Windishar Heads Work of Getting Soldier Housing

Tom Windishar has been appointed by the executive committee of the Salem United War chest to head the work of providing dormitory facilities for soldiers on leave. In recent weeks, since Camp Adair was reactivated, the town has had an overflow of men on weekends, more than the facilities immediately available would accommodate. The war chest is assuming responsibility for meeting the problem and will finance the cost.

Windishar will take hold immediately and endeavor to have adequate sleeping quarters for all men wanting accommodations in Salem.

Wounded Vet Eager to Get At New Work

Discounting his infirmity of blindness because of wounds received in action on Tinian island, Lt. Carl E. Greider of the U. S. marines showed an optimism in his talk to the YMCA board of directors Thursday which augurs well for his success as veterans' counsellor for the U. S. employment service, a position he will assume on his discharge from the marines.

"I feel just like I always did," said Greider. "I have played some golf, and after a few more games I don't believe any one in Salem can beat me. If he does I'll challenge him to play at midnight."

Greider was physical director at the local Y before joining the marines. He related his war experience, telling how he was shot by a sniper while he and a corpsman were trying to reach a wounded marine at the mouth of a Jap-infested cave. A sniper shot him in the right temple, the bullet emerging under his left eye. The injury cost him his sight.

Greider spoke highly of the care he had received in marine hospitals. In Philadelphia he received plastic surgery on his face and was given instruction in Braille.

Greider will work with placement of disabled veterans at the local employment office, under appointment of W. H. Baillie, local manager. He and Mrs. Greider have obtained an apartment on South Commercial st. and express pleasure at being back in Salem.

Band Plays in Park Tonight

Vernon Wiscarson will conduct the Salem city band in another program at Wilson park beginning at 8 o'clock tonight. The Waite fountain will be turned on during the evening.

Call Out for Bean Pickers

An urgent call for at least 75 bean pickers to report every morning, has been voiced by the Salem farm labor office. These pickers are needed to take care of the increased yield of valley bean fields. Now, that the first picking has been completed in practically all of the fields, the picking is said to be excellent.

Persons able to assist in harvesting this vital war-time crop are urged to report at the farm labor office, 361 Chemeketa street, each morning at 6:30 o'clock. Transportation to and from the bean fields is provided by the growers. A bonus of one-quarter cent a pound is being paid in addition to the regular 2 1/2 cents per pound.
