

Long Itinerary Mentioned for New President

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—President Truman will follow in the footsteps of Franklin D. Roosevelt as a great traveler if he goes all the places being added to his potential schedule.

It was strongly indicated today that he might look in on the San Francisco world organization conference before it winds up.

Other business that may call the president away for Washington:

1. A meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin, date and place to be determined.
2. A conference with General Charles de Gaulle, head of the French provisional government.
3. A voyage to Manila for the inauguration of the independent republic of the Philippines, whenever that is created.

In addition, the president plans a quick trip to North Carolina in October to address a special session of the state senate.

Goals Set for Salvage Drive Of Tin, Paper

Three full railroad cars of tin cans and three box cars of scrap paper constitute the goal set by the Boy Scouts and the Marion county salvage committee for the drive this weekend -- the final pickup on a county-wide basis until October.

Prepared tin cans are the only metal sought in this drive. Tin cans with tops and bottoms cut out, and flattened, should be placed on cartons or sacks separate from scrap paper and put on the curb in front of house on days of collection.

All forms of scrap paper are wanted -- old newspapers, magazines, and books tied in bundles or packed in cartons. Any loose waste paper should be packed in cartons and securely tied.

House-to-house collection of tin and paper will be made in Salem on Sunday afternoon, May 27. Thirty volunteer trucks with drivers will be manned by more than 200 Boy Scouts to cover the city. Members of the Salem Chamber of Commerce and service clubs of the city will handle loading of the cans.

Tin cans will be loaded at the main entrance to the state fair grounds on the Silverton road. Paper will be loaded at the corner of Trade and South Church streets. Residents of any district of Marion or Polk counties not served by a local salvage committee are asked to take tin cans or paper to these locations for loading.

House-to-house pickup of cans and paper will be made in all communities outside of Salem on Saturday, May 26.

Oregon Pilots Force Town To Surrender

A NINTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER-BOMBER BASE, Germany—Three west coast P-47 Thunderbolt flight leaders, who live within a radius of 50 miles, recently figured in a once-in-a-flyer's-life-time stunt with a fourth Pacific coast pilot.

The three -- members of the 373rd fighter-bomber group, now based east of the Rhine river -- are 1st Lt. Philip M. Johnson, 22, Portland, Ore., who led the squadron of 16 Thunderbolts on armed reconnaissance in the Mehmeke area; 1st Lt. Starly C. Austin, Jr., 24, Salem, Ore., and 1st Lt. Robert C. Finley, 22, Vancouver, Wash. These three flew Thunderbolts.

The fourth, Maj. George E. A. Reinburg, 27, Coronado, Calif., used to fly a Thunderbolt. On this mission, as ground controller in the area, he piloted an L-5 Cub and led them to the target: the town of Mehmeke.

Two flights went down from 6000 feet as Reinburg circled at 2500, observing the results.

Said Austin: "The major was a one-man cheering section. He called us off the target after two flights had bombed and said that white flags were going up, our troops -- only 100 yards from the town we had bombed -- moving in."

"Then," Squadron Leader Johnson added, "Major Reinburg led us to some woods north of the town and told us to dive-bomb a concentration of tanks."

The second two flights bombed the woods, then strafed. Meanwhile, Reinburg in his flimsy L-5 was picking up small arms fire from the ground. The flyers took care of that and headed for home with the din of the Californian's cheers still in their ears.

Austin, in the army since September, 1942, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Starly C. Austin, sr., route three, box 740, Salem.

Two Valley Men On Battleship in Okinawa Action

Aboard a U. S. Battleship Off Okinawa—(Delayed)—Two Willamette valley men were aboard this veteran battleship when she poured a withering torrent of high explosive shells into the Okinawa beaches as a unit of the great naval bombardment force in history.

They were Kenneth W. Purcell, seaman 2-c, USN, whose mother Mrs. Charles L. Norton, lives on route 6, Salem, and Nicholas J. Zolotoff, 20, seaman 2-c, USNR, whose father, John S. Zolotoff, lives on star route 6, Salem.

