

Kaiser Sees Bright Future For Far West

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19—(AP)—Henry Kaiser told San Francisco businessmen today the far west can build a new era of industrial prosperity after the war if it has the courage and the will.

He scorned "rumors of depression, deflation, disorder or revolution," and urged use of such assets as "the greatest skilled labor force in our history, the greatest pent-up demand on record, the greatest volume of purchasing power, and most of all, a new understanding and a new recognition of human need."

He told a meeting of the chamber of commercial and commercial club the west "must have a steel industry of its own," and can have it "if we fight for it—and make no mistake, we will have to fight for it."

Kaiser took up the suggestion made here last week by Edward Heller, of the surplus property board, that A. P. Giannini be asked to head a western group to take over operation of the war-built steel plant at Geneva, Utah. Kaiser called that suggestion "a natural," commenting, "A. P.'s whole life has been devoted to building the west."

Housing, Kaiser forecast, "will be the leader of our postwar advance." For that the steel industry and light metals industries will be needed, he added. He forecast, too, that "automobiles will be built in the west," that the west is the "center of the airplane industry," that "ships will continue to be built on the Pacific coast after the war," that highways needed a great rebuilding program, and that there was much to be done for public health, and that "we will move to higher production levels than we have ever known."

Such hopes, he said, hinge on four principles — jobs for all, competition within rules of fair play, maximum independence of business with minimum regulation and restraint, and acceptance of the challenge to new levels of productivity.

Favorites Go Up Slightly On N.Y. Mart

NEW YORK, July 19—(AP)—Timid buyers returned to the stock market today and lifted favorites fractions to a point or so, but dealings were among the slowest of the year and losers plentiful.

Spiking of Japanese peace rumors by Washington, more consideration of earnings and dividends, together with the belief the recent relapse had greatly improved the technical position of the list inspired such bidding as appeared. Talk of another margin boost to 100 per cent again served as a handicap.

Turnover was 780,000 shares compared with 1,450,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press' 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 64.9 after four successive recessions.

New Drydock To Be Largest

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 18—(CP)—The Daily Province in a news page story today said that the largest floating drydock ever built will be constructed in Vancouver for the British admiralty for service in the South Pacific.

The newspaper said the 25,000 to 30,000-ton drydock to cost at least $2,500,000 is designed to float the royal navy's largest ships including the King George V and possible larger future vessels.

"This will be the biggest floating drydock destined for a sea voyage to be built anywhere in the world," the Province added. Tugs would take it across the Pacific to its destination.

Registration of Blood Donors Low in Mt. Angel

MT. ANGEL, July 18.—(Special) Registrations of blood donors for Thursday morning, July 19, when the mobile blood bank from Portland does business here, are far short of the necessary 200, Peter Gores and A. G. Traeger announced today.

Lack of registrations "puts the committee on the spot," the two men said as they urged would-be donors to appear even without registration.

Delegations from both Silverton and Woodburn are expected again.
