Program Grows: Three Teams At Silverton in Summer Plan

SILVERTON-Guy "Pop" De-Lay and one of his first Silverton baseball pupils, Paul Reiling, now coach at Mt. Angel, will work togther with the summer baseball players at Silverton, and indications are, said Reiling Friday, that the teams will be good.

There is to be three divisions in Silverton baseball this season. The Townie team, the American Legion Juniors and a new group, the Cubs-Peewees. The latter group will be composd of boys from 10 to 15 years old. The deadline on the age limit of eligibles for the team is May 1, 1945. Any boy is eligihie who has not reached 15 before that date. Four teams are clanned in a Cubs-Peewees

The first general practice will be held here Sunday at McGinnis field. Present plans also call for a Legion Junior game with Milwaukie. The Milwaukie team boasts the services of Les Palmer, said to be a hot pitching prospect for professional ball. He is the talented lefthander who was credited with the Up-state win in the Portland All-American boys game early this week. A game featuring the Silverton Red Sox and the Milwankie Townies will be played Sunday alse. What with so much action looming on the baseball front the sport seems headed for a return to pre-war importance in Silverton. Sunday's games start

Armory Boxing Bee List Grows; Portland, Vancouver Enter

The Capital Post No. 9 sponsored Golden Glove boxing tournament billed for the village armory next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 6-7-8, sprouted even more importantly yesterday with the announcement by Promoter "Stony" Clark that 15 more Simon Pure beak bashers have entered the clout carnival from Portland and Vancouver. Added to the already known entries from Salem and vicinity. Vanport and Tillamook, the new arrivals tend to make the threeday punching party one of the most attractive amateur boxing excursions in local history.

Not unlike the previous "outside" entries, the 15 lads from the metropolitan area are products of amateur schools and gymnasiums. Some have fought on other Gloves shows the past winter and three from Vancouver will bring along championships won in the Vancouver Gloves tournament. The Vancouver entries are handled by Jimmy Coffel and and the six from Portland are proteges of well-known Portland fighter Mickey Pease. Nearly all will live in Salem during the upcoming show.

The Vancouver entries include Jay Beaumont, 105; Vince Os-karson, 118; Bob Wishman, 126; Wayne Wishman, 126; Jim Miller, 135; Clyde Bittner, 135; Bob Golden, 147; Bill Botter, 160, and Charlie Black, 175. . Wayne Wishman, Miller and Golden are Vancouver titlists. The Portland entries: Jimmy Proctor, 121; Richard Wagner, 145; Dave Arndt, 144; Ralph Ford, 145; Howard Soumie, 156, and Gordy Alexander, 105. All will draw for opening night assignments with the other contestants, according to Promoter Clark.
