Traffic Signals Out—The county court Friday approved the request of the Oregon Electric railway, presented through the state public utilities commission, to remove outmoded electric traffic signals at Waconda and Claxter. County Judge Grant Murphy and County Commissioner Roy J. Rice inspected the signals before action was taken. Judge Murphy said the signal at Waconda conceivably could remain down because a broad view could be had of the railroad by highway traffic. He said the court reserved the right to order the company to install a new signal after the war at Claxter. He said the signals at present are more of hazard than a help because of their worn condition.

Requests for Road Work Exceed Fund

The forest highway program for Oregon, which will be in addition to the $33,615,000 expenditure announced Friday as this state's three-year postwar plan, will await appropriation by congress before being developed, State Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock declared.

The forest highway program is selected jointly by the state highway commission, the public roads administration and the forest service. The projects are contracted by the public roads administration.

Reservation Set Up
Officials declared that the difference between the cost of the three-year program and the funds to be available represents a reserve for contingencies, due to uncertain prices and other factors.

Completion Planned
One of the principal objectives of the commission in the selection of the projects was to provide completion for sections of highway now partially finished, to the end that previous investment on those sections can be put to immediate use, Baldock said.

Highway department records show that expenditures aggregating $2,500,000 were made on various sections of highway before the war, but completion of those projects was deferred because of war conditions. There also was an investment of $1,500,000 on right of way for future projects.

Requests Exceed Funds
"In making the project selections," the commission said, "we are not unmindful of the fact that some disappointment will ensue. The total requests for construction of roads was many times the funds available for expenditure in the postwar era. Therefore, it has been impossible to grant all requests."

Commission members said they hope that congress will continue the present rate of authorization of federal funds for the building of needed highways beyond the initial three-year period until all needs have been satisfied.

Chairmen for Scout Circus Events Named

Chairmen for acts to be presented in the Cascade Area Boy Scout circus and camporee May 11, 12 and 13 were named this week at a meeting of the program committee headed by Dent Reed. The circus is the first to be held here in several years, and will be presented at the Oregon state fairgrounds. Active sponsor is the Salem Lions club.

Townsmen named to head the separate events are John Stark, Doug Yeater, E. Burr Miller, Al Ramseyer, Lee Ohmari, Bob Ramage, Roy Stewart, Ed Schreder, Dent Reed, Joe Felton, and Ed Majek. Serving with these men will be Scout commissioners to be appointed at a meeting Monday night and other members of the Lions club, also yet to be appointed.

The acts that these chairmen will take charge of include the grand entry, the signalling event, welcoming the visitors, fire pageant, Cub Scout event, first aid and emergency service demonstration, model airplane events, clowning and animal acts, closing ceremony and a special feature by the Salem Saddle club. In addition, a chairman and committee will be named for the closing ceremony.

Realtors Talk Name's Value At Luncheon

Members of the Salem Board of Realtors at their noonday meeting Friday in Hotel Marion held a roundtable discussion on the value of membership which in turn gives brokers and salesmen of real estate right to use the copyrighted word realtor in advertising.

President R. A. Forkner asked members of the board "what do realtors have over brokers and salesmen who are not realtors?" to open the discussion.

"I think it is just as important to sell the word realtor to potential members of the board as it is to the general buying public," Wesley Stewart, of the Salem Abstract company said, "and on the other hand I believe we should advertise to the public the name of the Salem Board of Realtors."
