

Swim School Registrations Are Sought

Enrollment blanks for the Red Cross learn-to-swim school July 9 to 20 were being distributed in Salem schools today.

The blanks will go to all students up to and including those in junior high (no advance registration is necessary for older pupils), and are to be signed by parents before applicants for the courses are considered formally registered.

Few Cashing In War Bonds, Says Yeater

Refuting reports of large scale cashing in of old bonds to buy the new offerings, Marion County Seventh War Loan Chairman Douglas Yeater revealed Tuesday that latest official redemption figures from the U. S. treasury showed that only 12.04 per cent of the Series 7, F and G bonds had been redeemed by their purchasers.

Reports of the early subscriptions probably will be available tomorrow, officials said, but most of this week is expected to be devoted to actual committee organization. Schools, state employees and a few scattering plants and towns are making early clean-ups that will show in the first totals to be compiled by Secretary-Treasurer Lawrence Fisher.

Rural schools yesterday reported $4336 purchases with Hayesville leading the way. A team headed by Don Ross was $386 ahead of its opponents led by Janice Bousell.

Filipinos Ask 20-Year Free Trade Pact Here

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The state department has turned thumbs down on the proposal by Filipino leaders that their country be given 20 years free trade with the United States following Philippine independence, it was reliably reported here today.

A. Jerman Was Athlete, Grew Hops Near Here

Arch M. Jerman, who died Monday in Tucson, Ariz. (see page 1) was widely-known in the Willamette valley as one of this area's longtime and extensive hopgrowers, but he probably gained his first personal prominence when as a Willamette university student he participated in athletics. He was pitcher for the Salem Senators and later managed the team.

Broadcasting Business Is Still 'Infant'

A framed certificate of "grateful recognition" for the services performed for Salem by radio station KSLM was presented to Glenn McCormick at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday on behalf of the club which is observing the 25th anniversary of commercial broadcasting.

The program was given over to paying tribute to radio and to McCormick, owner of KSLM. Principal speaker was John Kendall, Portland attorney long interested in radio both personally and professionally, who described broadcasting as an "infant industry" with an unlimited future.

Kendall said about 57 per cent of the area of this nation, taking in about 21,000,000 people, still was without "dependable" broadcast service. He discussed the proposed 500 KW stations (largest now are 50 KW) as possible remedies for that situation, but said the question then arose as to who should control such power.

He said frequency modulation (FM), which reportedly provides perfect reproduction, was five years away as far as general use was concerned, and then probably would be confined principally to popular areas. He also described television as in much the same category.

Blood Donors Here Fail to Hit Quota

Blood donors more than filled the Salem quota Tuesday but missed by 18 the 200-pint maximum which can be contributed here each week.

New gallon club members are Stella Rich; Woodburn, Constance Manning, Brooks; Francis Malma-teer, route six, Box 516 B, Salem; Blanche Koster, 125 Hansen ave.; A. W. Sunset, Silverton, and Dorothy Cheek, 755 Ferry st.

Ninth time donors were C. B. Richardson, 541 Statesman st.; Lester J. Geer, 335 Fawk st.; George Settlemeier, route four, Salem; Ethel Corey, 1464 Marion st.; Leona Dinhat, Turner; Paul Griebenow, 160 Fairview ave.; and E. A. Collier, 1289 South Commercial st.

Tenth time donors were Herbert R. Vicary, 1695 South High st.; C. A. Lossner, route five, box 75A, Salem; R. D. Barton, route four, box 121, Salem; Mrs. Walter Rush, 370 North 19th st.; Yvonne Richardson, 541 Statesman st.; D. R. Scott, route three, box 609, Salem; Lowell E. Shinn, highway department; Merrill Harsh, 125 Liberty st.; and Betty Randall, 1610 Court st. Miss Randall is a Willamette student in charge of the blood donors at the university.

Eleventh time donors were Charles Roberts, 330 Park ave.; Gladys Tharalson, route six, box 543, Salem; Barney Papanfuss, Roberts ave., and Helen Codington, 1080 Highland ave. Donating for the 14th time was Mrs. Everett Mauger of Newport.

No Press Relations For Nazi Big Shots
AUGSBURG, May 15 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower's crackdown on senior army officers for reported friendly treatment of captured Nazi big shots was followed today by a ban on press conferences for German prisoners unless specific permission is granted by supreme Allied headquarters.
