To cut down the prison population in Oregon and the rest of the nation society must realize and fulfill its responsibilities to the youth of this country, declared Gerald Mason of Portland, senior member of the state parole board, at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Golden Pheasant.

"I don't believe there is such a person as the born criminal that we are always hearing about," Mason said. "When a child is born, he is an innocent, helpless human being that has not the states."

"Any American who wishes to be hard-hearted, now has the chance of a lifetime. He can be hard-hearted without raising a hand or taking a step or even bothering to think. All he needs to do is to leave an unused suit or overcoat hanging in a closet, or some overalls and work shirts lying on a shelf, or a pair of shoes standing in a neglected corner. He can do only this, and know-if he will take the trouble to know-that a man in one of the liberated countries is shivering in the cold or limping to work with his feet bare or wrapped in old sacks."

Ranch Ramblings

By the Rural Reporter

A bit of cattle royalty-and not such a bit either-has come to the Oregon State college cattle barns in the form of a nine-month-old bull calf from the Barbara family. This is generally recognized as the greatest American family in the Aberdeen-Angus breed.

The new bull, Missouri General 19th, has a close pedigree showing such famous bulls as Pride Protest 6th, Earl Marshall, Blackcap Bertram and General Page, A full sister of the new bull sold recently at auction for over $1500, while a brother sired the top junior bull at the large Missouri state sale and show in 1944.

The college Angus herd was established nine years ago through purchase of five top heifers from the J. S. Guttridge estate at Prairie City, three James McGregor bred heifers from the Hartley farms at Page, N. D., and two heifers which originally came from Congden and Battles, Yakima, Wash.