So accurate and devastating was the task force fire that marines and 10th army troops encountered only slight opposition when they landed.

Highlight of the ship's actions came during an air attack. One of the enemy planes broke through the sheet of anti-aircraft fire, and singled out this battleship for a suicide run. Seconds later a cheer went up from gunners and crewmen when a hit sent the plane flaming into the sea.

William Mathis on Leave From Duty at Sea With Navy

The signalman, who intends to take up civil engineering on his return from the service, will report to Treasure Island late this month.

PFC Robert Dodge Freed From Nazis

FORT DOUGLAS, Utah—(Special)—First Lt. Earl Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Johnston, 145 Park st., Salem, has arrived in the United States on leave from the Mediterranean theatre of operations, where he served 8 1/2 months with the 15th Army air force as navigator on a B-24. Trimming Still Needed to Get Budget in Line

With $29,582.28 yet to trim before the general fund tax levy comes within the 6 per cent limitation, Marion county budget committee goes into its second day sessions today.

Largest items left for consideration are grouped under the "welfare" heading, with a net increase of more than $50,000 asked, although general assistance requests are $25,000 under those of last year. A $68,000 increase in old age assistance funds and $7000 more for aid to dependent children are included in the category.

The committee, comprised by County Judge Grant Murphy, Commissioners Jim Smith and Roy Rice; Leo N. Childs of Salem; M. G. Gunderson, Silverton, and Ray J. Glat, Woodburn, Tuesday approved budget estimates submitted by the county agent's office (including horticultural inspector, 4-H club agent and home demonstration agent services); by the recorder; school superintendent, and sheriff, with the exception of $284 cut from the requests of the sheriff's tax office.

Expenditure of $600 for the summer services of a water master, appointed by the state engineer's office, and of $240 for predatory animal control were added to the budget.

The school superintendent's request included salary for an additional supervisor, while the sheriff's budget provides for services of a second criminal deputy. Only major slash made Tuesday was $2200 from the $6228.57 increase sought for herd inspection.

ON the HOME FRONT

By ISABEL CHILDS

Alderman Tom Armstrong had no business to ask the question. He already knew the answer, but he's one of the veterans on the city council now and probably none of his fellows realized that.

During depression years Armstrong declares he was "literally doing business on the sidewalk" and the alderman in his ward told him he had to take his service station off the parking--there was an ordinance. Curious (and kinda angry), Armstrong decided he'd see how such silly ordinances got on the books, so he ran for council--and he's been there ever since.

The question? He merely queried during Monday night's council session whether there wasn't an ordinance forbidding establishment of advertising signs on parking lots or sidewalks. He asked it for Alderman Howard Maple, whose sporting goods store sidewalk sign is a favorite leaning post for half the rest of the council.

Youths Admit Stealing Auto, Robbing Store

Two 15-year-old Salem boys and a Gervais 16-year-old, arrested by state police Monday night and Tuesday, reportedly have admitted theft of Alderman Tom Armstrong's car here Friday night, the burglary of the Parrish store and the larceny of a second car in Portland on Saturday.

Before they had stolen Armstrong's automobile, they had attempted to take several others, rifling some, letting the air out of tires, drinking the liquor they found in glove compartments but all the time intent upon burglary of the store, according to police reconstruction of the story the youths told. After breaking into the store, they drove to Hubbard, where they spent the remainder of the night, and at dawn stole license plates from a wrecking establishment, the police report said. In Portland they abandoned the Armstrong car when it ran out of gasoline and picked up another which they abandoned when it got stuck beside a road near Woodburn, they are said to have told police.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—(AP)—Morton Cooper, act right hand pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, who walked out on the club for the third time last week, made it plain today he wanted his 1944 contract renegotiated in more than "sal" terms only.

He declined to say what or how many demands he would present in addition to the salary increase except to announce that he wants a three-year contract now.

Ways to Aid Servicemen Are Explained

Independence, rest and quiet, mingling with their families and life in the country, have contributed most to the improvement of soldiers discharged from service because of psychiatric reasons.

