* Nation's Service Finds Okinawa

GERVAIS-Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stokx have received a letter from their son, Pvt. Maurice Stokx, who is on Okinawa, where he has been since the day of the invasion. He says it is a very nice land, and what makes him like it so much is the weather-it is much the same as Oregon, cold nights and warm days.

"Right now I am sitting in the sun, but think I'm going to move for principals and supervisory as it is getting quite hot. I have already lost one coat of skin and cannot afford to lose another so soon. I have been getting some letters from you and June, also a nice card from Patty. Censorship regulations were just opened few minutes ago."
