Black, ir. and daughter, Diane, are expected home Tuesday from Milton-Freewater where they have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rinker for two months. Mrs. Black and her daughter reside here with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Black, while Lt. Black is in the South Pacific with the marines. Mrs. Black is arranging an informal "welcome home" party for her daughter-in-law and granddaughter on Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at their home on Nebraska street.

Mrs, Asel Eoff and son, Joey, will return the first of the week from Palm Springs, Calif., where they have been sojourning during the winter months. The Eoffs go south each winter season.

To Leave For South

Mrs. Robert Wilson (Margaret Macy) is entraining Monday for San Francisco where she will meet Lt. (g) Wilson, who has been at Pearl Harbor and with the third fleet in the South Pacific for the past 21 months. After a week in the bay city the couple will return to Salem to spend his leave at the home of her father, Mr.

Au revoirs will soon be said to Mrs. Edward Raffety and daughter, Sunan, who are leaving in a fortnight for Liang Beach, Calif., to join Mr. Raifety, who is already in business there. Accompanying them will be Mrs. Raffety's mother, Mrs. Agnes Miller, who plans to make her home in the south with her son-in-law and daughter. The Raffetys formerly lived in Long Beach.

Mrs. Raifety was honored at dinner at the Friendly Farm when members of her bridge club entertained Wednesday night. Later cards were in play at the home of Mrs. George Mischler.
