Oregon Must Seek Tourists

values of the area could be developed as invaluable contributions to what may well become Oregon's third great industry . recreation - - Art Kirkham, vicepresident of KOIN, told Salem Chamber of Commerce members at their luncheon meeting Monday

To get its share of the tourist business, which rose from 31/2 to 7 billion dollars in the years between 1936 and 1941, Oregon must take stock of its many advantages, invest in them and publicize their presence here, Kirkham declared in no uncertain

Letters from residents of this area indicating that the scenic wonders of Silver Creek falls are comparatively unknown to the very persons in Salem who would be asked by tourists for travel the Lee mission and the mission buildings go unmarked and uncared for, were read by Kirkham.

Oregon with more to offer than California in the way of climate, scenery, parks, public beaches and fishing, got $50,000,000 in tourist money in 1941, while California received $600,000,000, the speaker

Gov. Earl Snell's recognition of the "great potential in tourist business," revealed in his address to the recent legislature, brought praise from Kirkham, who also paid tribute to Gov. Oswald West's action which saved to the public 297 miles of beaches, and to Charles A. Sprague, former governor, for his editorial support of highway building programs designed to bring tourist business to the-state and not just channel it through between Washington and

OPA Announces New Retail Poultry Ceiling Prices

Says Kirkham

The price department of the Salem OPA office announced Monday that effective May 17, all current community ceiling prices for poultry at retail were revoked for the balance of May. Retailers will apply their percentage markup under MPRs 422 and 423 to their wholesale net cost. New community ceilings will be issued and mailed for distribution, to become effective on June 1, 1945.

CHICAGO, May 21—(P)—May rye and September barley broke the five-cent limit during the last 15 minutes of grain futures trading today when a flurry of long liquidation uncovered stop loss orders.

Short covering supported May wheat and corn, the latter closing at the $1.18½ ceiling, but all other futures contracts suffered sharp losses during the late sell-off.

Analysts regarded the break a necessary technical correction since prices have risen sharply in recent weeks, rye and wheat selling at new 10-year highs.

At the close of trading Saturday the open interest in May contracts totaled 5,036,000 bushels of wheat, 2,198,000 bushels of corn, 4,969,000 bushels of rye and 748,000 bushels of barley.