This has been shown in a questionnaire answered by men following their discharge, Dr. B. F. Williams, member of the Oregon hospital staff, told members of the Marion County Health Association at the annual meeting last night.

Group therapy is the best manner in which the problem of the veteran from the war with a psychiatric condition can be treated, Dr. Williams said.

Tinkham Gilbert, president of the association, presided. Saide Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, was introduced and spoke.

The age group most affected by tuberculosis is changing in the state, Saide Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, told the members. More older people and more men are listed as victims.

Figures on the Christmas seal sale last year were announced by the speaker. The sale for the nation was $14,986,226.94, for Oregon $246,277.57 and for Marion county $15,060.14. Other mid valley county figures were Linn, $7,630.22; Yamhill, $6,050.59; Polk, $3,805.19; Benton, $4,386.33.

Plans Proceed For Additions To Deaf School

Working plans for a $268,000 combined classroom and dormitory building at the state school for the deaf here were authorized Tuesday by the state board of control. Wolff and Phillips, Portland architects, were instructed to proceed with their preparation and to bring plans before the board next month.

Against this proposed expenditure the 1945 legislature appropriated $125,000. If the voters at the June 22 special election approve a five-mill property tax for new buildings at state institutions and colleges, the remainder of the financing will have been arranged, board members indicated.

Should the tax proposal be defeated, the construction probably will be curtailed to a dormitory building unless the state emergency board gives financial assistance.

Registration Light For June 22 Vote

Orders for June 22 special election ballots in Marion county have been placed on the basis of old election figures because registration in recent weeks has been so light as to be negligible.

To this declaration, following close of the registry Tuesday night, Gladys White, elections deputy in County Clerk Henry Mattson's organization, added that approximately two-dozen persons had registered Tuesday. The clerk's office, open three hours after the usual closing time to accommodate would-be voters, served three or four, she said. Voters' registration books reopen Saturday, June 23.

Tinkham Gilbert Re-elected Head Of Health Group

Tinkham Gilbert was reelected president of the Marion county health association at the annual meeting Tuesday night at the Leslie Memorial Methodist church.

Other officers named were Mrs. H. B. Pritzloff, Salem, first vice president; Mrs. Merle Harewood, Woodburn, second vice president; Harry Scott, treasurer; and Mrs. Bessie Edwards, secretary.

E. Burr Miller was named Salem seal chairman and Dr. Henry E. Morris, bond chairman. Mrs. Stanley Kruger was renamed Marion county seal chairman.

Executive secretaries in attendance included Ruby Bergvick, Marion; Ethel Poll, Yamhill; Mrs. A. Kingston, Multnomah; Mrs. J. Farmer, Clackamas.

A check for $96 for eight 4H club scholarships was presented to James Bishop, Marion county club agent, by Harry Scott in behalf of the association. Bishop outlined briefly how the scholarships were awarded for the 10-day summer school at Oregon State college June 19 to 29.

Music was provided for the program by three high school students, James Ragland and Morris McElwell, who sang, and Gladys Edgar, accompanist.

Contracts for 4 Teachers Are Offered

Salem school directors Tuesday night voted to offer contracts to Helen B. McLeod, Rainier; Lois V. Bloomster, Excelsior, Minn.; Audra Ames, Brookings, S. D.; and Helen Reep, Pipestone, Minn., to teach in elementary schools.

Betty Johnson, now teaching at Ontario, was hired as home economics teacher, and Georgia Rowell, who is taking graduate work at Willamette university, as teacher of junior high school English.

The resignation of Ruth Peterson, Highland teacher, was accepted.

A list of more than 400 seniors was approved for graduation, providing final requirements are met.

Both junior highs and the high school are making preparations to commence classes the first day of school this fall. Supt. Frank B. Bennett told the board. By pre-registering of pupils and arranging class schedules during the summer, two days may be saved, he said.

The board agreed to let Russell Bros. circus use Leslie field June 14-15 for $150 rental, plus posting of $150 bond guaranteeing that the newly-leveled ground will not be disturbed. It had previously denied the request.
