Alcohol and Public Health

"Dr. Jellinek estimates that there are 750,000 alcoholics in the United States, and 2,500,000 on the verge of alcoholism. He pointed out that in this country one-sixth of the alcoholics are women."—The Christian Century, 3-7-45, p. 315. Note: This is a recent report on the clinical studies made by Dr. E. M. Jellinek, director of the Yale School of Alcohol Studies.

Dr. Meyers, President of the American College of Neurospsychiatrists, said, "At a time when everyone is expected to work or fight, CHRONIC ALCOHOL-ISM is sending at least a million Americans to the scrapheap, with FIFTY THOUSAND NEW ALCO-HOLICS added yearly." How PATRIOTIC do you think a BUSINESS is that will send a MILLION Americans to the scrapheap, useless to both industry and the service?—National Voice.
