

Robert Schlegel, Former Prisoner of Nazis, Is Here

Pvt. Robert Schlegel arrived in Salem on Sunday night after having been a German prisoner of war at Mooseburg, Stalag 7-a for the past nine months.

He was freed April 30 by his former outfit, the Seventh army, under command of General Patch.

He is in Salem on a short visit and will go on to Salinas, Calif., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schlegel. Mrs. Schlegel came north to meet him.

He will report to Santa Barbara for reassignment at the end of his 60-day leave. Private Schlegel is a former Willamette university student.

DALLAS — Word has been received that Richard Wyatt Orsborn has been promoted to aviation machinist mate 3/c. He has spent the past nine months in the Hawaiian Islands. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Orsborn of Cooper Hollow. His wife and two daughters live in Dallas.

Thomas Hooker on Leave at Dallas

DALLAS — Thomas Hooker, S-1/c, is spending a 30-day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hooker. Since going overseas last winter, Hooker has covered a considerable part of the Pacific area while serving on a transport. His leave will end June 17.

RICKREALL — Robert Cordon Ragsdale, son of Mrs. Florence Ragsdale, has recently been advanced to chief radar technician, his mother has heard. He is serving on an aircraft carrier which has seen service in both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, and took part in the Philippine invasion and the Iwo Jima landings. The new chief has been for some time in charge of all radio and radar equipment on his ship, but has only recently completed the minimum number of years service time to permit his present advance in rating.

Neal Hagedorn

Neal Hagedorn, motor machinist mate 3/c, is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagedorn, 320 Fairview avenue. He is one of three navy sons of the Hagedorns and has met each of his brothers in various ports while serving on an LST in the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean sea and the south Pacific.

He took part in five initial amphibious operations in the South Pacific. His LST was the first to hit the beach in the invasion of Kwajalein in the Marshalls.

Of this he says: "We had the largest task force assembled and the operation was down pat. We put the troops, supplies and artillery ashore with little trouble but got stuck in the coral on the beach and were there for two and a half days, and had 18 holes punched in the bottom of the LST. Finally with the help of high tide and a tug we got loose."

"At Hollandia we almost got bombed, a Jap flier bothered us plenty but missed. The funny thing about him was he landed in the airfield, thinking it was still in Jap hands. Since it wasn't, he was immediately taken prisoner."

"Other invasions in which he took part were Saipan, Guam, and at Peleliu he said 'the troops had it toughest of all.' He was at the Philippines, Lingayen Gulf and Luzon."

He met his brother, Bud, aviation machinist mate, 1/c, a year ago and again this year, and saw his brother, Melvin, seaman second class, in Pearl Harbor on the way home. Melvin and Bud met June 1.

PFC Lenn Davis Survives Hectic Night in Foxhole

AN ADVANCE ARMY BASE IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC—Five soldiers from the 147th infantry, including PFC Lenn C. Davis of 1353 S. Commercial, Salem, Ore., spent a tense night in a foxhole firing at unseen targets, dodging bullets and hand grenades, only to discover with daybreak they had killed an enemy soldier, wounded another and probably foiled an attempt by several Japs to escape from the island outpost by raft.

At one point in the hectic proceedings, an enemy hand grenade rolled into their foxhole and all five scrambled out just a split second before the explosion.

The five men were part of an ambush set up to trap the enemy which roams at night on this base after holding up in the day time in a network of caves that underlie the island.

Inducted at Fort Lewis, Washington, in May, 1944, PFC Davis, son of Thurman P. Davis of Salem, received basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif., left the United States on November 6, 1944 and reported to the 147th on November 29, 1944.

DALLAS — Chester E. Pope has been promoted to master sergeant according to word received from the 15th AAF in Italy. Communication section chief in a Flying Fortress unit, he has been overseas for 25 months. He is a member of the "Pineapple Pete" squadron of the second bombardment group and his unit, the oldest heavy bomb group in the army's history has flown more than 400 combat missions.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pope and his wife, Mrs. Maxine Pope lives in Dallas.

DALLAS — Lt. Col. James D. Allgood has written his father, J. R. Allgood, that he was in the process of clearing to ship to Ft. Lewis, for reassignment and that he would be given a 30-day leave on arrival. A member of Gen. Hodges First army, Allgood has participated in eight campaigns in Africa, Tunisia, Sicily, Normandy and campaigns in the heart of Germany. During that period of service he has been promoted three times, received three minor wounds and was awarded several decorations.

DALLAS — Pvt. Ronald K. Taylor is now at McCaw General hospital in Walla Walla, his wife has learned. He is being treated for a shrapnel wound in the head received while serving with the 18th infantry of the First army in Germany. He entered the service in January 1944 and went overseas as a replacement in December, 1944. Mrs. Taylor and two small children reside in Dallas.

Da's na fijn, zunne!...Have a Coca-Cola

(SAY, THAT'S GREAT!)

...an American custom lands in Brussels

In Flemish, it's viendelijheid. In American, it's the plain, everyday word friendliness. Everywhere your Yankee doughboy goes, it comes from his heart in a good old home-town phrase, Have a Coke. Friendliness is bred in his bone and it bubbles out—like the bubbling goodness of Coca-Cola itself. Yes, the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coke becomes an ambassador of good will—the old home spirit carried across the seas.
